

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1902 -

After sharing the treasure map, Dustin arranged for people to reorganize the base of Dragon Protection Pavilion.

This place is easy to defend but difficult to attack, its location is hidden, it occupies the right time and place, and it is also located on the border between the two countries.

It would be a good idea to turn this place into a military fortress.

If there is a conflict with Western countries in the future, this place will become a key point. Sending troops from here will definitely achieve unexpected results.

Although it won't be used for the time being, it's always good to prepare in advance.

After settling the relevant matters, Dustin took the people back to Prince of West Lucozia.

This time Dustin returned with a great victory and solved the hidden dangers in West Lucozia. As the Prince of West Lucozia, Rufus Rhys specially held a banquet in the mansion and invited many guests.

All those who have contributed to this incident are on the invitation list.

For a time, it was very lively inside and outside the palace.

For everyone, it was great news that Rufus Rhys was not dead, and annihilating the remnants of Hulong Pavilion was even more joyous, so it was certainly worth celebrating.

At night, the palace was full of guests.

Most of the well-known people in West Lucozia were invited.

All the generals, high-ranking officials, including giants from all over the world, all gathered in the palace, drinking and chatting happily.

"Everyone, as a junior, I would like to say a few words first."

At the banquet, Thorian Rhys stood up first, holding a wine glass in his hand, and said loudly: "This time the palace was in crisis, you never leave, and solved the problems for the palace. I'm very grateful. Come on, let me toast you all first."

After saying that, Thorian Rhys raised his head and drank the wine in one gulp.

"Young prince, you're welcome. As ministers of West Lucozia, we should live and die for the palace. What we do is just within our duties and does not count." Smith Richards smiled slightly.

"That's right! We have followed the prince for many years and have always shared blessings and hardships. This time when the prince's palace is in trouble, we naturally have to help him and work hard to die!" William Steve responded with a toast.

Although he values interests, he also values love. This time the palace suppressed the rebellion, destroyed the Dragon Guard Pavilion, and regained power, he was very happy.

"Hahaha... OK!"

Thorian Rhys laughed loudly: "With all of you loyal people, why worry about West Lucozia not being happy? Come on, everyone, cheers!"

Thorian Rhys poured another glass of wine, saluted all around, and then drank it all in one gulp.

"Do it!"

Everyone raised their glasses in response, and the atmosphere instantly became lively.

The prince survived the catastrophe, and His Royal Highness returned to West Lucozia. In the future, West Lucozia will only become more and more prosperous.

"Everyone, I would like to take this opportunity to say a few words."

At this time, Rufus Rhys slowly stood up and said with a smile: "First of all, the palace can escape this time only because of your loyalty and courage, and risking your life for each other. , I am very honored to be able to work with you."

"It is our honor to serve the prince."

"Yes! Without the prince, we would not have the good life we have today. Our glory and wealth are all Given by the prince."

"No matter what happens, we will swear to be loyal to the prince!"

All the generals and local officials agreed.

"Okay, okay, I understand everyone's thoughts."

Rufus Rhys nodded with a smile, and then added: "In addition to thanking you, I also have something to announce, so I plan to elect a successor in advance and give up the throne."

As soon as these words came out, the surroundings suddenly became quie
