

Chapter 1211 Rapid Progress

Not long after Liam absorbed the magma crystal, he felt like his entire body was about to be melted by its intense energy.

Teetering on the brink of collapse, his body began a remarkable reconstruction.

At that moment, Liam experienced a simultaneous physical and mental upgrade.

In a way, the magma crystal Flame had given him acted as a Genmo.

But its effects went even beyond that.

Perhaps it was due to the World Power of Blue Star within Liam that he could distinctly sense the fiery energy within the crystal.

As he absorbed the magma crystal's energy, Liam instantly unlocked his special power of the fire element!

The absorption process stretched on for nearly two hours before finally coming to an end.

Thanks to Flame's gift, Liam had gained immensely.

The Human Body Refinement Technique he practiced had reached its pinnacle with the aid of the magma crystal. Furthermore, the potent fire element within the magma crystal had sparked a new special power in Liam.

Liam had been yearning for this special power of the fire element, and now, it was his!

At that moment, a tiny red dot appeared within the white vortex of Liam's body. With the red dot's emergence and the complete absorption of the magma crystal's energy, his energy level had soared to the peak of seventh rank!

The progress was really quick.

Not only that, but the primogem energy in Liam's body had also been condensed and refined by the magma crystal's power, becoming much purer.

Now, Liam was far stronger than before, boasting enhanced endurance and fierce power.

In fact, even though Liam was only at the peak of level seven as a Primogem Warrior, he could still go toe-to-toe with someone at level eight.

What made Liam most happy was the awakening of a brand new Origin Technique amidst all his gains!

Upon this awakening, a red, partly visible mark appeared between Liam's eyebrows.

This mark was the unmistakable symbol of his new Origin Technique, intimately connected to the magma crystal he had absorbed.

Much like Flame, Liam could now spit out terrifying fireballs from his mouth.

And these weren't just any ordinary fireballs.

The flames were dozens of times hotter than typical fire!

Liam had endured the searing agony of this fire firsthand.

If Lancy hadn't shown up just in time to make Flame call off the attack, Liam would have become nothing more than dust.

Because of this, Liam was confident he could incinerate even a high-level Primogem Warrior with the intense heat of his fireballs.

Liam's strength had taken a giant leap forward.

This new strength made up for Liam's previous weaknesses, giving him direct and formidable power when facing enemies.

Liam tucked away the joy bubbling in his heart and turned to Lancy and her pet, Flame. His face lit up with excitement and gratitude as he spoke to them. "Thank you so much, Lancy, Flame!"

Lancy beamed, her smile showing her teeth, and she sincerely said, "Congrats, Liam! You're one step closer to taking me away from here!"

At that moment, Liam realized it was time for him to leave here.

So he said, "I've achieved my goal. Lancy, Flame, I'll take my leave now. Don't worry. I won't forget my promise. I'll be back!"

Lancy and Flame waved at Liam. Lancy then said to Liam, "That's a deal! Within a thousand years, you must take me to the Cosmic realm!"

With a slight smile, Liam nodded solemnly.

If everything went as planned, Liam believed he could be able to go to the Cosmic realm within a few hundred years!
