

Married At First Sight Chapter 3570

Married At First Sight Chapter 3570 – Kevin had always looked up to Zachary, both professionally and personally, and followed his example in every way.

“Your company is closing for the holidays soon, right? Will you spend New Year at my house?” Kevin asked Hayden gently.

Hayden replied, “Not this year, but on the third day of the New Year, my family will visit yours to pay our respects. On the second day, we’ll be with my mom as she visits her family.”

Both families already considered each other in-laws.

Kevin smiled, “That sounds good. After New Year, when the Civil Affairs Bureau opens, let’s get our marriage certificate. It’ll take about two months to plan the wedding, so we can have it in March when the weather’s perfect.”

“Just plan it out.”

The families had already discussed the wedding dates. Callum and Camryn’s wedding would happen first, followed by Kevin and Hayden’s.

Other brothers like Evan, who were of marriageable age, hadn’t found partners yet. They’d likely have to wait until next year.

The matriarch was overjoyed. Aside from Evan, the others were proactive in pursuing their relationships.

When Kevin’s wedding comes around, Serenity’s baby would be almost due.

Thinking of all the happy events around New Year made the matriarch smile in her sleep.

Kevin escorted Hayden back to the Queen family hotel, taking her upstairs to the presidential suite. He even followed her inside and shut the door, ensuring privacy from the bodyguards.

Once Hayden was inside, the bodyguards would head to their rooms on the next floor, ready to assist if needed.

Hayden urged Kevin to go home and rest, but she sat on the sofa and leaned against him as he sat beside her.

Kevin naturally wrapped his arm around her, and they leaned on each other.

Hayden had rarely been this close before.

During a recent vacation, when Kevin and Hayden spent more time together, Hayden finally relaxed, showing a softer side, which pleased Kevin.

He understood Hayden's strong, independent nature. Having taken over her family's company so early, she was mature and steady, with a cool temperament. For Kevin, getting her to soften even a little was a victory.

He never pressured her to change because she never demanded anything from him. He loved her for who she was, accepting her strengths and quirks.

To Kevin, Hayden was nearly perfect. He loved her deeply.

As he held her, Kevin looked down at her, his eyes filled with tenderness.

Feeling his affectionate gaze, Hayden looked up at him.
