Can Not Win Me Back Chapter 2136-Jasper smiled slightly at Jason as he got into the car. He extended his hand first.

“Nice to meet you, Mr. Derullere.” “Nice to meet you too, Mr. Beckett.” Jason shook Jasper’s hand. Jasper’s strength and composure eased Jason’s nervousness.

“Please forgive my bluntness, Mr. Beckett. I am a lawyer for Schmidt Group.

Meeting privately like this... Isn’t it inappropriate?” Jason was both stating a fact and testing him at the same time.

“While we may be on opposing sides,” Jasper explained seriously, “I share your deep grudge against Jameson. However, I’ve always believed the guilty should be held accountable. I’m a fair man and won’t target the innocent.” “Moreover,”

Jasper continued, his posture unwavering, “I have a feeling we’re not enemies, but rather friends on opposite sides.” “Friends...” Jason’s eyes welled up. He couldn’t believe his ears.

“Since you risked meeting me,” Jasper’s gentle voice resonated with Jason, “I believe you acknowledge as an ally. Am I right, Mr. Derullere?” Upon hearing that, Jason, a distinguished lawyer in his 50s, burst into tears in front of Jasper.

“I can’t take it anymore, Mr. Beckett!” he cried out. “Working for Jameson another day is unbearable. We’re not even human to him, just expendable pawns! “Mr. Victor, though flawed, cared for and my family. But since his passing, Jameson has my partner and son under constant surveillance. He knows my loyalty to Mr. Victor and uses their safety to control me. Betrayal would mean their lives are in danger. It’s a despicable strategy!” Jasper frowned when he heard Jason’s laments. Xavier, on the other hand, sighed in exasperation.

“He’s involved in smuggling, drug trafficking, and various criminal enterprises.

He’s lawless! He even asked to tamper with Mr. Victor’s will.” Jasper’s gaze darkened. “What about the will?” “Anticipating his health decline, Mr. Victor had witness him writing his will. He left nothing to Jameson, neither control of Schmidt Group nor any family assets.” Jason’s anger was evident. “Jameson seized everything by force!” Jasper’s gaze sharpened. “Can I ask you a question, Mr. Derullere?” “Of course, if I can answer.” “Did Jameson have anything to do with Mr. Victor’s death?” Jason faltered. “Though I didn't witness it... I'm sure he was involved. Mr. Victor had a heart condition, but with timely medication, he wouldn't require emergency measures.

"Mr. Jameson was with him that day when his condition flared up. Mr. Victor always carried Nitroglycerin. But that day, of all days, he skipped his medication.

"Later, I confirmed that the medication wasn't on him. Who else but Jameson could have watched Mr. Victor suffer and do nothing?" "That's a logical conclusion," Xavier said, "but we lack evidence." Jason shook his head, defeated and angry.

"Jameson has committed countless crimes. While Mr. Victor's death was unfortunate, we can still find other ways to persecute Jameson." Jasper fixated on Jason with a serious expression. "Mr. Derullere, would you be willing to forward and testify about Jameson tampering with the will and his illegal takeover?" Content belongs to en.sw "I would, but I fear for my family..." "Don't worry. My wife and I will do all we can to protect you and your family. I can send your wife and son overseas on my private jet. Even Jameson wouldn't be able to track them, and if he's that capable, he can scour the entire world for them.

Gratitude filled Jason's eyes as he to get rid of that scum!" Inside the car, the three solidified their plan.

Content belongs to en.sw "Once things settle here, I'll reunite you. Does that sound agreeable?" Jasper offered sincerely.

"Xavier," Jasper instructed, influenced by Alyssa's caution, "take smen, and discreetly follow Jason. I'm worried about his safety." "On it!" Xavier immediately exited the car.

Jasper then headed toward Beckett Group in his black MPV. During the drive, his phone sang. it Was Alyssa, her voice laced with urgency. "Jasper, cto the station@ight away. Nicholas wants to see us!

Can Not Win Me Back Chapter 2137-Once Jasper heard the news, he became energized. He headed straight for the police station.

Alyssa and Cyrus were already waiting outside the interrogation room when he arrived.

"Sorry I'm late, Lyse," Jasper apologized breathlessly as soon as he arrived. He truly was the epitome of a gentleman.

"Don't worry," Alyssa said, coming closer. "I was afraid something might happen to you if you rushed over." She gently wiped the sweat from his forehead with her sleeve.

Jasper grabbed her by her wrist, his gaze intense. "I met with someone just now, Lyse. I have good news!" Alyssa's eyes lit up. "What is it?" "Let's get down to business first," Jasper said, tapping the tip of her nose playfully. Affection gleamed in his eyes.

"Nicholas will be here any minute. I'll handle the interrogation myself," Cyrus announced, beaming. The case had dragged out for far too long. Finally, there was a breakthrough.

"Cyrus, be mindful of your approach," Alyssa cautioned gently. "Nicholas has held a high position. He was your superior. Even though he's a criminal now, arrogance is likely ingrained in him. Be polite and ask leading questions without being overbearing or putting too much pressure on him." "Jeez! Of course I know all these. I haven't been a criminal investigator all these years for nothing."

Cyrus gave Alyssa a few firm pats on her shoulder. "Don't worry. Leave it to me."

With that, he entered the interrogation room.

Alone, Jasper and Alyssa locked eyes. A flicker of worry crossed Jasper's face.

Derullere, visited him today. Content belongs to en.swJasper playfully hooked her fingers back. "I know."

"Oh?" Surprise flickered in Alyssa's eyes. Then, she had a sudden revelation. "So you met with M Deruflere privately? Is the good news you have fogrelated to him?" Content belongs to en.swhovels Jasper briefly frowned before he chuckled, shaking his head. "Do you have to be so intelligent, Lyse? You see right.

through me. I feel naked when I'm before you." vel"Well, I've already seen all of you anyway." Alyssa giggled, her gaze flickering to his white shirt. Her finger traced a circle over his abdomen. "Your moles, your sensitive spots, your abs... I know them all." Content belongs to en.swThey were at a police station, yet Alyssa was flirting openly! "Lyse, we're at the station," Jasper reminded her in a low voice, pulling her close by the waist.

Alyssa pouted, feigning offense.

"What's wrong? We're practically an old manjed couple. Why act so proper?" "Proper?"

"What made Nicholas decide to talk?" As usual, Alyssa fiddled with Jasper's Calloused hand, as if it were her favorite plaything. "The Schmidt Group's Director of Lega/ Mr.

Can Not Win Me Back Chapter 2138-Jasper couldn't help but let out a soft chuckle. He leaned into Alyssa, gently nibbling her earlobe. "I just wish I could do that with you right now." Alyssa's cheeks flushed a rosy red as she met his gaze, her beauty captivating.

Cyrus and Nicholas sat alone in the interrogation room, a camera recording their every move.

"You may begin," Cyrus said gently, gesturing for Nicholas to speak.

Nicholas, handcuffed and weary, leaned back with a desolate expression. "I've disappointed you, haven't I?" "Would you like to hear the truth? Yes," Cyrus replied honestly.

Nicholas closed his eyes, a cold smile twisting his lips in a mix of relief and regret. "I appreciate your honesty. It's refreshing." "Back then, you personally awarded my First and Second Order of Merit badges. I remember your words clearly. You told me always to uphold justice and eliminate evil while clinging to my virtues. You also told me to be a good officer and always to serve the people." Cyrus took a deep breath, his emotions churning as he watched Nicholas. "Since joining the force, you've been a role model to us all. Finding out about your actions shattered my faith. The man I looked up to became the devil's aplice. When I arrested you, did you think I felt satisfaction?" A shiver ran down Nicholas' spine.

He slumped forward, burying his face in his hands. After a long silence, his wracked sobs echoed in the cold room, tears of regret dripping onto the table.

Cyrus felt a suffocating mix of emotions swirling within him. He didn't know where to begin.

"Actually... you're on the right track," Nicholas finally croaked, wiping his tears.

"The one pulling the strings is Jameson Schmidt, the current chairman of Schmidt Group." Cyrus' heart pounded. He held his breath, waiting for Nicholas to continue.

Nicholas shut his eyes, reliving the bitter memory, "He claimed his superior had a biomedical research organization developing a medication targeting my wife's symptoms. Mosgravia's medical technology is far more advanced. What takes 10 to 20 years here only takes five there!" Cyrus immediately probed, "What's the name of this organization?" "I think it's called... RC." "And who is Jameson's superior?" Nicholas shook his head weakly. "I don't know. That person is even more secretive than Jameson. But I could feel his extreme loyalty toward that person.

He worships that person like an idol. I wouldn't be surprised if he'd give his life for them. "Now that I think about it... Jameson seems brainwashed. But what right do I have to torment on that? I myself have been manipulated." Cyrus' gaze remained steady as he urged Nicholas. "Go on." "Jameson brought the medicine back to Cyrris. To accelerate data collection, he disguised it as soft drugs and distributed them through gray markets.

"I became his fixer, eliminating any obstacles to the research. I agreed to work for him, hoping to expedite the process and save my wife. But when I'm looking back, it was all a terrible mistake.” Cyrus exposed Jameson’s sinister plan. “Jameson didn’t approach you out of mutual aid. He lured you into a trap. It wasn’t luck that he chose you. It was because you were a useful tool he happened upon.

“Your desperation for a cure made you easily manipulated, Onge hen achieves hig goals, youll be discarded. The assassins who attacked you are proof of that.”

Can Not Win Me Back Chapter 2139-Nicholas burst out laughing and shook his head repeatedly.

He wasn’t disagreeing with what Cyrus said. Rather, he was feeling remorse over how much he had sacrificed over three years. He felt like it was not worth it at all.

At this very moment, he was extremely regretful and sorry.

He wasn’t regretful about going down the wrong path and losing the reputation he had worked so hard for.

He regretted that his righteous and upright self had be a slave to the devil.

“Other than the evidence of your crimes that we found at your home, is there anything else you’d like to tell us?” Cyrus questioned with a serious look on his face.

“Yes.” Nicholas lowered his eyes. “I was involved in Aidan’s case too. Jameson instructedfrom behind the scenes.” Cyrus was shocked. “You killed Aidan?”

Didn’t he die by suicide?” “He did, but Jameson forced him to his death.

Jameson wrote and ed a suicide note for him in advance and then asked the lawyer to give it to Aidan so that he’d have it with him all the time. After he died, I pressured the police to close the case quickly and declare his death a suicide.”

Cyrus scowled and shook his head. He was still perplexed.

“Aidan was the heir to Lovelace Group. He was the eldest son of the Lovelace family and a prideful man. How could he have allowed you to manipulate him so easily?”
“Because Jameson has something on him that could easily end him.”

Nicholas felt his eyelid twitch. “Aidan was one of Jameson’s important business partners in Solana City. Jameson tricked him into believing that he was selling a new type of soft drug that would bring him huge profits. At least, that was what Jameson did to bring him into his ploy.

“But what Aidan didn’t expect was that he was merely helping Jameson with human drug experimentation. From the very beginning, Jameson wasn’t planning to make a profit from it. In order to reach his goal, he made an extremely tempting offer. That was why Aidan took the risk to partner with him.”

Regardless of what happened, Cyrus’ mother, Mandy, was part of the Lovelace family. She had now also taken complete charge of Lovelace Group.

Chapter 2139 1 “Joseph and Aidan have been expanding their business blindly these past few years. On top of that, there was barely any progress with the medications they were developing. The higher-ups no longer wished to invest in them.

“This caused Lovelace Group’s cash flow to be problematic, and they needed a huge sum of funds urgently. Because of that, Aidan fell for Jameson’s trap.” All of a sudden, it clicked for Cyrus. He asked, “What did Jameson have on him, then?” “The experimentation on the new drug caused frequent deaths in Solana City. Aidan went to Jameson and said that he wanted out. He also threatened Jameson that he would drag him down if anything happened to him.

“You and I both know the kind of person Jameson is. Those who go against his will are destined to die. Even if it was a slip of the tongue, he definitely wasn’t going to tolerate Aidan anymore.” Nicholas’ eyes were dark and dull. “One night, Jameson used a get-together as an excuse to invite Aidan to a resort hotel nearby. That night was one of debauchery. Aidan got carried away and got a room with a woman.

“That woman was found dead on his bed. She died a sudden death in the wee hours of the morning. Jameson had instructed someone to inject a high dose of hallucinogen into her, causing her to die of an overdose.

“While Aidan was in a drunken and muddled state, Jameson took the opportunity to pin the blame for the murder on him. Then, he ordered to get rid of the body before daybreak.”

suddenly, Cyrus widened his eyes in anger. “What did you do with that woman’s body?” “There’s an active construction site in the eastern district. There was a cement foundation that was half-pleted. I threw her body in there.” Chapter 2139 2 Cyrus felt a lump in his throat.

He looked at Nicholas with an extremely conflicted gaze. No matter what, he couldn’t save him. He would not be spared by the law either.

“So, Aidan’s unwarranted arrest was also Jameson’s handiwork? Then, he forced Aidan to his death. This way, he would be able to escape completely unscathed and free from troubles. Is that right?” Jameson was insidious and merciless. It would be considered a light punishment even if he were sent to hell.

“I know that I have committed unforgivable crimes. I accept all my punishments. I will not protest or appeal.
