

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1966

Billy Ruso raised his eyebrows: "First of all, let's be clear. We are just walking together, each taking what we need. We are not allies. Besides, even if we are allies, who stipulates that we must share blessings and share hardships?"

"Ah this..."

Kevin Snow was choked and speechless.

Sure enough, the rumors were not wrong, Billy Ruso was a moody guy.

"Senior Billy, if you have any conditions, just ask. As long as we can do it, we will never refuse." Margaret responded quickly.

It was obvious that Billy Ruso was planning to ask for some benefits.

"It's great!"

Seeing how sensible Margaret was, Billy Ruso couldn't help but smile: "I can help you avoid danger and escape, but the price is that you have to give me the trapped dragon rope."

"What? You want the trapped dragon rope?"

Hearing this, Kevin Snow couldn't help but frown.

The Dragon Trap Rope is a magical weapon that can trap a martial arts master. It is absolutely a priceless treasure.

Billy Ruso asked for the trapped dragon rope at this time, which was obviously taking advantage of others' danger.

It is really disappointing that a dignified martial arts master would do such a thing.

"What? You don't want to?"

Billy Ruso said calmly: "Little girl, no matter how good the dragon trap is, it is just an external object after all. Use it to protect the lives of all of you, why not?"

"You..."

Dustin was about to speak but was interrupted by Margaret raising his hand. He then looked at Billy Ruso and said: "Okay, I promise you, as long as you help us escape from danger, I will hand over the dragon rope with both hands!"

"Hahaha... little girl, you are a smart person. I like to make deals with smart people the most, so let's make it a deal!" Billy Ruso instantly beamed.

Treasures like the trapped dragon rope are of great use to him.

If he can get it, it will be a trump card if he encounters a strong opponent in the future.

"Senior Billy, what happens next is up to you." Margaret clasped his hands in fists.

"It's just a few vines. I haven't paid much attention to them yet. Let's see how I destroy them!"

Billy Ruso was full of energy. As he spoke, he turned his hands and took out his weapon.

They were two scimitars, half-moon-shaped, with curved handles, strange shapes, but extremely sharp.

"Evil beast! Get back quickly!"

Billy Ruso shouted, holding two swords, and rushed directly towards the golden tree vines.

"The trapped dragon rope is not a mortal thing, why did you give it to him for free?" Dustin couldn't help but said.

Although Margaret was wealthy, treasures like the trapped dragon rope were not so easy to obtain.

“The situation is unclear now, so you can’t reveal your strength yet. Besides, it’s just a trapped dragon rope, I can still afford it.” Margaret didn’t care.

They have just entered the oasis, and there will be forces from all sides competing for it in the future.

If Dustin exposes his strength early, he will easily become the target of public criticism.

In order to take the overall situation into consideration, a mere trapped dragon rope is nothing at all.

“Okay, you are the boss, you have the final say.” Dustin did not persuade him much.

Margaret has his own plan. He is only responsible for helping, and there is no need to worry about other things.

“Everyone! Form a formation and prepare to break out!”

Seeing that Billy Ruso had already fought against the golden tree vine, Margaret made a prompt decision, quickly commanded everyone to form a defensive formation, and then charged forward.
