Chapter 1486

'Has something gone wrong with his brain because he's been in seclusion for so long?'

However, the middle-aged attendant continued to explain patiently, "Master David, in other words, the seven fairies in the Iridescent Sect represent the highest standard of women in the entire Star Kingdom, and they are only slightly less talented than the seven high priestesses. As the saying goes, all men love beautiful women. So, Master David, don't you want to see them? This is the dream of countless men in Star Kingdom."

David finally understood.

The seven fairies were the best among all the less talented women in Star Kingdom selected by the Iridescent Sect.

Due to this, they would be trained to serve the distinguished guests who came to the Iridescent Sect.

As for their performances, it would be nothing more than singing and dancing!

What else?

To put it bluntly, these seven fairies were equivalent to the famous singers and dancers in Somerland during ancient times on Earth.

They were beautiful, had good figures, and were good at singing and dancing.

It seemed that the saying 'heroes had a weakness for the charms of a beautiful woman' was applicable no matter where David was.

Even a high-level civilization like Star Kingdom was no exception.

However, David was genuinely not interested in this.

"You can spare the show. You should find me a room! I'm not very interested in this," David said without the slightest interest.

'Um...'

The middle-aged attendant looked at David and felt pity in her heart.

'Is such a handsome, energetic young man not interested in women?'

'Could it be that he is still a virgin who has never been in contact with a woman?'

This kind of situation was not uncommon in Star Kingdom. Some direct descendants of powerful forces who were discovered to be gifted since childhood would be forcibly asked to go into seclusion, and they could only come out after meeting their sect's requirements.

Therefore, they might have lived for hundreds of years, or even thousands of years, without having any contact with women.

This was most likely the case with David.

After all, there were not many people who could be so valued by Elder Red at such a young age.

“Master David, don’t be in such a hurry to refuse. In addition to the performances of the seven fairies, the food we serve is also top-notch in the Iridescent Sect. Some are specially cultivated edible plants, and some are wild beasts hunted in the wilderness by the sect’s hunting team. They will greatly nourish the body of even Eternals.”

The middle-aged attendant was keeping her eyes on David as she talked to him.

David wanted to say no.

Although the other party said that eating the food would be beneficial to Eternals, he really did not need it. What David wanted now was to find out how to spend money to get lavish points.

Everything else that was useful to Eternals was useless to him, or not very useful, so there was no need to waste energy on it.

However, when he saw the middle-aged woman staring at him, David changed his mind.

What he wanted now was to keep a low profile and be hidden from the crowd rather than stand out.

If he did that, he would inevitably attract the attention of others.

“Okay! Then let me see the Iridescent Sect’s so-called seven fairies and delicacies. I want to see whether they are as rumored by the outside world.”

David’s sudden change of mind surprised the middle-aged attendant.

She still had something to say, but it turned out that she did not need to.

Now, she did not know whether David was genuine about his politeness.

“Okay! Master David, please wait a moment, I’ll go and make arrangements right away.”

The middle-aged woman left after she finished speaking.

David continued to sit in the VIP room, waiting for the food and performance of the seven fairies.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1486

While David was waiting in the VIP room, Celeste brought Celia and the other women to the meeting hall of the Iridescent Sect.

She did not stop and did not ask Celia and the others to wait outside, instead, she directly led them into the meeting hall together.

Nova, the head of the Iridescent Sect, was already waiting here.

Nova felt a little surprised at first when she saw Celeste bringing the women inside.

When she spotted Selena, her eyes lit up, and she began to study her carefully.

Slowly, her expression became more and more surprised.

When she was on Earth, Celeste could see that Selena was special, and Nova was stronger than Celeste, so she could naturally see that as well.

That was why she showed a surprised expression.

After studying Selena, Nova moved on to the others and went through each one.

Apart from Selena, Goldie was also very good, but the others were much worse.

“Lady Dream, what do you think? I brought back two future leaders to the Iridescent Sect this time, how should you thank me?” Celeste asked with a smile.

“Elder Red, you’ve worked hard. You are still worrying about the continuation of the sect when you go out to perform missions. Did you also find Lorraine?” Nova also asked with a grin..

Although she was several thousand years older than Celeste, the relationship between the two had always been very good.

“Yes! Has Master announced that she has accepted Lori as a disciple?”

“She did not just announce it, she has also sent people out to distribute invitations. The ceremony will be held in three months. All major forces in Star Kingdom are invited. The four reputable elders will come out at the same time to accept Lorraine as their disciple. This has never happened since the establishment of the Iridescent Sect. Who is this Lorraine person?”

‘Indeed!’

Celeste knew that her teacher and the others would surely make a lot of fanfare after accepting Lorraine as their disciple.

The four reputable elders also came out of retreat at the same time to show the strength of the Iridescent Sect.

After all, they had not appeared for tens of thousands of years.

All forces in Star Kingdom knew that there were four reputable elders at Saint Realm in the Iridescent Sect.

However, who knew if something had happened to them over time?

Therefore, the Saints of every big force would show up and do something to prove that they were still alive every once in a while.

The four reputable elders probably wanted to take advantage of this to let the major forces of Star Kingdom see the true strength of the Iridescent Sect so that they could guarantee the Iridescent Sect's

Chapter 1487

While David was waiting in the VIP room, Celeste brought Celia and the other women to the meeting hall of the Iridescent Sect.

She did not stop and did not ask Celia and the others to wait outside, instead, she directly led them into the meeting hall together.

Nova, the head of the Iridescent Sect, was already waiting here.

"Elder Red, you've worked hard. You are still worrying about the continuation of the sect when you go out to perform missions. Did you also find Lorraine?" Nova also asked with a grin..

Although she was several thousand years older than Celeste, the relationship between the two had always been very good.

All forces in Star Kingdom knew that there were four reputable elders at Saint Realm in the Iridescent Sect.

However, who knew if something had happened to them over time?

Therefore, the Saints of every big force would show up and do something to prove that they were still alive every once in a while.

The four reputable elders probably wanted to take advantage of this to let the major forces of Star Kingdom see the true strength of the Iridescent Sect so that they could guarantee the Iridescent Sect's safety for tens of thousands of years to come.

"Lori's physical condition is the same as mine, so that's why Master and the others accepted her as their disciple. I'm just a half-finished product, and I'm already a discarded good now. They probably want to gather the strength of four people to refine Lori into a finished product. After all, they already have the experience."

Nova understood.

It turned out that Lorraine also had an alluring body.

No wonder the four reputable elders cared about her so much.

They were the same when they found out that Celeste had an alluring body.

It was just that Celeste said that she was already a discarded good.

'Is what Nek said true then?'

"Elder Red, are you saying you are..." Nova stared at Celeste and asked with concern.

"It's damaged now and now I'm reduced from a genius to an ordinary person," Celeste said and forced a smile.

'Indeed!'

Nova sighed inwardly.

'Not everyone can accept going from a peerless genius who became a Sovereign Ranker at less than two thousand years old to an ordinary person.'

'I hope Elder Red won't be too sad about this.'

Nova did not know how to comfort Celeste about this.

Chapter 1488

"Elder Red, your foundation has been laid very solidly. Even if you lose the advantage of your body now and have to train yourself step by step, there is still a chance for you to make progress in the future. At most, it will take more time. Given your current age, you still have a lot of time before the catastrophe of Eternal Realm," Nova thought for a while and said.

Now she was dying to ask how Celeste's body was activated, but it seemed a bit inappropriate.

Wouldn't she be sprinkling salt on Celeste's wounds if she asked this now?

She would wait a while before asking.

"I know! Lady Dream, you don't need to worry about me. I am fine now, and I won't give up on myself just because of this."

"That's good! Elder Red, you are the backbone of the Iridescent Sect so you can't let anything happen to you."

"By the way, Lady Dream, I brought these ladies back to join the Iridescent Sect. Her name is Selena and she is very talented. I believe you can already tell. If you agree with me, you should let her be your disciple. What do you think?" Celeste asked, pulling Selena forward.

Nova's eyes lit up when she heard that. Then, she blurted out.

"Really?"

It was a real surprise.

She did not expect Celeste to let her take Selena as her disciple.

Although Nova liked Selena very much when she first saw her, she also thought that since she did not have any disciples yet, so it would be great if she could accept Selena as a disciple.

However, this was just a fantasy.

Nova knew that if Celeste did not agree, there was nothing she could do.

Even as the head, she could not force Selena to be her disciple.

After all, this was someone Celeste found from the outside, not to mention Celeste's teacher was one of the reputable elders.

Using force would not work.

Nova was still wondering if she should muster up the courage to mention it to Celeste later.

She wanted to see if she could pay a price so that Celeste would give Selena to her.

However, she felt that there would be no reason Celeste would be willing to release such an outstanding woman like Selena.

Unexpectedly, Celeste proposed it herself.

This delighted Nova.

"Of course! Lady Dream, you also know my current situation. I have lost my physical advantage, and I need to work hard to cultivate, so I don't have extra time to teach them," Celeste said.

"In that case, I would like to thank you for sending me such an excellent disciple." Nova seemed a little happy.

"But Lady Dream, I still have one condition."

"Elder Red, do tell."

"Lady Dream, you can accept Selena as your personal disciple and let her inherit your legacy but I hope you can also accept them as your disciples in name," Celeste pointed to Celia and the others behind her.

'Um...'

Nova looked at Celia and the women behind Celeste.

Aside from Selena, there was also one more who was slightly better.

The others were just average.

They needed to rely on Celeste if they wanted to join the Iridescent Sect.

However, it would be hard for Nova to take them as her disciples.

As the head of the Iridescent Sect, would Nova lack disciples?

It was just that her standards for accepting disciples were too high.

Selena was up to her standards, but the rest of them were far behind.

Nova would not recruit disciples at random.

Once she did, she had to be responsible for them.

Nova just wanted Selena.

As for the others, she was not willing to take them even in name.
