

Chapter 1330 Arthur Vaughn Appears

A figure emerged, and slowly, his face came into view before Liam.

It was none other than Arthur, whom Liam had met while battling the Dark Mist Spirit.

Liam's eyes lit up with excitement, seeing Arthur there made him realize that the situation might change completely.

Tom's expression darkened at the sight of Arthur.

In a low, menacing voice, he cursed, "Arthur Vaughn, you bastard! Are you out of your mind? What is an outsider like you doing meddling in our Astron family's affairs? Are you trying to start a war with our family on behalf of the Vaughn family?"

Both the Vaughn family and the Astron family belonged to the No. 75 planetary system. A conflict between them would not only weaken their own strength but also draw scrutiny and consequences from the Human Clan's higher-ups, who valued unity and defense against external threats.

Despite their rivalry, the Vaughn family and the Astron family had never engaged in outright conflict for this reason.

Tom believed his words would prompt Arthur to reconsider and leave, fearing reprisal from the Human Clan's higher-ups.

But he hadn't expected to be wrong this time.

Arthur wasn't swayed. Instead, he sneered and retorted mockingly, "Tom, Is this all that you can do? You are the head of your family, yet you are here bullying a young and inexperienced man with no backing. Don't you have any shame?"

After mocking Tom, Arthur turned to Liam and reassured him, "Don't worry. As long as I'm here, no one can harm you."

Liam was surprised by Arthur's action. Though Arthur had mentioned owing him a favor before, Liam hadn't expected such a risky gesture from him. Arthur was risking the entire Vaughn family for him.

The stakes were high.

Liam was deeply moved by the support. His eyes welled up with gratitude as he bowed and said to Arthur, "Sir, I will forever be indebted to your kindness!"

In fact, Arthur had been quietly trailing Tom and his entourage earlier.

His initial intention had been merely to observe the unfolding events and possibly gather evidence of Tom's despotic actions for future leverage.

Yet, Arthur hadn't expected Tom's target to be Liam!

Before intervening, Arthur had hesitated, weighing his options. He had recalled a past favor Liam had done for him and decided that aiding Liam was the right course of action.

Moreover, Liam's exceptional talents were valuable. If he were killed by Tom, it would be a loss for the Human Clan.

Upon realizing that Arthur intended not only to stay but also to defend the man responsible for his son's death, Tom was furious. He bellowed, "Fine! Arthur, since you've chosen to defy death, I will grant your wish! If you disregard the consequences, so will I! Today, I declare war on any protector of this man! Attack! All Primogem Emperors, surround and target Arthur! Once we kill him, we'll deal with the rest!"
