

Chapter 510 He Was Tricked!

At that time, the owner of the antique shop was speechless. His hands and feet started to tremble.

This beautiful girl had sharp eyes! She could easily tell that his "antique vase" was fake at first glance!

Who would have thought that Toby's granddaughter would be friends with Trevor?

At that time, Trevor also took the opportunity to say, "Well, you said it yourself that you would compensate ten times the original price if it's fake."

Once the owner of the antique boss heard Trevor's words, he hurriedly made excuses.

"This isn't fair, Mr. Sanderson! I didn't know it was fake! I only bought it because it has official certificates!"

Since it cost eight million dollars, if he had to compensate, he would have to pay eighty million dollars, which was all the money he had saved in the past ten years!

Hearing his words, Tasha rolled her eyes and said with a sneer, "If you dare to buy something just because it has a certificate, you shouldn't work in this industry anymore!"

After hearing Tasha's words, the owner's face darkened. Therefore, he could only look at Lenard with hope.

At that time, Lenard was also in dilemma. This whole time, he was so focused on Trevor that he ignored the existence of Tasha. In the end, he summoned up his courage and said to Trevor, "Trevor, I'm sure my friend also got cheated. He even lost his eight million dollars."

However, Trevor simply raised his eyebrows and said with a smile, "Well, then why did it break only when I touched it? Is that a coincidence?"

Hearing Trevor's words, Lenard and the owner became more nervous.

Seeing their reactions, Trevor changed the topic as he said with a smile, "Actually, it's not my business if he was cheated before. I only know that he has to compensate me like he promised!"

Hearing his words, the owner of the antique shop froze. Cold sweat kept breaking out on his forehead.

He thought that he could easily swindle a few million dollars with a fake vase. However, he didn't think that he would have to pay much more.

Right now, he was extremely anxious. Gritting his teeth, he tried to think of ways to deny it.

At that time, Tasha straightened her back and leaned against the table as she said coldly, "Sir, you are the one who said the amount of the compensation if it is fake and I witnessed it. If you don't compensate him like you promised, I will expose the fraud in the Collectors' Association. Then, you won't be able to work in this industry anymore!"

At that time, Trevor said, "She's right. Not only that, our Sanderson family will regard you as a dishonest businessman and blacklist you. We will prevent any form of cooperation with you in the future. Then, you won't be able to run business here anymore!"

As there was no way to get out of this situation, the owner of the antique shop slumped down on his wooden chair with a sad face.

Covering his chest, he cried out in a weak voice, "No. no. I'll compensate. I'll pay for it!"

This time, he really cried!

When he realized that he would have to pay eighty million dollars, he felt as if he was stabbed in the heart!

However, he would rather compensate the money. After all, his life would be over if he was kicked out of the Collectors' Association and be blacklisted by the Sanderson family at the same time!

Not long after, Trevor took out his mobile. Soon, he received eighty million dollars for compensation.

Trevor took a glance at the pale face of the owner before turning to look at the flustered Lenard.

Smirking, Trevor patted Lenard's shoulder with satisfaction and said loudly, "Thank you for reminding me, Lenard. I really had a good time." ①

After saying that, Trevor left the antique shop with his friends, leaving Lenard and his so-called friend staring at each other.

Well, no one knew whether the two could still be "friends" or not after this issue.

Hearing Trevor's words, the owner of the antique shop looked at Lenard with burning eyes!

What did Trevor mean by "reminding him"?

At that time, he felt as if he was deceived. In fact, Lenard and the owner planned to fool Trevor.

However, now that he thought about it carefully, he realized that he was the one who got tricked!

Chapter 510 He Was Tricked!

 +90 Points at most

Once Trevor and the girls walked out of the antique shop, they heard a fierce quarrel.

 I want no ads >