In an instant, Trevor's face turned pale with fear. In fact, he didn't think that Sylvia would dare to commit suicide. Hurriedly, he snatched the bottle from her hand.

Patting Trevor on his shoulder, she said, "Trevor!

What the hell are you doing? You don't believe me, right? Why are you still caring about me then? Just let me die..."

At first, Trevor thought that Sylvia was testing him. However, seeing that she even resorted to suicide to gain his forgiveness, he was inevitably touched. Looking at her face, he thought to herself, 'Is she saying the truth?'

As the current situation didn't allow him to think too much, Trevor couldn't do anything except saying, "Ok d in you."

Sylvia chuckled dryly and said, "Disappointed? Screw your disappointment! Do you really think I like you? Get out of here and take your things!"

While talking, Sylvia picked up the gift box that was lying at her feet and threw it towards him.

Due to the impact, the box fell to the ground with a thud. This time, the box broke and a silver watch fell out of it.

With wide eyes, Sylvia said, "Isn't this the Patek Philippe watch? Why do you have it?"

The moment Sylvia saw the watch, she was stunned. At a glance, she recognized the brand of the watch as she had just seen it on the internet.

The value of the watch was three hundred thousand dollars!

Looking at the watch, which was lying on the ground, all kinds of thoughts started running in Sylvia's head.

No matter how much she thought about it, she couldn't figure out how Trevor could get this kind of famous brand watch. In fact, it was as expensive as the Hermès perfume.

Furrowing her eyebrows, Sylvia asked, "Trevor, how come do you have this watch? Where did you get it?"

When Sylvia saw the watch, she felt a bit regretful for the things she just said to him. If she had seen this watch sooner, she wouldn't have acted that way.

Hearing this, Trevor said in a calm voice, "It's not your business. I'm just too poor to deserve you anyway."

Obviously, he had completely given up on Sylvia.

Without caring about Sylvia, Trevor picked up the watch from the ground and wiped the dust off it.

When Trevor didn't say anything, Sylvia became frustrated and said a

Do you want to come and join us?"

From the other end of the phone, Jaycee said, "Sure. We will take taxi and meet you there."

Hearing it, Corrie said, "No need. My cousin and I will pick you up downstairs. See you soon."

After she hung up the phone, she got into the car with Bessie.

As the commercial street was very close to their dormitory, it only took them about ten minutes to get there.

In front of the dormitory, Jaycee and the other two girls were waiting for them.

Once Jaycee opened the door, there were many birthday gifts in the backseat of the car. Therefore, it took them quite some time to get into the car.

All of a sudden, Jaycee's eyes lit up when something caught her eyes.

On the top of the gifts, there was the Hermès box which looked familiar.

It was none other than the gift from Trevor, which was a box of Hermès' Supreme perfume!!

Jaycee picked up the box and checked it.

“Oh, my God! This is the new limited edition Hermès perfume! One bottle of this is worth three hundred thousand dollars! Miss Taylor, who could be so generous to give you such an expensive gift?” she exclaimed.

The two other girls sitting next to Jaycee also put their hands over their mouths in shock. They were so jealous of Bessie for receiving such an amazing gift.

Bessie did not answer. She just shook her head and smiled bitterly. She did not want more people to know that Trevor had sent her a fake perfume.

But Corrie was not that kind. She sneered, “Don’t be so impressed, Jaycee. That bottle of perfume is a fake from Trevor. He likes pretending to be rich, but I see through his little act.”

“No way, Corrie. I don’t t this morning. There’s a transaction record, which is absolutely real.”

Hearing what the shop assistant said, Corrie had to believe it.

Bessie felt a little guilty and thought to herself, ‘So Trevor didn’t lie. I feel awful. It must be difficult for him being misunderstood by so many people all the time. I have to apologize to him.’

“See? I told you it’s the real deal! Just listen to me next time, Corrie, so that we’ll have fewer of these embarrassing moments,” Jaycee gloated and smirked at Corrie. Corrie rolled her eyes at her.

“Oh, stop being full of yourself, Jaycee. It was just a lucky guess.”

More than Jaycee getting vindicated, Trevor’s ability to afford such an expensive bottle of perfume bothered Corrie. How did he do it? Was he secretly rich?

“May I borrow the perfume box, Miss Taylor? I want to take a short video of it and then post it on TikTok.”

Jaycee was an online celebrity on TikTok, a short video platform. She often shared selfie videos and, as of date, had accumulated tens of thousands of followers.

"Of course. Go ahead." Bessie thought it was just a box. It was not a big deal if she gave it to Jaycee.

"Thank you, Miss Taylor," Jaycee said gratefully and took the box.

After walking out of the luxury store, the girls went shopping for more than an hour and, at the end of the day, got exhausted.

Bessie drove them back to the dormitory and then went home.

After Corrie and her roommates returned to their dormitory, Jaycee immediately opened a conversation about Trevor.

"Wow, I did

e went on to narrate exaggeratedly the story about Trevor winning the lottery and spending all his prize money on the perfume.

In order to keep her wholesome Internet personality she had worked so hard to build, Jaycee did not belittle Trevor in any way, but she did tell the story with many twists and turns.

After that, she added several special effects on her video to make it look attractive and interesting.

A few moments after the video went live on TikTok, the comments started pouring in.

Jaycee also told her classmates in the group to watch her latest TikTok video.

At this time, Trevor just returned to his dormitory and saw his roommate, Rob, looking at something intently on his phone. Curious, Trevor approached to look at what he was watching.

As soon as Trevor got a little closer, he happened to notice the video that Jaycee had uploaded.

He knew that his roommate, Rob, was a fan of Jaycee, and whenever Jaycee posted a new video, Rob would comment on it.

When he clicked on the comments section of the social media app, he noticed that there were many comments.

"I know this guy! His name is Trevor, and he is from our class. He is the one that gave the perfume to our basketball team's coach, Miss Taylor."

"Isn't he relying on financial aid for his studies? How could he be so stupid as to spend three hundred thousand dollars at once, and that too for someone else?"

"That's the problem with being a simpleton like him. They fail to rea scum, he is the kind of scum that dates two girls at the same time. He is also partially impotent. When he is in bed, he has to use Emada, a men's topical time-delay spray, to become hard. Word is that he is that way because of excessive masturbation in his younger years."

The screen was black and the voice was modified, so it was hard to tell whether it was a man or a woman.

Trevor's eyes lit up as he quickly transferred a thousand dollars to that account and said, "The video was not vivid enough, so I can only pay you a thousand dollars."

He then sent a screenshot of that transaction along with the video link to the comments section.

And within just a few seconds, it became sensational.

Many people who saw Jaycee's video rushed over to view the new one about Bernard.

The video was very simple. The person who created it just recorded a few words and was immediately rewarded one thousand dollars.

"The money is so easy to make. Can you believe there's such a good thing?"

Suddenly, many came up with an idea and went ahead to collect scandals involving Bernard.

In the girls' dormitory, a beautiful girl picked up her phone.

"You cheated on me, Bernard, and now I will destroy you."

The girl was practically shaking with excitement as she thought about all kinds of embarrassing things she had done.

He yelled, "I don't use Emada! Stop talking nonsense, you freaking idiots!"

While Bernard was screaming in the balcony, a courier arrived and addressed him, "Are you Bernard? I have one hundred bottles of Emada here for you."

The boys' dormitory, which had been a little noisy, suddenly became quiet. Everyone present turned their heads to Bernard.

Others rushed over excitedly to see what was happening.

"I believe you, Bernard. Can you give me a bottle of Emada? I could use it."

"I believe you, too, Bernard. Give me one, too."

"Oh, my God!" Unable to process the humiliation anymore, Bernard fainted.

Although some people seemed to be crying, some were not.

Jaycee as the source of the sensational event this time, was the biggest winner.

Everyone who had watched the videos about Bernard was paying attention to Jaycee's account.

Meanwhile, in the girls' dormitory.

"The video I posted has gone viral!"

Jaycee shouted with excitement as she looked at her phone.

It had only been two hours since she posted it.

She had refreshed the trending videos page numerous times, and her video was still one of the most popular ones.

The number of fans in her TikTok account suddenly increased. "Let's watch a movie together. We can also have something exciting at night... What do you think about that?"

Jaycee asked quickly as she was indeed overjoyed.

He was definitely a rough diamond in her eyes. How could there be a mysterious man like him among her peers?

Just because he didn't like what Bernard and the others did, he had paid someone to punish them for their willful behavior. And that was the reason her short video had become a trending topic in a short while.

It was not just Jaycee who was excited, though. Corrie also felt that only such a man deserved a beauty like her.

Later, Corrie turned around and went back to her bed.

Scrolling down the photos, Corrie picked up one of her favorite photos. When she finished selecting the photo, she wrote a message under it.

Then, she sent it to Aver through private message.

With a proud smile on her face, she thought to herself, 'All men are the same. They are all lascivious. So, I believe that you'll take the bait and fall into the trap.'

In fact, Corrie had already made up her mind, which was to hook up with this rich man!

At that time in the boy's dormitory.

When he finished reading the private message, Trevor blushed and his heart started beating fast. After that, he didn't continue to reply and closed the from 'Aver' yesterday which made her feel a bit resentful.

Now, she was rejected again by Trevor.

With a determined look on her face, Jaycee said, "I'm not going to give up like this. I'll definitely find out who 'Aver' is!"

Scratching her messy hair which she hadn't combed since she woke up, Jaycee thought of another idea.

Since Jaycee was a celebrity on the campus, the news spread like a wild fire the moment she uploaded a new video this afternoon.

Of course, Trevor also found out about the video from his roommate. However, when he clicked on the video, he was stunned at the first glance...

"Why didn't I know that I am so good at this? Damn, when did I even become like this?"

With a bright smile on her face, Jaycee said, "Hello, my dear fans. You guys have been asking me about my ideal type, right? Well...today, I am going to reveal my ideal type. It is none other than Trevor... He is my ideal type.

Actually, I really admire a man like him, who lives on his own without relying on anyone. He doesn't let anyone drag him down just because he is poor. He is more than willing to do anything for the ones who have helped him before. Besides, I feel like he can give a sense of security for them."

In the video, Jaycee was wearing a blue sweater dress which hugged her curvaceous figure perfectly.

tory after dinner. All this time, he stayed in his room until he had to go downstairs to throw trash at ten o'clock.

However, when he got downstairs, he found that the trash can was full. Therefore, he could only take the trash to the large recycle bins on the campus. To get there he had to pass by the grove.

When the night wind blew, he felt a bit chilly.

In this harsh weather, there were few young couples wandering in the grove.

Rubbing his shoulders to keep himself warm, Trevor suddenly remembered about Corrie. Furrowing his eyebrows, he said under his breath, "She won't really go to the grove, right?"
