

Chapter 919 No One Can Hurt Luisa

Seeing his son's puzzled expression, Ronald explained in a deep voice, "This is the Sanderson family's special armed force. They only get summoned during the most important affairs of the family."

Trevor raised his eyebrows.

It turned out that his family had such a mysterious team that could counter Rudolph and his men if he stirred up any trouble.

The following day, the gathering of the Sanderson family was officially held in a seemingly peaceful atmosphere.

At ten o'clock in the morning, the wide function hall of the castle was already full of people.

Members of the Sanderson family from all over the world gathered today, reporting on their business.

Those in the young generation, including Trevor and Isaias, were gathered in another spacious room.

Seeing his son's puzzled expression, Ronald explained in a deep voice, "This is the Sanderson family's special armed force. They only get summoned during the most important affairs of the family."

Trevor raised his eyebrows.

It turned out that his family had such a mysterious team that could counter Rudolph and his men if he stirred up any trouble.

The following day, the gathering of the Sanderson family was officially held in a seemingly peaceful atmosphere.

At ten o'clock in the morning, the wide function hall of the castle was already full of people.

Members of the Sanderson family from all over the world gathered today, reporting on their business.

Those in the young generation, including Trevor and Isaias, were gathered in another spacious room.

The room had a huge screen, which showed the live broadcast of the meeting in the function hall.

Among them, Isaias was the most excited about today's event. His eyes were beaming with confidence.

live broadcast of the meeting in the function hall.

Among them, Isaias was the most excited about today's event. His eyes were beaming with confidence.

It was because Rudolph's performance this year was the best among all the members of the Sanderson family here today. As his son, Isaias was so proud.

With a smirk, he glanced at Trevor and said sarcastically, "No offense meant, but I think as the direct line of descent, your father is not doing well. Take a look at my father's financial statements. His earnings are significantly higher than your father's."

Trevor didn't get offended at all. He just stared back at Isaias with a sneer.

How could Rudolph not have a brilliant profit if he had done a lot of dirty businesses behind closed doors?

Sometimes, Trevor wondered how Rudolph could sleep well at night knowing that he traded his soul for money.

But the idiot, Isaias, even felt proud of it.

Being stared at by Trevor with nothing but indifference in his eyes, Isaias instantly felt uncomfortable.

To cover it up, he snorted and acted more arrogant.

"Trevor, I heard that you have a beautiful girlfriend. Luisa, right? Since I have broken off my engagement to Nola, I think it's not a bad idea if Luisa takes her place. Don't you think so? I'll show her what a truly mature and excellent man is like." He let out an annoying chuckle.

Luisa!

In an instant, Trevor's calm expression shifted. He glared at Isaias, unhappy that the latter dragged Luisa's name.

How dare he joke at the extent of his girlfriend's name!

"Do you want to die?"

Out of anger, Trevor flipped the table in front of him.

With a loud bang, the table hit Isaias' face.

The abrupt change in his behavior caught Isaias off guard. As a result, he was knocked to the floor with his bloody nose.

"Trevor... You... How dare you hit me!" Embarrassed, Isaias got up as fast as he could, wiping away the blood on his nose. His complacent smile was now replaced with a furious gaze.

At first, he wanted to hit Trevor back. But he immediately realized that he was no match for Trevor at all. Unless he wanted to be beaten to a pulp, he shouldn't dare to throw a single punch at Trevor.

So Isaias didn't dare to make a move.

"What were you saying again? Why did you stop?"

Still enraged, Trevor grabbed Isaias' by the collar and lifted him up.

Isaias should've known that threatening him with Luisa would mean asking for a war.

"Excellent man? Huh? Are you talking about yourself?"

Blood and humiliation made Isaias' face turned crimson red. As his collar was lifted, he had to stand on tiptoe to struggle and shout, "Let go of me! Everyone, come and help me!"

Unfortunately, the other people in the room retreated because of fear.

At this time, Trevor was like a raging lion. No one dared to approach him or even breathe loudly for fear of getting into trouble.

Just then, the meeting in the main hall had come to an end.

The senior members of the family heard the noise in the other room, so they rushed to check.

 I want no ads >