Chapter 2590

“You go to inquire about it, and ask your college classmates. Those who have ideas and goals have already taken various certificates to prepare for future studies or entering the society. Only you have an empty head and do not think about making progress.” After Layla said this, Robert quit the game.

Robert: “Sister, I won’t play games at home anymore.”

“It’s not that I don’t let you play games, but you play games here every day when you come back for dinner.

Don’t you have anything else to do?”

“Sister, I’m going to read.” Robert said bitterly, ready to go back to the room

“Wait, I’ve eaten too much, you go out for a walk with me.” Layla walked to the door and put on her coat.

Robert: “Okay.”

The siblings had been like this since childhood, no matter what happened a second ago, as long as Layla treated Robert a little better, Robert would become a little follower and follow behind her sister.

After the siblings left, Avery and Elliot looked at each other in the dining room.

Why did the two of them seldom put pressure on Robert? Because Layla gave.

If the whole family put pressure on Robert, They're afraid that Robert would not be able to bear it.

In fact, Layla was also relatively strong and domineering in front of Robert. This was probably the sister's natural suppression of the younger brother's blood.

Saturday morning.

Avery and Elliot were going out to meet Eric.

Layla usually slept in on weekends, and often slept until noon before getting up.

Unexpectedly, when Avery and Elliot were about to go out, Layla was also going out.

Layla was wearing the latest spring jacket of a certain brand, with her long hair draped over her shoulders. It seemed that she had been smeared with essential oils, which smelled very fragrant.

With delicate light makeup on her face, she looked very good.

"Honey, are you going out? Haven't you had breakfast yet?" Avery asked.

While the two of them were eating breakfast, neither Layla nor Robert came down.

The two of them defaulted that the two children were sleeping late, so they didn't call them.

"I ate some snacks in the room, and I'm not hungry anymore." Layla's face was full of joy, "I made an appointment with Prince today. If there is a chance, I will bring him to see you."

Layla finished speaking and went out.

Elliot and Avery looked at each other.

Avery spoke first: "Didn't she tell you in advance?"

Elliot: "No."

"Oh... Maybe the prince just arrived today! What's the name of the prince?" Avery had a premonition in his heart, feeling that Layla would bring the prince to meet them later.

Elliot: "Let me check the mailbox."

Elliot read all the information on the 52 candidates, and after reading them, he felt that they were not as good as Hayden, so

Elliot didn't remember their names at all.

"Forget it, that young man will also introduce himself when we meet." Avery grabbed his hand, "Let's go!"

Thopiavelle.

Siena was getting paid today.

When her class was over, she saw the transfer information, so she immediately transferred the money to the Uncle, surnamed Seguin.

After the money was transferred, after a while, the other party replied with a question mark.

Siena: [Uncle, do you think it's too little? I don't have double salary in the future, next month will be less. But I will use the summer vacation time to work a few more jobs. Don't worry, I will definitely pay back the money owed to you.]

Man surnamed Seguin: [Your money has been paid off!]

Siena felt dizzy in an instant, and a layer of hot sweat broke out on her back.

Her debt paid off?

Who paid her back?
