

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 1713

• • •

Chapter 1713

'Hmm?

"What is that smell?

'It stinks!'

Archimedes suddenly smelled the pungent smell of urine and quickly pinched his nose.

Then, he looked around to find the source of the smell.

Finally, when he looked down, he saw the puddle under his feet.

'Is this... mine?'"

Then, he lifted his head to see everyone's shocked faces.

Archimedes' face turned white.

He was the first – in-line heir of the Lightfoot family and the future head of the family. However, he wet his pants after being scared by a random unknown brat in front of so many people.

At this moment, the grievance and anger in Archimedes' heart shot straight to his head. His eyes were red, and he almost passed out after he stumbled.

He could not accept this.

Once word of this got out, how would he still have the face to become the first-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family?

How would his family view him?

How would the outsiders view him?

This would not only bring shame upon himself, this would also bring shame upon the entire Lightfoot family.

Even if he became the head of the family in the future or even a Sacred Saint, the fact that he wet his pants would never be erased.

This would follow him forever and be the biggest shame of his life.

“What should I do?”

Archimedes wondered frantically.

If word about this got out, his life would be over.

‘No! I can’t let this happen.’

Archimedes wanted to kill everyone at the scene and leave no one behind. That way, none of what happened today would get out.

However, he dismissed this idea after a second.

It was not that Archimedes had a guilty conscience and could not do it.

However, Bernard was only a late Sovereign Ranker, so it was impossible for him to kill so many beginner Sovereign Rankers and the two mid-Sovereign Rankers at the scene silently.

Moreover, this place was so close to Treasure Trove.

If Treasure Trove was alarmed, news of him wetting his pants would be known all over the Central Sacred Continent tomorrow.

Then, it would also spread across Star Kingdom.

If that happened, there would be no turning back.

He would be the latest piece of gossip in town.

Archimedes would never let this happen.

David only used a very short time to force

Archimedes to back away, release the energy of his Evil-Splitting Sword, and get away.

Now, everyone on the 9th floor was still in shock.

The young man they thought was the most insignificant and weak not only escaped from the hands of the late Sovereign Ranker from the Lightfoot family, he even scared the first-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family into wetting his pants.

He had challenged the worldview of everyone at the scene.

The Lightfoot family was such a big family. They were top-ranked even in Star Kingdom, let alone in the Central Sacred Continent.

However, their first-in-line heir and the future head was so cowardly.

He would become a laughing stock if word about this got out.

At the same time, everyone was lamenting about how strong David was

Even if the sword's energy did not target them, they could still feel how dangerous it was.

If it could scare the first-in-line heir of a big family into wetting his pants, it was surely not that simple.

Some of the young women at the scene watched blankly as David left.

They felt remorseful!

If they knew how strong David was, they would have gone up and flirted with him.

However, he was gone now, and they did not even get his name, let alone his contact details. Where would they go find him?

What a pity.

Angelica Dolce, Eamon's junior who was sitting next to him, stared at the stairs. A look of excitement in her eyes.

She muttered inside her heart, 'This person is so handsome and so powerful. I want to get to know him and become his friend.'

At this moment, David was already long gone.

• • •

