I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 801

At the border of Somerland.

Deep in the old-growth forest.

At the edge of Somerland territory.

A team consisting of hundreds of people was moving fast.

The martial artists fended off any wild or venomous beasts around, while the women and children were protected in the middle.

They were the Dominic family and the Star Alliance who were about to flee Somerland.

After learning that Mason was not dead and Silver Face, who was suspected to be from Somerland, had severely damaged the Mosley family, one of the five major forces in the world, they were afraid.

Somerland actually had two supreme powerhouses at peak God Rank. Thus, it was on its way to becoming the leader of the five major forces in the world.

this time, trying to start with ordinary people and shake the foundation of Somerland.

They were digging their own graves.

Just the thought of this sent shivers down their spines.

Both forces were frightened, and after some negotiation, they chose to cooperate and group up for support.

They wanted to see if they could escape Somerland together before Somerland took them seriously.

In this situation, they would never be allowed to flourish in Somerland, so they could only be cowardly.

At the same time, they would always have to worry about the danger of getting exterminated if Somerland found out where they were hiding.

After all, what they had done recently had indeed violated Somerland's bottom line.

They knew they would not succeed if they were to vie for peace.

Therefore, their only choice was to quietly escape from Somerland.

As long as they left Somerland, they would have all the freedom in the world, and they would not be living in fear every day.

This was their only chance.

Hence, the two forces decided to leave Somerland as soon as possible.

They chose a very remote location in Somerland, and from there, they would enter the old-growth forest.

After walking for half a month, they would be able to leave Somerland and reach a big country nearby.

There were no peak God Rankers in big countries.

Meanwhile, there were three late God Rankers in their team.

reached that place.

They might even get a chance to strengthen themselves once again.

It was indeed very troublesome for a big family to move collectively.

Even if they gave up everything, it would still take a long time.

This was because a family would never consist of only elite martial artists, there would also be a lot of elders, sickly, women, and children.

These people represented the hopes for the family to prosper, as well as the family's direct descendants, so they could not be abandoned.

At the same time, when the team was too large, they would have to worry about their location being exposed and being chased by Somerland.

Hence, they had to be careful, and they were moving very slowly.

If it were just the elite martial artists of a family, it would actually be very simple to leave Somerland.

They would just divide and spread out.

Somerland would not have that much energy to hunt them down.

“Mr. Cillian, Mr. Trey, we’ll be able to leave Somerland in three days. No one should come after us anymore. It seems that Somerland hasn’t found us yet. I haven’t had a good night’s sleep these days and I’ve always been careful, but now I can finally breathe a sigh of relief.”

During the break, the head of Star Sect, Elton Autumns who was a late God Ranker said to a middle-aged man and an old man.

The two people opposite him were the two late God Rankers of the Dominic family.

They were the head of the Dominic family, Cillian Dominic and the senior elder of the Dominic family, Trey Dominic.

“Mr. Autumns, don’t take this lightly. There are two peak God Rankers in Somerland. Any one of them can wipe out our entire army. We must leave the territory of Somerland completely before we can be sure that we’re safe,” said Cillian, the head of the Dominic family.

“Mr. Cillian, you are too cautious. We have been acting like cowards these days. We don’t even dare show ourselves for fear of attracting the attention of Somerland and having them destroy us. Now that we have reached the border of Somerland, we can leave Somerland immediately. There’s no way anyone will be chasing us anymore,” Elton said with a smile.

“It’s not that I’m too careful, but the peak God Rankers are too terrifying, so I have no choice. Even if we leave Somerland, we still have to lay low for a while. It’s easy for a supreme powerhouse at peak God Rank to kill us all,” Cillian shook his head and said.

“I was also about to discuss this with you, Mr. Cillian. After leaving Somerland, should we part ways or continue working together?” Elton asked,

“What do you think, Mr. Autumns?” Cillian asked

rhetorically

“What we have done in Somerland has violated their bottom

let us go. I think we should continue to cooperate and bring in some of Somerland’s hostile forces, such as the Haran family. Then, we can form an alliance to scare Somerland. After all, even if we are at a disadvantage, two peak God Rankers can’t possibly guard the entirety Somerland’s huge area. There will be too many gaps in their monitoring.”

Elton spoke what was on his mind.

He felt that it was too dangerous to be alone.

Even if they could escape this time, it only meant that Somerland had not realized that they were leaving. Hence, they did not have time to deal with them.

Otherwise , the peak God Rankers would hunt them down, and there would be no place for them even at the ends of the earth.

They would only have a chance if they grouped up for support.

“That’s right. Mr. Autumns, you spoke my mind. Somerland has two peak God Rankers, but they also care too much about ordinary people, which is their weakness. As long as we make good use of it, they will not dare to do anything to us. I also gave them a little warning when I left, which I believe they will find later.”

“Oh? What warning did you leave behind?” Elton asked.

“When I entered the old-growth forest, I took my people to a village, stole all the food and women, and then killed the remaining people before burning them.”

“What? Mr. Cillian, you... you... How dare you? If Somerland finds out, they will definitely not let us go with the importance they place on ordinary people!” Elton asked, his “By the time they found out, we would have already left Somerland. This is to give Somerland a warning. If they don’t wipe us out when coming after us, the common people in Somerland will become the targets for our revenge. I believe they will know how to proceed on this,” Cillian said indifferently.

“But...”

Elton wanted to say something.

However, Cillian interrupted him directly, “There are no buts, Mr. Autumns. The things we do in Somerland already put us at odds with Somerland, and there will be no room for return anymore. If we have the mentality of burning out boats, Somerland will not dare to do anything to us if they are not confident. Otherwise, they will have no way to resist when martial artists sneak into Somerland and take revenge.”

“Okay, since that’s the case, I’ll make this bet with you, Mr. Cillian. It’s impossible to reconcile with Somerland anyway.”

“May we have a pleasant cooperation.”

Cillian stretched out his right hand.

“May we have a pleasant cooperation.”

Elton also stretched out his right hand.

Slap!

The heads of the two forces gave each other a high-five.

Foreshadowing that the two forces would form an alliance to jointly fight against Somerland.

Suddenly, a cold and bone-piercing voice entered everyone’s ears. “You two look like you’re having fun.”
