

Read Married At First Sight Chapter 2797

Married At First Sight Chapter 2797-After the owner saw it clearly, he was also dumbfounded.

However, they quickly reacted and stepped forward to greet Hayden without changing their expressions.

Kevin and Hayden were already a couple. Even if they are a homos*xual couple, the elders of the two families have no objections, and there is no obstruction. What could outsiders like them not understand?

This was also people's freedom.

Whether Hayden pretended to be a woman or Kevin pretended to be a woman, that was their freedom.

“Mr. York, Mr. Queen.”

The owner's surname was Talbot. He was over eighty years old, but he was still in good health and was still active in Jensburg's business community.

He had a good reputation in Jensburg's business community; otherwise, Hayden wouldn't have attended the Talbot family's banquet.

“Mr. Talbot.”

Both of them greeted Mr. Talbot politely.

Mr. Talbot smiled and said, “Mr. Queen, Mr. York, please come in.”

He invited the two of them into the room, but Mr. Talbot didn't say a word about Hayden's appearance in women's clothing.

The other members of the Talbot family did not have as good concentration as Mr. Talbot, so they looked at Hayden from time to time.

They felt that Hayden was more charming when dressed as a woman than in men's clothing. It should be said that Hayden's handsomeness was a bit feminine. Hayden was usually cold and serious, which neutralized his feminine and evil beauty.

When Hayden put on women's clothes and pretended to be a woman, it gave people the illusion that this was Hayden's original appearance and that Hayden should be a woman to be suitable.

Even though he was disguised as a woman, he was still cold and enchanting.

Kevin held one of Hayden's hands, and the two of them clasped their fingers together. Under the leadership of the Talbot family, they walked towards the gorgeous main house.

Everyone in the yard looked at them.

When the group entered the main room, everyone came back to their senses.

"Is that really Mr. Queen? I'm not blind, am I?" A wealthy lady rubbed her eyes and said, "Mr. Queen is even more beautiful when he dresses as a woman. He won't give us a way to survive by pretending to be a woman. Even if he is a man, we can't conquer him either."

"Mr. Queen likes Mr. York so much that he is willing to dress up as a woman in order to fight for him, and he looks so similar. Speaking of which, Mr. Queen looks so beautiful in an evening dress. That evening dress is like it was tailor-made for him."

"Mr. Queen dresses up as a woman and walks with Mr. York. They are truly a talented man and a beautiful woman. They are a match made in heaven and earth."

"It's enough for two grown men to fall in love. Mr. Queen actually pretends to be a woman. Ah, that's my male god. Mr. York completely ruined my male god! I hate it. Fight to the death against Mr. York!"

The rich ladies who had admired Hayden were speechless.

Yes, Kevin ruined their male god.

The former Mr. Queen was so handsome, and his cold look was so cool.

But his toady's dressing up as a woman, although noble and cool, made the wealthy ladies who had admired Hayden feel itchy with hatred.

"Mr. Queen, could it be that you are originally a woman?" A lady suddenly asked.

Her words were astonishing, causing everyone to look at her.

The lady was startled and said hurriedly, "I just made a guess, a random guess. Mr. Queen, you're dressing up as a woman, and there is no sense of inconsistency. I am the only one who would guess like that."

Married At First Sight Chapter 2798-Everyone looked at each other's faces.

Would it be like that?

Mr. Queen was originally a woman, but she used to dress up as a man, or are men now dressing up as women?

Hayden's appearance perplexed everyone. But no one dared to ask clearly.

Some people have good relationships with the Queen family. If they have the contact information of Mr. Queen and Mrs. Queen, they call Mr. Queen or Mrs. Queen. Who knows that the mobile phones of Mr. and Mrs. Queen are turned off and no one can contact them?

Hayden, who was welcomed into the main room by Mr. Talbot, sat down gracefully.

Mr. Talbot's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alora Talbot, always looked at Hayden and hesitated several times.

Mrs. Alora Talbot and Mrs. Queen were acquaintances. They had played cards, gone shopping, and had meals together, so they had some friendship.

Hayden said, "Auntie, if you want to say anything to me, just say it."

Hayden saw that Alora had something to say and took the initiative to ask, so that Alora would not stare at her all the time, saying what she wanted to say but not saying.

Mr. Talbot looked at Alora.

Alora said sheepishly, "No, I just think this evening dress of Mr. Queen is very nice. Was it given to Mr. Queen by Mr. York? Where was it made? I will order two sets of it another day."

Kevin smiled: "I didn't give it as a gift; Auntie Queen bought it for Hayden."

He once gave Hayden women's clothes, but Hayden refused to accept them. Later, he reluctantly wore them once and showed them to her, but she still refused to accept them.

Knowing that Hayden wouldn't accept it, he stopped sending women's clothes to Hayden.

Hayden was going to wear women's clothes to attend the banquet tonight, and she didn't tell him in advance. He didn't know about it at all. If he had known earlier, he would definitely have sent Hayden some more beautiful evening dresses in advance.

The evening dress Hayden wore tonight was beautiful. It was too conservative, and it didn't even expose her back. Unlike the evening dresses of other rich ladies, which exposed shoulders and backs.

Alora: "Mrs. Queen bought it?"

She believed Kevin had given it to Hayden.

The Talbot family also speculated, like others, that Hayden wore women's clothing because of Kevin, and it was Kevin who asked her to dress up as a woman.

“Yes, my mother bought it. I said I wanted to wear women’s clothes tonight and asked my mother to buy me an evening dress, so my mother bought me this dress. Auntie, I put on the dress; is it very nice?”

Hayden asked Alora with a smile.

Alora said, “You are good-looking, but you are a man wearing a dress, neither male nor female. I and your mother are familiar with each other. Seeing you like this, it’s impossible to turn a blind eye.”

She glanced at Kevin and said, “Your parents respect your decision regarding you and Mr. York. We are just outsiders. It’s hard to say anything. But you are like this... I don’t know what to do. I mean, I just feel bad.”

Hayden suppressed her smile and said, “Auntie, I said I’m a girl; don’t you believe it? It’s just that I have always been a girl, but I usually like to dress up in neutral clothes, which makes everyone misunderstand that I am a man.”

After thinking about it, Hayden added, “It’s not everyone’s misunderstanding; it’s me who misled everyone. In the past, I always said that I was the eldest young master of the Queen family, which misled everyone. In fact, I am the daughter of the Queen family. My brother Hugh and I are twins.

I feel that being a man is relaxing and free. Auntie, you don’t have to worry about being looked at with colored glasses when you do anything.”

Talbot family: “...”

What did Hayden say?

Hayden said that he was originally a girl, but he just liked to pretend to be a man, so he misled everyone by claiming to be the eldest son of the Queen family.

In fact, he was her.

It’s not Mr. Queen; it’s Ms. Queen.

The Talbot family suspected that they had heard wrongly.

Alora was even more stunned. The young girl next to her was the daughter of the Talbot family and had once admired Hayden. Her expression was no better than Alora’s.

