

Chapter 681 Narrow Victory

Liam jumped away to avoid Cannon's attack. He then started thinking quickly as he took deep breaths.

Liam had full confidence in his own strength. Even if Cannon was steel, he knew that his attack was powerful enough to at least affect Cannon. Instead, the man remained motionless.

After carefully observing Cannon's steel skin, Liam discovered that it was not ordinary metal. It was somewhat similar to the dark dagger Theo gave him. However, it was not as pure as the dagger.

Could it be that Cannon's steel body was mixed with rare metals? It had to be. If not, his body wouldn't be so hard.

Having discovered this fact gave Liam a little more hope. He attacked again, this time, pulling out the dagger.

Since they were both made from rare metals, he would like to see which was stronger.

Liam got close enough to Cannon and waved the dagger at him, a scratch appearing in the body that seemed indestructible seconds ago.

Liam's eyes finally lit up when he saw this.

If he could hurt Cannon even a little, then he knew he could kill him.

With renewed confidence, Liam continuously and rapidly attacked Cannon with the dagger, leaving him no room to react.

The invincible dagger slowly tore apart Cannon's steel body.

Fear and panic began to set in within Cannon. He could feel death coming at him.

His survival instinct kicked in and he tried to get away from Liam, but of course, Liam didn't let that happen.

Liam was agile and rapid. He kept a safe distance from Cannon all the time, but continuously attacked with the dagger, sparks flying off the steel body as it got hit.

"Damn it!" Cannon roared. Seeing as he couldn't get away from Liam, he tried a different approach and decided to attack.

The most powerful weapon Cannon had now was his steel body, but alongside that, his strength had increased a lot. Liam focused on attacking so much that he forgot to defend as well.

Cannon came at him with a huge force, hitting him hard with his body. The force was so hard that Liam felt his internal organs shaking. Blood appeared at the corner of his mouth, hinting at an internal injury.

Still he refused to retreat. He kept stabbing Cannon without relent.

Cannon panicked. He could feel his steel body weakening by the second.

As Liam continued, he roared like a tiger roaring in the woods.

"Fuck you!"

At the last stroke, Cannon's defense completely collapsed and revealed his beating heart, now unprotected.

Liam was really a monster. Fear overwhelmed Cannon.

Without wasting a second, Liam suddenly jumped up and shouted again, "Go to hell!"

Then, he shot the dagger like an arrow and aimed it for Cannon's heart.

The glittering cold light was like a meteor streaking across the sky as it pierced directly the exposed heart.

Cannon's body flew back with the force of the dagger, and then fell to the ground with a loud bang.

Cannon was filled with fear and disbelief. Even if he died, he still wouldn't rest in peace.

Without Cannon to fight alongside them, his men were no match for Liam. It didn't take him long to deal with them one by one until there was no one left standing.

Once he had taken care of everybody, Liam collapsed to the ground, exhausted.

He didn't come out unscathed. He suffered a serious internal injury. And when he threw that dagger at Cannon, his arm received some bullets. Since he became King of the Dark Night Organization, he had never fought with someone like Cannon before.

The sight of Cannon's dead body brought something to Liam's mind. The style of his steel body didn't seem that unfamiliar.

Could it be the same doctor's doing?

If it was really him, then his skill was obviously more advanced. Now, he could mix rare metals with the steel body, improving the individual's strength.

More importantly, the doctor had started cooperating with the Duncan family. Or was he originally working for the Duncan family?

Liam quickly dialed Sergio's number and explained everything that just happened to him.

Before dropping the call, he said, "Apparently, the Duncan family is already ahead of the Hoffman family in the research on rare metals. We have to go faster."

Sergio was shocked by what he just heard. The Hoffman family had already carried out a study on it, but they hadn't gotten any results yet.

But the Duncan family had actually brought their research to life.

Sergio thought of something and said seriously, "It's good that you are safe. I don't know what tricks the Duncan family would play again in the future. So, be careful. Also, we have to make sure they don't have access to the rare-earth mine anymore."

That said, Liam hung up and quickly led his guys to the hospital.
