

Chapter 958 Drug Him

Zakai insisted on staying. He sat next to Sally with a cheeky smile and said, "Miss Scott, I'm so lucky to have met you here today. Are you alone? How about we have dinner together? Don't worry, it's on me. Just order whatever you want to eat."

Sally frowned. But when she looked at the delicious dishes on the table, she was also a little reluctant to leave.

Hantinn Restaurant and its dishes were well-known all throughout Esterham.

Anyone who wanted to dine here would have to book a table one month in advance.

Sally was a certified foodie. How could she resist such inviting mouthwatering dishes?

When Zakai saw that Sally was not in a hurry to leave, he was overjoyed.

But he tried his best to suppress his excitement. He poured himself a glass of wine and took a sip to calm himself down.

"Miss Scott, please don't refuse my kindness. Actually, I am very familiar with the dishes in this restaurant. I can recommend some to you. I'm sure you will like them."

As he said this, Zakai moved his chair closer to Sally.

He picked up the menu from the table and pretended to introduce some delicious dishes to her, trying to catch her full attention. Actually, he used the menu to totally block her sight.

Then he secretly gave Trevor a signal and asked him to drug Sally.

Trevor sneered inwardly. He did not intend to do what Zakai wanted him to do.

He rubbed his clothes with his arm, deliberately making a small sound and pretending he had finished drugging the juice.

"Ahem!" Trevor coughed lightly.

This was their secret signal to indicate that Trevor was done putting the drug in the glass of juice.

Sure enough, Zakai was pleased when he heard Trevor cough. He sat up straight and said, "Order these dishes too. I promise you will be satisfied."

He returned to his seat and saw Sally pick up the glass of juice and drink a mouthful.

Zakai raised his eyebrows. He was so excited that he couldn't help rubbing his hands. "Excuse me for a moment. I just need to go to the restroom."

Before he walked out of the private room, he whispered to Trevor with a smile, "Keep an eye on her. Don't let her run away."

Then, Zakai went out of the private room, leaving only Sally and Trevor.

At this time, Sally looked at Trevor with scrutiny in her eyes. She asked discontentedly, "What the hell are you doing?"

"Don't talk yet."

Trevor did not explain anything to Sally, who looked confused. He felt that Zakai went to the restroom to take Viagra. He might return to the private room any moment from now.

Trevor must seize this opportunity to drug Zakai.

He quickly took out the small bag of white powder and poured it into Zakai's wine. He shook it slightly and waited for the powder to disappear before putting it down.

Sally was shocked while watching Trevor's every move. She couldn't help raising her eyebrows.

When she realized what that bag of powder was for, her face flushed.

If Trevor added the powder to her juice when Zakai blocked her sight with the menu just now, she couldn't imagine the consequences.

"What are you doing? He is your boss, right?" Sally didn't understand why Trevor was doing such a thing.

Trevor put the small transparent bag back into his pocket and placed his finger in front of his mouth, hinting at her to keep silent.

"I don't have time to explain anything. But all you need to know is that I'm not on his side. Pay attention to your behavior later, and don't let him notice anything wrong. Just continue eating."

After being stunned for a moment, Sally subconsciously nodded in agreement.

But then she suddenly realized something.

Trevor was a bad guy. Why should she listen to him?

She was so annoyed that she gritted her teeth.

However, she also realized that Trevor seemed to have a grudge against Zakai.

She couldn't help looking at his cold face. And her heart was filled with curiosity.