

Chapter 960 Trevor's Plan

Zakai pounded the door of the luxury car he was seated in furiously.

"Sally is a cunning girl!"

Soon after, he grimaced.

Trevor, on the other hand, was disgusted by Zakai.

After pondering for a while, he said, "Zakai, I have some skills on how to win a girl's heart, which might be useful to you."

"Really?" Zakai said, surprised. He soon became excited.

"Okay, I'll try it out next time. Damn it! I want to conquer this challenging woman."

Then Zakai nodded to Trevor and ordered, "You can leave now. Come to Glory Company at nine o'clock tomorrow morning! If you work hard, I'll treat you fairly."

Glory Company was the company Zakai founded.

Zakai obviously believed Trevor was a loyal bodyguard.

Trevor smiled but said nothing. He just turned around and left.

He carefully processed what he had gained today.

He had gained Zakai's trust. Soon, he would be able to get to Zakai's father.

"Dooley!"

Trevor's eyes darkened in rage at the thought of Dooley, who had been involved in slandering him.

For him to successfully get his revenge on Dooley, a well thought out plan was needed. The key point of that plan was gaining Zakai's trust.

On the second morning, Trevor arrived at the Glory Company building.

Trevor walked up and greeted Martin as soon as he saw him.

"Hey, you!"

Martin was shocked. He'd heard about Trevor defeating Giant yesterday.

Seeing Trevor, Martin couldn't help stuttering a little. "Good... Good morning, sir!"

Trevor nodded and said, "Buy a roll of red carpet and spread it out at the gate of the company."

From his analysis of Zakai last night, he knew Zakai was vain.

So, he would further fuel his pride.

Trevor planned to welcome Zakai with the other bodyguards.

He believed he could get Zakai to let his guard down.

Martin and the other bodyguards had already laid the red carpet.

However, an unwelcomed individual was the first to walk on the red carpet.

A blue BMW stopped in front of the Glory Company building and the driver honked.

Beep! Beep!

The loud horn drew everyone's attention to the car. Then a man got out and stepped on the carpet.

Trevor's eyebrows raised in surprise.

He knew this man.

It was Cyril Ramos, whom Zakai had beaten in the underground boxing ring yesterday.

Cyril's face was still red and swollen. As soon as he got out of the car, he walked straight to the carpet with a sneer.

As one of the rich and famous young men in Esterham, Cyril couldn't bear being slapped twice by Zakai in public yesterday.

He had come to Glory Company today to take his revenge. His family owned stakes in the company.

Although the Ramos family was not the largest shareholder in Glory Company, it had a large number of shares and was an important shareholder.

Cyril had come to the company this morning to take his revenge on Zakai.

However, Trevor was the first person he met when he arrived at the company.

"Brat, I remember you!" Rage was written visibly on his face. He glared fiercely at Trevor. "Damn it! You dared to lay hands on me yesterday, didn't you? Bah! How dare you, a bodyguard, touch me?"
