

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1086

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1086

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1086

In short, Erwin could not get into contact with Burke.

'I'm doomed!

Erwin collapsed to the ground.

No wonder Burke contacted him every day from the start to ask about the Concord family and also asked him not to kill everyone in one go. Burke asked Erwin to take it slow and let the Concord family experience hopelessness. Recently, Burke did not contact him, and Erwin did not dare contact Burke himself.

From the looks of it now, something might have gone wrong.

To be honest, Erwin already had a bad feeling when David said Fergus and Burke's names in disdain.

There were not a lot of people who dared to look down on those two. David definitely had a strong identity. Now that he was sending Mia back, the two indeed had a good relationship.

Furthermore, Erwin killed so many of the Concord family members. Could David let him and the Gatsby family go?

No way!

Erwin could not just wait for his death. He had to save himself.

Erwin stood up at once.

Outside the black-horned ship, Mia was introducing her family to David. "David, this is my father Truman, my uncles, Vash, Bastian, and Caspian."

"Hello, Sirs." David greeted politely.

"No, no, no! David, you can't do that. You should call us by our names. You shouldn't be so humble with us," Truman quickly said.

Everyone could tell that David was not an ordinary person. They did not dare to take advantage of their seniority in front of a direct descendant of a powerful family.

David would only be so polite with someone more respectable than him.

They were not qualified for that.

“Sir, you can’t say that. Mia is my friend, so I should show you respect.” “Yeah, Father. David is my friend, so please don’t be so humble,” Mia said from one side. Mia would not dare to say that if it was another person with status as high as David’s.

However, after getting along with David, she knew David was an easygoing person who didn’t follow so many rules.

“Well, David, we won’t decline anymore,” Truman said.

He was overjoyed on the inside.

He knew what his daughter was like.

She had never brought a man home before. This was the first time she brought a man back, so their relationship was surely not ordinary. Plus, the look in his daughter’s eyes did not lie.

Truman liked David more and more.

This kid looked pretty good. He looked young and energetic. Moreover, he was powerful and had a high status, so he was perfect for his daughter. Truman stopped harping over how David addressed him. In the future, he might just call him father-in-law! “Sir, you shouldn’t call me David then. Just call me Dave. From now on, I will need to trouble you all.”

“What are you saying, David? You can just tell us what you need, and we’ll do it properly.”

“That’s right. If you need anything, just tell us. We won’t say no as long as it’s within our power.”

“Thank you, Sirs.” Mia looked at the few who were getting along nicely. In that instance, she felt happiness rising in her heart.

She had been waiting and longing for this.

David was definitely God’s best present for Mia. He did not put on airs like the other children from powerful families.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1087

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1087

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1087

As David was exchanging pleasantries with the Concord family, Erwin's voice came from the black-horned ship. "David, Dance Fairy, we don't want to be your enemy. Even though you lose some of your family members, they are not your direct descendants but some subordinates and administrators. On the other hand, we have lost the head of a younger generation. Let's not look into this and let bygones be bygones. What do you think? From now on, we will get along just like back then on Blue Star. We will pay back ten times the assets you sold at a meager price. What do you two think about this?"

Clearly, Erwin was trying to reconcile with the Concord family after he said this. The Concord family members below were crying tears of joy. They had experienced hell and heaven. Just now, their lives were being threatened, and they might have been killed at any second. In a blink of an eye, the Gatsby family apologized and wanted to pay back their loss tenfolds. This changed because of the young man Mia from the Concord family brought back. However, everyone understood that the young man had a compelling identity, and that was why the Gatsby family and the big shot behind the Gatsby family did not dare to provoke him.

Hence, they chose to sue for peace.

The Concord family members at the scene looked at David.

They had waited for this day. Miss Mia lived up to her expectations and finally found a strong backer. Their family was about to take off.

Truman, his brothers, and Mia looked at David.

The brothers never expected the Gatsby family to ask for a truce voluntarily and agreed to pay back the Concord family's losses tenfolds.

However, this had actually happened.

Even so, Truman did not dare to agree too quickly. Instead, he let David decide for him.

They would not say anything, no matter what David decided.

Of course, Mia refused to settle so easily.

If she did not make it back in time or if she was a little late, her family would be doomed.

She still could not calm down until now.

Mia did not know how she would cope if her family, her siblings with whom she grew up together, and her parents were gone. She might have been willing to anything in order to avenge her family. "Let bygones be bygones? Get along? What a nice plan you have, but have you ever thought that if we're slightly late, what would have happened to the Concord family? How many of them would be left? Would you want to reconcile so easily if you were in their shoes?" David asked with a cold smirk. "David, we were instructed by others to do this, and we don't have a grudge against the Concord family. You know Lord Lutgen's identity and status. We couldn't afford to fight back, so we could only listen to him. If we angered him, we wouldn't be able to withstand his rage, "" Erwin explained. Now that things had come to this point, Erwin had no choice but to name the person behind him just so his family could survive.

Even if he only said Lord Lutgen and did not mention who, everyone on the scene could tell who it was.

It was one of the people David guessed just now: Burke Lutgen.

When Mia heard this name, a fire filled her chest.

She did not expect it to be Burke.

She thought it was Fergus. After all, David crippled Fergus, and his life was over. So, he must have been unwilling and wanted to seek revenge. At the end of the day, she was the reason for this.

If it were Fergus, Mia would still be able to accept it.

However, it turned out to be Burke, whom she did not have a grudge with.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1088

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1088

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1088

Not only did he make David a wanted criminal, he even instructed the Gatsby family to attack the Concord secretly. This person was completely crazy and ridiculous, and he was so extreme.

If Princess Astrid were not with them, David would not be able to escape the empire's pursuit.

Even if David's background were shocking, it would not work before the empire.

Also, the Concord family would be destroyed.

“Save it. Do you think I don’t know what you’re thinking? You want to rely on Burke and increase your family’s social status. Right now, he can’t even save himself, and you want to shed all blame by blaming him. Do you think there are such good opportunities in the world? Since you did this, you must be prepared to pay the price,” David asked sarcastically.

The scene fell silent.

Erwin seemed to be pondering how he should answer. If he did not answer properly right now, he might drag his family into an abyss with no hope of reprieve.

Although he did not know David’s identity, Erwin knew his family could not afford to offend him.

He could tell that David was not simple from how he killed Sonny so silently and without leaving any traces.

Besides, he called Burke and Fergus by their names, and he could also guess that one of them was the one who contacted the Gatsby family.

Hence, David should be far superior to the two. 1

“David, we were wrong for this. What should we do to get you to spare us? As long as you tell me, and as long as it’s within my power, we will do our best to fulfill you. Please spare us.”

Erwin had no choice but to lower himself and plead humbly for the sake of his family.

“You shouldn’t ask me that. You should ask the family that you almost destroyed. I won’t pursue this if you can get them to forgive you.” Not long after David said that, Erwin spoke.

“Lord Truman, we were wrong for this. We offended your family and caused you massive losses. You can name your requests, and we’ll definitely fulfill them. From now on, my family will fully support whatever your family does in Blue Star.”

This was clearly directed to Lord Truman, the head of the Concord family.

Truman did not know how to answer.

So many people died, so he would not be reconciled if he let the Gatsby family go just like this.

However, he could not figure out what David had in his heart. Therefore, he did not say anything for a while. David noticed Truman's dilemma, so he said, "Mr. Truman, since he's said that, you should just tell them what you want. If you still can't accept it and feel like you've let down the people who died, I can destroy the Gatsby family for you."

After David said that, his energy skyrocketed, crashing straight into the dozens of black horned ships in the sky. The Gatsby family only felt irresistible energy washing over them.

Before they could respond, they started feeling dizzy.

All of the black-horned ships began tumbling in the sky.

Then...

Boom!

Everyone at the scene heard countless explosions.

A few moments later, Erwin's ship was the only one left among the dozens of black-horned ships owned by the Gatsby family.

The rest had all turned into ashes.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1089

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1089

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1089

'What?'

The Concord family stared at what happened with their jaws dropped.

They could not believe what they were seeing.

'What happened just now? 'How did the Gatsby family's black-horned ships explode suddenly?' This was beyond their imaginations. 'W-W-Who is David?'

They did not see him so anything.

He had only stood there after he came out.

After Sonny cursed at him, he died subtly and ineffably.

Now, David also destroyed the Gatsby family's black-horned ships.

However, he never moved this entire time!

'How did he do that?'

Indeed, small potatoes like them could never guess what a big shot like him was up to.

'David looks so young too. What kind of monster did Miss Mia bring back? "Our family is going to take off.'

Truman and his brothers were shaking in excitement.

Just now, even if David aimed his energy at the black-horned ships in the sky, they could feel it as they were nearby.

Even if they felt a little of it, they felt like they were in an ice cave.

'It was so powerful!

'We can't resist it at all!'

The Concord family was thrilled and excited.

However, the Gatsby family was in despair. As Erwin watched what happened, he was stunned. He could not believe this was real.

David destroyed more than ten black-horned ships! Those were the reason that the Gatsby family was able to move unhindered in Blue Star and become the number one family, but now they were gone!

The elites from the Gatsby family onboard were all gone too.

One-third of the Gatsby family's power was gone in a blink of an eye.

This was a catastrophic strike to a family that wanted to dominate the entire Blue Star.

This could even threaten the Gatsby family's position on Blue Star.

Furthermore, Erwin also felt an unequal burst of energy overwhelming him just now.

'I can't resist this! 'I can't!'

As he was faced with such a powerful presence, Erwin felt helpless. The Gatsby family had always controlled everything on Blue Star. They knew the world out there was huge, with too many powerful forces.

That was why the Gatsby family rarely ventured out of Blue Star, as they feared offending someone they could not resist.

Blue Star was on the edge of the Royal Region and lacked resources. Plus, it was a low-class citizen planet, so no major force would be interested in it.

David was the first big shot here.

When he came, he displayed his power to the Gatsby family, the number one family of Blue Star, and showed them intense helplessness and defeat. David stood there quietly, like he was not the one who destroyed dozens of black-horned ships. This was nothing to David, who had experienced the turbulence of life. If he showed all of his partial Infinity Rank power, he would destroy Blue Star in the blink of an eye.

Now, he was just destroying some black-horned ships, which was nothing to him. He had even destroyed one of the Tuffin family's Milky Way Battleships previously.

"Mr. Truman, are you satisfied with this? If you're not, take me to the Gatsby family before they return to their senses. I can get completely eradicate them," David said calmly.

Truman was so shocked that he was already speechless.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1090

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1090

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1090

At this moment, the only remaining black-horned ship's hatch opened.

Erwin walked out with the remaining dozens of elites.

They did not stop in the air. Instead, they descended in front of David and the others.

Then, they fell to their knees.

Erwin burst into tears and said, "David, Lord Truman, Dance Fairy, we were blinded with obsession and believed what Burke said, so that's why we attacked you. Now, we've realized our mistakes, and we've paid enough for that. Please spare us. The hundreds of thousands of family members of the Gatsby family will be eternally grateful for you.

From now on, we will do everything you say and be your affiliated family. Please forgive us and give us a chance to correct ourselves.”

“Please forgive us and give us a chance to correct ourselves.”

The other elite of the Gatsby family spoke as well. Now was not the time to worry about their prestige.

This was the only way to stay alive.

If Truman said no, David would turn a family of hundreds of thousands of people to dust in mere seconds.

No one doubted if David could do so. From what he did just now, such a feat would just be negligible for him. He could destroy more than ten black-horned ships without moving a muscle, so what would happen if he acted?

Who could resist?

For the sake of the hundreds and thousands of lives, Erwin could only kneel and beg for mercy.

He could only plead for the Concord family to spare them. David did not say anything. He let Truman decide. He would respect Truman no matter if he decided to let them go or kill them.

After all, this was the Concord family’s business, and it was their family member who died.

He could only help and not decide for them.

If the Gatsby family killed an earthling, David would not hesitate to take action to destroy them.

Earth was David’s weakness, and he would not allow anyone to touch it. If not, they would suffer his crazy retaliation. Even if the Milky Way Empire emperor hurt Earth, David would hide in the dark like a venomous snake. Then, he would kill the emperor and overthrow the Milky Way Empire once he had enough power. These were his principles. He could not care less about some things. However, some things were his weakness, and no one could touch them. There was a quote in Somerland that suited David. ‘Anyone who touches the weakness of a dragon will die.’

Truman knew it was time for him to speak.

As he looked at Lord Erwin of Blue Star, who previously had so much power on his knees, crying and begging for forgiveness, Truman felt like he was in a dream. To be honest, Truman could not ask David to destroy the Gatsby family and kill hundreds of thousands of people.

However, the memory of the Gatsby family killing his family members mercilessly just now was still fresh in his mind.

Truman would not be willing to let the Gatsby family go just like that. In the end, he decided to accept Erwin's proposal. He would make the Gatsby family his affiliated family. The Gatsby family would give the Concord family everything they had; from now on, they would take orders from the Concord family.

Truman knew this was a corrupt practice. Still, if David broke up with Mia after some conflicts, and stopped being the Concord family's backer, the Gatsby family would surely seek revenge. When that happened, the Gatsby family would not be merciful to the Concord family. However, they had no choice. Truman could not kill the hundreds of thousands of Gatsby family members and solve this problem once and for all.

Hence, this was the only way.

He hoped his daughter could stay forever with David, at least for over a hundred years! After over a hundred years of rapid development for the Concord family, and over a hundred years of weakening for the Gatsby family, their strengths might be reversed. When that happened, the Concord family would no longer be scared of the Gatsby family.