I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1069

After Yves finished stammering, he stopped breathing and died. The person who killed him was Reggie, the captain of Berserk Hunters.

He used all his strength for the blow just now and did not hold back at all. He just wanted to make a quick decision and not give Yves a chance to speak.

As he looked at Yves, who died because of him, Reggie's heart was full of anger, and he did not know where he could vent his anger.

He had sworn brotherhood with Yves. More than 300 years ago, four of them formed Berserk Hunters and swore brotherhood, with Yves being the youngest of the group. Under the leadership of the four, Berserk Hunters grew into what it was today and became the fourth largest hunter group in the empire. 1 The other two brothers had already died midway throughout their journey.

Now only Reggie and Yves were left.

However, he had to kill his brother with his own hands today.

He was seething.

However, even though he was mad, he had no choice.

Although he had already discovered that something was wrong and asked Yves not to take action before they learned the truth, Yves still insisted on going his own way and almost hurt Princess Astrid.

If he did not kill Yves himself, Berserk Hunters would be implicated, and no one would be able to escape if Princess Astrid decided to look into this.

As the captain, Reggie could only do this for the sake of Berserk Hunters.

Reggie killed Yves in just a few seconds, but his action caused the millions of bounty hunters on the scene to inhale sharply.

'He's too savage!' Who in the bounty hunter community did not know Reggie and Yves were sworn brothers for hundreds of years?

Yves also contributed to Berserk Hunters' achievements and size today.

Even so, Reggie killed his brother to survive. Although, as the saying goes, 'Every man for himself, and the Devil take the hindmost.' It was one thing to say it and another thing to do it. 2 Many men in the bounty hunter community were willing to sacrifice their lives for their brothers.

Elio had to admire Reggie's courage at this moment.

Even if he knew that this was the best solution, he might not be able to do it if it were him.

That was the brother who had gone through life and death with him for many decades! How could he kill him without any hesitation?

After Reggie killed Yves, he knelt on one knee, put his hands together, and said respectfully, "1 Your Royal Highness, please don't be mad! I didn't discipline my man well and scared you. Please punish me, Your Royal Highness." "Are you the captain of Berserk Hunters?" Astrid asked. "Yes," Reggie replied. "It's smart of you to make minor sacrifices to safeguard major interests. I will remember you. The reorganization of the Mouny hunter community will start with Berserk Hunters! I want to see an answer in three days."

"Don't worry, Your Royal Highness! After three days, I will definitely give you a satisfactory answer," Reggie replied.

Immediately afterwards, Florian, captain of Shadow Hunters, Norah, captain of Red Spider Hunters, and Elio, captain of Golden Eagle Bounty Group, also stepped forward.

The three of them put their hands together simultaneously and said respectfully, "Don't worry, Your Royal Highness! We will definitely give you a satisfactory answer." "Alright, this matter will end here. Now, let's look at another matter. David risked his life to save me, but you're treating him as a prize for your competition. How are you going to explain this?" Astrid asked in a cold voice.

After Astrid said this, the scene fell silent. In the end, Florian stood up and said, "Your Royal Highness, please call David over! No matter what he requests, we will do our best to meet it."

"That's right! Florian is right. No matter what David asks, we will do our best to satisfy him," Reggie quickly followed. How could he still behave like Captain Kraut right now?

He could only be submissive now that he was in front of Princess Astrid.

Besides, Berserk Hunters had a bad reputation with Princess Astrid, so he had to find a way to gain the princess' forgiveness.

Otherwise, Berserk Hunters would have a hard time surviving in the Royal Region in the future once Princess Astrid targeted them.

David also came over with Mia at this time.

He heard Astrid talk about him, so he knew it was time for him to come forward.

"David, I've dealt with the matter. If you need anything else, you can just tell me. They will satisfy you. Otherwise, I won't spare them," Astrid hid her serious expression and said softly.

She spoke to David in a completely different tone than with others.

Everyone on the scene could hear it, and they looked at David differently again.

Princess Astrid was too good for this kid.

Even if David had rescued her, such treatment would not have been possible.

The relationship between the two was definitely not normal.

They had to remember this lucky kid.

In the future, he might even become the princess' husband.

His identity and status would skyrocket at once, surpassing countless people.

"David, I'm sorry, I'm really sorry for treating you like a wanted criminal in the empire and even wanting to treat you as a prize. I'm sorry for making you aggrieved, what do you need? You can just tell us, and we will try our best to satisfy you," Florian said humbly.

He was also very helpless.

As the leader of the empire's number one bounty hunter group, Shadow Hunters, and a late Celestial Ranker, he had to speak humbly to a Cosmos Ranker in front of millions of bounty hunters.

Florian felt awkward, but he had no choice.

David had Princess Astrid behind him. If this was not handled well, he would have a bad time in the Royal Region in the future. Aside from him, all bounty hunters would also have a hard time.

Furthermore, the head of White Tiger Hall was behind Princess Astrid too, and he was someone more powerful than Florian.

Therefore, he had to be humble!

“No, not try your best, but you must!” Astrid said solemnly. “Yes, yes! We will satisfy him! We will definitely satisfy him!” Florian said immediately.

“David, don’t be afraid, just say what you want. I’ll oversee this for you. They will have to fulfill it even if they can’t. If not, I will give them hell in the Royal Region and even the entire Milky Way,” Astrid said to David in a gentle tone again.

All eyes were on David.

They all sighed internally, Why is this kid so lucky? Although they did not know what happened between David and Princess Astrid, they could probably guess from Princess Astrid proclaiming that David was her savior. Princess Astrid might have gotten bored on Planet Royal, so she snuck out of Planet Royal and did not tell the emperor.

During the process, she encountered danger outside and was rescued by David.

The Milky Way was so big, how did David run into Princess Astrid sneaking out of Planet Royal and even make her like him so much?

Several men were envious over this.

David thought about it.

This might be a good opportunity.

Many of these bounty hunters had been exploring outside and should have collected some strange and precious items.

He could ask them to take them all out and then privately paid a huge sum for them. At the same time, he could instruct them not to expose the exact price, as otherwise, Her

Royal Highness would investigate the matter afterward and make them give back what they got. In doing so, these bounty hunters would surely keep their mouths shut and not expose themselves after getting a such huge benefit.

That way, he could spend a lot of money in a short period and get a lot of lavish points.

He might even break through his current rank in one fell swoop and go directly to Infinity Rank

By then, he would be considered a giant in the Milky Way.

Once he took care of Grandmaster Tuffin, he would solve the crisis on Earth.

'What a good idea!' David thought to himself. After making the decision, David asked, "You are all elites in the bounty hunter community, so you should have explored many unknown places, right?"

The captains of the group were puzzled why David asked such a question. However, Florian replied, "David, bounty hunters not only help the empire catch the wanted criminals, but we also occasionally go out to hunt galaxy beasts and explore some unknown areas to get high rewards." "I don't have any hobbies, but I like to study strange things. If you find something you're unfamiliar with and have no use for when exploring the unknown, I hope I can buy them at a high price," David said.

'I see!

The captains breathed a sigh of relief.

They were fine after David stated his request. They automatically ignored the high price part. Princess Astrid had said something, so they did not dare to ask David for money. Over the years they had been out there, they had indeed gotten certain things they had no idea the purposes of.

VIDURITU

They could offer some of them to fool David.

"We did get some items of unknown use over the years. Since you like them, can you tell us your address? When we go back, we will send the items to you immediately. What do you think?"

"Good! Very good! As for the address, just send them to Blue Star," David replied happily. Blue Star was the planet where Mia's family lived.

However, Blue Star was not ruled by a big family or a big force like the other planets. Instead, it was being dominated by many small forces, so it seemed a bit chaotic. The Concord family was not even top ten forces on Blue Star. "Alright, we'll immediately ask someone to send the things to Blue Star after we return." "Alright, that's settled then."

After David said that, he shouted to the other millions of bounty hunters, "If you have any unknown or peculiar things, you can send them all to Blue Star. I'll buy them at a high price. I won't have you make the trip in vain."

"Did you hear that? Send all unfamiliar things to Blue Star," Astrid said coldly.

"Yes! Don't worry, Your Royal Highness! We will do as David said," millions of people said.

However, their voices sounded a little chaotic.

Basically, they asked the princess not to worry and that they would do as David said.

Her business here was basically done, and Astrid knew it was time to part ways.

She wanted David to accompany her back to Planet Royal.

However, it was a pity that David had just returned, and he still had a lot of things to do, so Astrid could not be too selfish.

"David, when you're done, you must come to Planet Royal to find me," Astrid looked at David and said with reluctance.

"Of course! Don't worry, Your Royal Highness! I will definitely go," David assured. However, he had already made up his mind after he saw Astrid's face. He could not go to Planet Royal. Princess Astrid was clearly interested in him. Wouldn't he be walking into the trap if he went to Planet Royal? Although to others, it was a blessing that had been cultivated over several lifetimes to have Princess Astrid like them. Unfortunately, David did not want this.

He still had not sorted out his own women problem!

He could not provoke Princess Astrid.

Otherwise, he would only bring himself more trouble.

“Well, I’ll go first. Goodbye David. Goodbye Mi—... I mean, Dance Fairy. I’ll be waiting for you on Planet Royal. If you don’t come, I’ll come to you quietly,” Astrid threatened softly. She did not know why she was so happy with David these days. She wanted this to continue so she could see David every day.

It was a pity that she could not give up everything and follow David like Mia because of her status.

Astrid could not give up her identity as the princess, and it was also not something she could give up even if she wanted to.

If she did this, how sad would her father and mother be? The same went for her brothers, who had spoiled her since childhood.

Besides, Astrid would also be sad to leave them. ‘If only David could stay at Planet Royal all the time.’

At this moment, Princess Astrid actually envied Mia a little.

She could do whatever she wanted and not worry about other things. “Please don’t! Your Royal Highness, you have already encountered danger from sneaking out from Planet Royal this time. Don’t do this again. We will come to Planet Royal to see you,” David quickly persuaded. He was terrified that this girl would sneak out again.

What if the emperor claimed he abducted and sold his daughter when that happened?

He could not defeat the emperor, so it might be hard for him to escape. “Alright, it’s settled then. I’ll go first, you guys can finish your work quickly, and then come to Planet Royal to find me,” Astrid said. “Of course! Goodbye, Your Royal Highness,” David said. “Goodbye, Your Royal Highness!” Mia followed suit.

Astrid gave David a reluctant look, then turned around and said, “Atlas, let’s go!” Then, she headed towards the luxury spaceship carved with the word ‘Barlowe’. “Yes, Your Royal Highness, After Atlas finished speaking, he followed behind Astrid. Before leaving, he gave David a deep look.

It was unknown if it was because of David’s relationship with Princess Astrid or because he saw some of David’s unknown secrets. At this moment, Ms. Madrigal and Emerald also entered the luxurious ship. “Farewell, Your Royal Highness!”

“Farewell, Your Royal Highness!” “Farewell, Your Royal Highness!” The luxury spaceship disappeared from in front of the crowd amidst the farewell.

“David, we should go back now as well. Don’t worry, we’ll send your goods to Blue Star very soon,” Florian said courteously.. “Thank you all,” David answered. “You’re too polite.” The captains of the bounty hunter groups looked at David and turned to walk back to their Galaxy Warships. Then, they left.

The other millions of bounty hunters also left one after another.
