Novel Chapter 2968 –

Joanna didn't understand what Hayden meant.

Although she was single and had never been in a relationship, Hayden's current attitude was very gentle. The gentleness gave her an illusion.

She felt that Hayden seemed to want to stay with her for a while.

"I... When I went out, I told my mother to bring her food home at night." Joanna was a little flustered, and answered irrelevantly.

But Hayden understood exactly what she meant.

What she meant was that she had nothing to do in the afternoon and could stay outside for a while.

"I know a restaurant that tastes good." Hayden recommended it to her.

Joanna smiled and said, "It's too early to pack dinner."

"That's right. How do you spend your weekends?" Hayden asked. He was a person who had no interest in life at all. He didn't know how to go shopping with women. So He could only ask Joanna's opinion.

Who knew Joanna had a straightforward private life as well?

"I sleep at home on weekends." Joanna said. She rarely came out to play on weekends.

But the reason why she rarely came out to play was different from Hayden's.

She was simply reluctant to spend money, so she stayed at home.

"Don't you have any friends?" Hayden didn't doubt the authenticity of her words.

"Yes! Juliette is my friend. Sometimes she calls me out to eat and go shopping." Joanna said vividly, and asked, "Hayden, how about you?"

Hayden hesitated for a few seconds before replying, "It's the same as you. I don't really like being outside."

The smile on Joanna's face froze in embarrassment: "Then why don't you go back now? I'll just stroll around, and the time will pass in no time."

Hayden didn't expect her to be misunderstood by his words.

Hayden: "My parents don't want me to continue living the way I was before. So let me go shopping with you!"

"Oh... In fact, everyone has their own living conditions. Just feel comfortable. If you don't like socializing, you can make it clear to your parents. I think they are so sensible, and they will definitely not say it again." Joanna was afraid that Hayden would be wronged by going shopping with her.

"I want to hang out with you voluntarily." Hayden was afraid that if he didn't explain clearly, she would force him to go home. "I don't have any friends. If I want to go out for a walk, I don't know who to ask. Because the people I usually meet are colleagues or partners."

A smile bloomed on Joanna's face: "Then what do you want to go shopping? I'll go with you!"

Hayden: "I don't know what I want to shop. Let's see what you want to shop!"

Joanna racked her brains and had a flash of inspiration: "Why don't we go to the barbershop to wash our hair first!"

Her scalp was a little itchy, and she really wanted to wash her hair. But after making this suggestion, she regretted it again.

It's not good to ask Hayden to wait for her to wash her hair at the barbershop.

"Okay." Hayden agreed to her suggestion, "There is a barbershop over there."

Joanna: "..."

The two went to the barber shop just like that.

When Joanna was washing her hair, she repeatedly asked Hayden if he wanted to wash his hair too, but Hayden refused.

He washed his hair in the shower last night.

While sitting and waiting, Hayden turned on his phone and saw a message from Layla: [Brother! Have you seen the concert? How do you feel? Are you still together or separated?]

Hayden replied: [She is washing her hair.]

Layla: [?????] [What are you doing?]

Hayden: [In the barber shop, she washes her hair while I sit.]

Layla:[!!!]

She had never seen a date like this!

Hayden looked at the string of exclamation marks sent by his sister, and was puzzled:
[What are you exclamation about?]

Novel Chapter 2969 -Layla: [You really can't date people?!]

Hayden: [She wants to wash her hair, do I want her not to?]

Layla: [...Okay! Hahahahaha! Why are you two so funny!]

Hayden: [If you told her in advance that I would go too, she would definitely wash her hair before coming out.]

Layla: [Hahahahaha! My fault! I didn't expect that you two would really go shopping together after the concert! Brother, don't you really dislike being with women? Why did you compromise?]

Hayden: [Joanna doesn't disgust me.]

Layla: [Hahaha!]

Hayden's eyes hurt when he saw the 'hahaha' sent by his sister.

A few minutes later, Layla sent another message: [Brother, after she finishes washing her hair, you take her to the mall to go shopping. Look at women's clothing or skin care products or jewelry. In short, if my mother and I like it, she must like it too.]

Hayden: [Have you misunderstood? I'm just friends with her.]

Layla: [Friends don't have babies together. Anyway, in our eyes, Joanna is different from your other friends. So what if you spend some money for her, if you don't spend so much money, do you plan to take it to the coffin in the future?]

Hayden: [.....]

He just didn't find a wife, he didn't break the law.

After a while, Joanna finished washing her hair.

She specially asked the barber who washed her hair to finish washing quickly, and when she was drying her hair, she asked others to stop before the hair was completely dry.

After paying the bill, she walked up to Hayden: "I've finished washing, let's go!"

Hayden looked at her half-dried hair, and immediately signaled to the barber: "Help her dry her hair."

Joanna: "..."

Ten minutes later, the two came out of the barber shop.

Hayden became much more active after being instructed by Layla.

Hayden: "Would you like to go shopping?"

Joanna nodded: "Okay! Which shopping mall are you going to?"

Hayden: "Anything is fine. I came here by car, so it's convenient to go anywhere."

Since she wanted to take Hayden's car, Joanna naturally listened to his arrangement.

The two went to the parking lot to pick up the car, and then drove to a nearby large shopping mall.

"What do you think is the biggest problem in your store now?" Hayden felt that the atmosphere was too quiet, so he broke the silence.

Joanna suddenly became nervous, thought carefully, and answered seriously: "I think the biggest problem with our store is that it is too small in scale, whether it is the ability to develop new products or the ability to operate the entire store, it is very insufficient."

"Yeah." Hayden seemed to be listening to his subordinates report on their work.

Joanna saw that Hayden was listening carefully, so she continued to report: "I also often think about how to improve. But the current revenue is not enough to support drastic changes. I can only take it slowly."

Hayden: "Yes."

"Hayden, do you have any suggestions?" Joanna wanted to hear his thoughts.

Hayden's handsome cheeks were quietly flushed: "I don't know anything about dessert shops."

"You manage such a big company, do you have any good suggestions in terms of management?" Joanna continued to ask.

Hayden blushed even more: "I am not managing the company. I am mainly responsible for technology research and development."

Joanna: "...I thought you asked me to give me advice."

Hayden: "No. Just chat casually."

"But your expression just now was really serious. I was so scared that I thought there was a serious problem in our store that I didn't know about." Joanna said. After finished speaking, she couldn't help laughing.

"Am I so scary?" Hayden also laughed.

"You're not scary, you're more serious." Seeing him smile, Joanna became more courageous, "What do you think of my best friend Juliette? Not only is she beautiful, she also has a good family background. "

Hayden frowned unconsciously: "Are you trying to introduce me to a girlfriend?"
