

Chapter 1202 Preparations

Liam frowned, surprised by the Saint Society's bold ambitions.

The president continued, "The situation with the foreign envoy is closely linked to the betrayal of the lord of the War God House."

He explained that the Lord of the War God House had sensed the impending crisis, which had prompted his betrayal. He was looking for a way to survive, possibly even aiming to secure a future position within the Saint Society.

Hearing this, Liam frowned.

He wasn't surprised that the Lord of the War God House had switched sides. He understood that the Lord of the War God House just wanted to survive.

However, this betrayal had resulted in the death of Sumner, and Liam was prepared not to let the Lord of the War God House off if the opportunity arose.

The president said, "Liam, everyone in the Saint Society is aware that I am still alive. Consequently, the Pope has crafted a plan for the Lord of the War God House to take over as the leader of the Salvation Society. His goal is to undermine my base within the Salvation Society and force me into the open. The situation on Genesis Island is currently volatile, with the Lord of the War God House eager to assume leadership of the Salvation Society. Our other elders in the Salvation Society are finding it difficult to stop him."

After a pause, he continued, "I can only grant you three months at most. After that, you must travel to Genesis Island to confront the current Lord of the War God House in a duel. Only the victor will be qualified to assume leadership of the Salvation Society."

Upon hearing this, Liam nodded solemnly, showing no hesitation.

Liam had already been briefed by Laura about the situation before. He had resolved to challenge the current Lord of the War God House for the leadership of the Salvation Society.

Seeing Liam's nod of agreement, the president felt reassured. He then said, "Liam, I have devised a plan for this! On the day you compete for the presidency of the Salvation Society, I'm planning significant actions. I will eliminate all the experts from the Saint Society who are hidden in the Salvation Society. This action will cut off the connections between the Pope and the Blood Clan. This plan might even postpone the colonization of Blue Star."

Liam was taken aback by his master's words.

Despite his usually composed nature, the scope of this plan was immense.

If successful, it would significantly alleviate his burdens, enabling him to effectively rescue Julie and Asher.

Thrilled by the possibilities, Liam asked, "What should I do? How can I assist you?"

The president smiled and said, "Currently, there are eight guardians in the Saint Society. Including Carlden, that makes nine in total. Among these nine guardians, besides Carlden, I have also trained another one who serves as an undercover agent. On the day you face off against the Lord of the War God House, the Saint Society will assemble all their forces on Genesis Island. They will be waiting for the right moment to take over the Salvation Society."

Liam felt concerned and said, "With only Carlden and the undercover guardian, that's only two people. Even with support from our Salvation Society's experts, overcoming them would be challenging!"

The president responded with a reassuring smile, "Liam, I am

Chapter 1202 Preparations

 +120 Points at most not one to remain passive. In addition to the undercover guardian and Carden, I've arranged a backup plan. A few elders are covertly positioned within the Salvation Society. At my signal, they will join us in striking against the Saint Society. Hence, the success of this battle hinges on this strategic move!"

 Limited-time offer: 30 minutes of free reading>>

Claim Now

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.