Married At First Sight Chapter 2779-In the evening, the Maybach that Kevin often used drove into Queen Enterprise on time.

The car stopped at the door of the office building.

He got out of the car with a bouquet of flowers in his arms. He was always so handsome and extraordinary in his suit and ties.

“Mr. York.”

He walked in with a bouquet of flowers in his arms. Everyone saw him and said hello with a smile.

As soon as others walked by, the smiles of those staff members immediately faded.

Kevin knew very well that many people in the Queen Enterprise hated him.

If it weren't for his prominent status, these people wouldn't even bother to give him a fake smile.

Alas, maybe he didn't work hard enough to pursue his wife. Even now, Hayden has no intention of regaining her identity as a woman.

He could only continue to parade around in the name of being gay and bear the hatred and disgust of the young women in Jensburg.

Soon, Kevin adjusted his mentality again.

From the day he pursued Hayden, he had been mentally prepared.

No matter what anyone said, he was after his wife.

This actually had its advantages; that is, no one knew that Hayden turned out to be a girl, and there was no real love rival.

As for those female love rivals, what was he afraid of? With Hayden's identity restored, all the so-called female love rivals would collapse.

Kevin entered the elevator in a good mood and took the elevator straight to the top floor.

After getting out of the elevator, he didn't need his secretary to knock on the door for him. He walked to the office, opened the door without knocking, and walked in quietly, wanting to surprise Hayden.

"Go out, knock on the door, and come in again!"

Hayden's deep and cold voice sounded.

Kevin paused.

Hayden's hearing was so good.

"Hayden——"

Hayden looked up with a serious expression.

Kevin surrendered immediately: "Okay, okay, I'll go out, knock on the door, and come in again."

Kevin wanted to give her a surprise, but she heard him opening the door and asked him to go out and knock on the door to come in.

Kevin had no choice but to exit the office.

The secretary saw Kevin exiting as soon as he entered. He guessed what was going on and snickered.

Hayden was always a very serious and strict person. Kevin would go in without knocking. She would never tolerate his impolite behavior.

No, Kevin was kicked out.

Kevin glared at the secretary. The secretary's smile faded, but he stopped smiling.

Kevin knocked on the door again.

"Come in."

Hayden's voice came from inside, and Kevin opened the door and entered.

After closing the door, he walked towards Hayden with a smile, holding the bouquet, and handed the bright bouquet to her.

Although she always disliked him sending bouquets and said she couldn't eat or drink anything, he could still see her happiness every time she received a bouquet.

Hayden took the bouquet and said for the first time, "This bouquet of flowers is very fragrant and beautiful. I like it very much."

Kevin looked at her blankly.

The next moment, he leaned over and reached out to touch Hayden's forehead.

He muttered, "The temperature is normal."

Married At First Sight Chapter 2780-Hayden raised her hand and slapped his hand away in a funny manner. "I said the bouquet is beautiful, and I like it. Do you suspect that I am confused because of a fever? Would you like me to express my disapproval of this bouquet of flowers, declare it unattractive, and request that you dispose of it in the trash can?"

Kevin grinned and said, "No, every time I send you flowers, you say it's a waste of money and ask me not to send you flowers. It's been more than half a year since I sent you flowers, but your attitude has not changed. This time, it suddenly changed. Your attitude shocked me, but I'm very happy that you finally like the bouquet I gave you."

Hayden looked at him steadily for a long time without saying anything. She then stood up, walked around the desk, and put the bouquet of flowers in the vase. She took a few steps back, examined it, and said, "This vase is just big enough."

Kevin said, "The things I gave you are all just right."

Hayden hummed.

Turning around, she returned to her desk and began to clean it up.

She kept her desk tidy before going to work, and she also kept it tidy when she got off work.

Hayden said, "Let's go and eat. Don't keep Sister Liberty and Mr. Lewis waiting."

Kevin walked side by side with her and said, "When I came here, I called Brother Duncan. He said that he and Sister Liberty were on their way back. They were a little further away and would probably be later than us. Back to the hotel in a little while."

Now is rush hour again, and traffic jams are easy on the road."

The two people walked out of the office together.

Hayden said to her secretary, "Tell Mr. Miles that the meeting time will be postponed for one hour."

"Okay."

The secretary thought Hayden was going to cancel the meeting with Mr. Miles.

She just postponed the meeting for an hour so he could explain it to Mr. Miles.

Kevin asked her, "Are you going to discuss business tonight?"

Hayden turned to look at him. Kevin immediately understood the meaning in her eyes and smiled. "I am actually very busy, but I don't do anything every day."

It just depended on what he was busy with.

For him, chasing his wife was also a big deal.

He was also very busy chasing his wife every day, and he was not really doing anything.

Hayden said, "You are the most laid-back person I have ever seen. Grandma York is busier than you."

Kevin said with a smile as he walked, "That's true. Compared with Grandma, I am not as busy as her. She is busy looking for cabbage for the other pigs, and she always scolds us for growing taller in vain. She is so attractive but cannot eat cabbage; she is not a suitable pig."

Hayden chuckled.

“Fighting grandma is fun.”

She really liked Grandma York, an old woman.

Grandma York was probably the only one who would describe her grandchildren as pigs who couldn't eat cabbage.

Kevin said, “She is an old, naughty woman. She is already very old, but she is still jumping up and down every day. If my sister-in-law hadn't been pregnant, she would still be flying around. I have never seen such an energetic old woman, surpassing many young people.”

Hayden said with a smile, “Grandma York's high energy means that she is healthy and has a good attitude. Don't you want to see a grandma like this? I hope that Grandma York will always be like this and live a long life.”

Kevin said, “My grandma will definitely live a long life. I'm just complaining about my grandma in front of you. I won't say that in front of others. I have to pretend to be a grandson to her.”

The two entered the elevator.

Hayden said to him, “You are actually Grandma York's grandson; there is no need to pretend.”

Kevin smiled. “Yes, I am her grandson.”

He was very lucky and very happy.

His grandma was the best grandma in the world.

Although Grandma York would arrange a target for them on their own initiative and ask them to take action, leaving them speechless, In the end, they all followed Grandma, and they gained happiness because of it.

As a dear grandma, she wouldn't cheat them.

As soon as they entered the elevator, the elevator door closed. Kevin immediately took Hayden's hand and was about to take her into his arms, but Hayden's cell phone rang without warning.

She quickly pushed him away, took out her mobile phone, looked at the caller ID, and said to Kevin, "My mom's call."

When the mother-in-law calls in the future, Kevin will not be able to harass her.
