

Chapter 658 Explosion

The sudden presence of the bombs escalated the tension in the hall!

Everyone sensed that Mehdi was on edge, making every member of the Black Spider increasingly anxious. They feared that an emotional outburst from Mehdi could set off the explosives at any second.

Rennes could no longer remain idle. Taking the lead, he cautioned, "Calm down. The explosion won't just kill us. Your own team will also be casualties."

Mehdi remained defiant, retorting, "If you don't want to face death, then back off and let us leave!"

Rennes found himself torn. He neither agreed nor declined Mehdi's demand.

Observing Rennes' silence, Mehdi yelled at Liam and Fiona, "Forget about them. Both of you, exit the hall now!"

Yet, Rennes coldly instructed Cannon, "Follow them.

We can't let them just slip away."

When Cannon heard that, his expression darkened. He spat out, "Damn it, Rennes! We're brothers! You want me to block the bombs for you? Mom would turn in her grave if she knew!"

Rennes snapped quietly, "Why the fuss? You created this mess. Who else should fix it if not you? Plus, I've already called in a sniper for backup. They won't get far. Don't worry."

At that moment, under Mehdi's intimidation, Liam and Fiona had reached the ship's edge, holding Julie.

A large number of Rennes' forces trailed behind, yet they hesitated to act. Perched above, a sniper Rennes had arranged was set and ready.

Mehdi, skilled in covert operations, quickly sensed the sniper's presence and grew tense.

As long as Liam and the two ladies remained on board, detonating the bombs was off the table for Mehdi. But now, with the sniper in place, his window of opportunity was closing fast.

Resolute, Mehdi suddenly lunged forward.

He yelled, "Mr. Hoffman, Fiona, grab Miss Fiber and jump off the ship! Move, now!"

Simultaneously, he lunged toward the group of Black Spider.

Terrified, the Black Spider crew hesitated to pull their triggers, fearing that Mehdi's explosives would detonate.

Panicked, the members of Black Spider retreated hastily. All they wanted was to put distance between themselves and Mehdi, who they thought was a suicide bomber.

Annoyed, Rennes barked into his headset, "Sniper, shoot!"

The sniper at the top of the ship was torn. The gusty sea winds interfered with his aim, and his moving target added to the challenge. A clean shot seemed unattainable at the moment.

Suddenly, pressured by Rennes, the sniper fired a rushed shot. As anticipated, the bullet flew over Mehdi's head.

With eyes ablaze, Mehdi yelled as he sprinted, "Run! Go! If you hesitate any longer, we're all stuck here!"

Tears flooded Liam's and Fiona's eyes. They realized that Mehdi had resolved to go down with the Black Spider crew aboard the ship.

Reluctantly, Liam and Fiona had no option but to leap into the sea with Julie, swimming a safe distance away.

Upon hearing the splash of water, Mehdi felt his worries dissipate. He shot a menacing grin at the petrified Cannon nearby and declared, "All you scum, prepare to meet your maker!"

The following second, Mehdi hit the button. Flames erupted around him, consuming the entire deck in an instant.

The deafening explosion and subsequent tidal waves ignited a series of blasts across the gambling ship. Explosions echoed one after another.

After what seemed like an eternity, calmness resumed.

Mehdi had risked it all, dealing the Black Spider's operation on this ship the most crippling blow it had ever received.

In short, the havoc wreaked upon the Black Spider was immense.
