

Chapter 710 Sudden Changes

The moment had arrived.

Just as Fiona readied herself to strike, two figures outpaced her, making the first move.

Their target, however, wasn't Vivian but rather Timothy.

Julie and Sarai, having endured a brutal three-month training at the Moon Silence Organization, were confident in their skills to eliminate their target.

Before Timothy could even react, Julie's dagger was perilously near his neck.

Witnessing this, Sarai abruptly shifted her aim toward Vivian.

Sarai blamed her for stealing the joy that should have belonged to Julie. Even if she couldn't slay Liam, she was determined to kill Vivian to release her pent-up fury.

This unexpected shift caught Julie off guard. She reached out to restrain Sarai, halting her advance.

But in that fleeting second, Julie saw the bride's face which shockingly bore a resemblance to hers.

The sight threw Julie off guard, causing her to pause involuntarily.

This abrupt shift left everyone at the venue utterly bewildered.

It all unfolded in an instant. Despite Julie's and Sarai's experienced skills as assassins, refined through months of demanding training, carrying out a successful killing under the current condition remained somewhat unlikely.

For Julie, seeing a mirror image of herself had granted her enemy a moment to respond.

One of the Sandoval family's elite guards didn't waste time, attacking Julie with a swift kick.

On Sarai's end, Liam's intentional gap in defense allowed her to land a blow on Vivian using her dagger.

Fiona, standing behind them, was somewhat disoriented. She hadn't completely grasped the shifting dynamics but knew well enough that letting things escalate would derail their initial plan.

Acting fast, Fiona hatched an emergency plan. She stepped forward and purposefully lowered her voice, yelling to Julie and Sarai, "Abort the mission. Pull out now!"

Onstage, Sergio was initially taken aback by the abrupt turn of events. But he quickly regained his footing, his face morphing into a stern expression laced with killing intent.

To disrupt such a crucial day for the Hoffman family was equivalent to inviting one's own demise.

He said reassuringly to those present, "Stay calm, everyone. The Hoffman family will take care of this."

Sergio then turned to his loyal bodyguard, Felix Smith, and commanded icily, "Seize all three, but keep them alive."

In the crowd below, Liam was initially stunned by the sudden twist to his well-laid plans.

This wasn't how things were supposed to unfold. What was Fiona thinking?

But then another shock hit him. He recognized Julie's presence in the assassination attempt on Timothy.

Disturbed by this revelation, Liam promptly stepped up to intercept Felix, feigning outrage. "Felix, stand down. I'll handle this myself. I want to see who dares to harm my fiancée!"

Felix looked hesitant, his eyes flicking toward Sergio. Sergio dismissed him with a wave, saying, "Fine. If Liam wants to handle it, let him."

Understanding his orders, Felix nodded briefly at Liam

Chapter 710 Sudden Changes

 +90 Points at most before retreating to Sergio's side.

 I want no ads >