Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2894 -Hayden's footsteps stopped. He turned his head and looked at Joanna: "Is there ice water?"

Now that his body felt like it was on fire, he was incredibly thirsty for ice water.

"Yes... yes!" Joanna hurried to get him ice water.

When Joanna went to get ice water, she saw a slender girl walking in.

An alarm sounded in her heart!

This girl should be coming to sleep with Hayden!

After adding half a glass of ice cubes to the water glass, Joanna immediately walked towards Hayden with the glass in hand.

"Lele, why are you here?" Seeing Lele following, Hayden felt like a mirror in his heart.

It was only after he drank the juice that his body started to heat up.

The first glass of juice he drank was given by Eric's cousin.

He drank so much wine during the day, but he was not drunk, nor did he become so hot, so there must be something wrong with the juice.

"Brother Hayden, I think you don't feel well and I'm a little worried about you, so I came here to see if I can take care of you." Lele said softly, and walked in front of Hayden.

Joanna stood behind Lele with ice water in her hand.

She dared not expose this conspiracy in front of Lele.

After all, when Hayden talked to Lele, his tone was quite polite.

What if Hayden wanted to have something happen with Lele?

Didn't meddle in her own business.

After passing this glass of ice water to Hayden, she could get off work.

"I'm fine." Hayden said in a polite and distant tone, "Go back to the banquet hall! I'm going to rest."

"Are you really okay?" Lele wanted to cry a little.

Looking at Hayden's appearance, he seemed to be fine.

But if he insisted on saying it was okay and insisted on not wanting her to accompany him, she couldn't insist on staying.

"I'm fine." Hayden's Adam's apple rolled, and his tone was a bit tough.

Lele took a deep breath and said bravely, "Then I'll take you back to your room!"

"No need." Hayden flatly refused, "My bodyguard will take care of me. You can go!"

After Hayden said that, the bodyguard immediately said to Lele: "How about I see you off?"

Lele shook her head, and only saw Joanna when she was leaving.

She glanced at the iced water in Joanna's hand, and her heart ached even more.

After Lele left, Hayden immediately strode towards his room.

He must take a cold shower immediately!

The bodyguard saw that something was wrong with him, and hurriedly followed him.

The two of them seemed to have forgotten Joanna's existence.

Joanna held the ice water, and it was not right to follow Hayden.

She wanted to send Hayden the ice water because that was what he wanted.

After taking a deep breath, Joanna came to the door of Hayden's room and rang the doorbell.

Soon, the bodyguard opened the door.

"This is the ice water Mr. Tate asked for." Joanna handed the water to the bodyguard.

The bodyguard took the ice water, and when he was about to close the door, he paused: "I just asked my boss if he wanted a doctor. Does your hotel have a doctor?"

The bodyguard felt that something was wrong with Hayden, and he might need to see a doctor. But Hayden didn't ask him to find a doctor, and he didn't dare to call a doctor rashly.

But if there was a doctor in the hotel, the bodyguard could ask the doctor to look at it right away.

Joanna shook her head: "Your boss...he is actually not a big problem."

Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2895 -The bodyguard frowned immediately after hearing what Joanna said: "Do you know what happened to my boss? How did you know?"

Joanna was grabbed by the collar and dragged into the room by the bodyguards.

"Take it easy! I didn't do what your boss did! I just..." Joanna wanted to tell the truth, but she was afraid that they wouldn't believe it.

Wasn't this asking for trouble?

In the bathroom, Hayden heard the sound, immediately turned off the tap, put on a bathroom, and walked out.

"What's going on?" Hayden was soaked all over, the water on his hair was not wiped, and the water dripped down his body from the tip of his hair.

"Mr. Tate, your bodyguard misunderstood me! He thought I put medicine in your drink... I didn't... I just saw your face was redder, and I felt that you might not drink it stuff...I work in a hotel...it happens a lot...but I'm just saying that, I really don't know anything."

Joanna understood what she had said, but she took herself out again.

Hayden, if he's a rational person, should be aware of what's going on.

Unexpectedly, his bodyguard understood the circle of things faster than him.

"Boss! You've been plotted against!" The bodyguard shouted with a look of wanting to destroy the world, "It must be that girl named Lele! She wants to get close to you! I'll go get her right now!"

Hayden gave the bodyguard a cold look: "That's a relative of the Santos family, don't mess around!"

"But they actually used this method against you, do you want to bear it? How can you be so angry?!" The bodyguard was not convinced.

"I can't ruin my sister's wedding because of such a trivial matter! Don't tell about this!" Hayden ordered the bodyguard.

The bodyguard looked like he was being bullied, and dared not speak out.

The bodyguard: "Then call a doctor for you?"

"Calling a doctor will alarm my parents." Hayden said every word, and picked up the ice water on the table.

After taking a bath, he felt a little better.

Seeing that he was determined not to trouble the culprit, the bodyguard could only follow him.

After all, Hayden was the boss.

If it wasn't Layla's wedding today, with his temper, he would never bear it.

"You still don't look right. I can't serve you. Let this waiter stay and take care of you!" After the bodyguard finished speaking, he went out without waiting for Hayden to say anything, and closed the door behind him.

Joanna: "???"

"Don't be afraid, I won't touch you." Seeing Joanna's worry, Hayden took the initiative to say, "You stay here first! Otherwise, my bodyguard might find me another woman."

"Aren't you the boss? How could he not listen to you?" Joanna could tell that Hayden was not a casual man, otherwise he wouldn't have refused Lele's offer to throw himself into her arms outside just now.

"My parents arranged for him." Hayden didn't want to reveal too many personal things to strangers, so after saying this, he didn't say anything else.

Neither of them spoke, and the atmosphere suddenly became very awkward.

Joanna secretly took out her phone and checked the time.

"Mr. Tate...I'm leaving get off work." Joanna was afraid that she would go back too late, so she wouldn't be able to get up early for work tomorrow.

"Make a price! I'll pay you." Hayden looked up at her and said generously.

Joanna was a little confused.

Of course, she didn't want to miss this opportunity to make money, but she felt that it was not good for her to stay here like this.

Joanna: "Mr. Tate, you can call your girlfriend over!"

Hayden: "I don't have a girlfriend."

"Huh?" Joanna didn't expect such a rich and handsome man to have no girlfriend.

Hayden got up from the sofa and walked towards the bathroom.

His wallet was in the pocket of his coat, which had been thrown in the bathroom.

Joanna watched him come out with a suit jacket.

He hung the coat in the closet first, then opened the wallet and took out all the cash in it.

"Are these enough?"

His low voice had a deceptive magic power.

Joanna looked at the money he handed over and wanted to take it, but she didn't dare.

She always felt that if she took this money, she would be dragged into the 18th hell.

After the dinner, Layla greeted the guests one after another, and then took Eric to go to rest.

Eric didn't rest all day today. Although he didn't complain that he was tired, Layla had to let him lie down and rest.

"I'll go and see my brother first." Layla was worried about Hayden, so she planned to go and see her first.

"Well, he shouldn't usually drink bars? I saw that he drank a lot today." Eric thanked Hayden very much for entertaining guests for him today.

"Actually, I don't live with him, and I don't know how much he can drink. When he is with us, he doesn't drink much." Layla recalled that when her brother left the banquet hall, she blushed as if her skin was allergic.

"Yeah. He won't be allowed to drink tomorrow." Eric said.

"I'm afraid he'll vomit at night. No one is taking care of him." Layla walked quickly towards the VIP room.

When they came to Hayden's room, the bodyguard saw them and immediately greeted them respectfully.

"Why are you guarding the door? Did my brother ask you to guard the door?" Layla asked.

The bodyguard shook his head: "He drank too much, I'm afraid he will call me for something, so I'll just watch at the door for a while."

"I'll go in and have a look." Layla wanted to ring the doorbell.

The bodyguard blocked it for a while: "He probably fell asleep. Don't worry, I'm here to guard. If there is anything wrong with him, I will find out as soon as possible."

"Do you have a room card here?" Layla was afraid that the bodyguards would not be able to hear the sound inside.

"Ask the manager for a spare room card." The bodyguard showed Layla the room card.

Layla nodded: "You go in and have a look later. If he vomits, send someone to bring hangover soup."

"Okay." After the bodyguard wrote it down, he said to Layla, "Go and rest!"

"Um." After Layla and Eric left, about half an hour later, Avery also came.

The bodyguard repeated what he had just said to Layla.

Avery really wanted to go in and have a look, but was afraid of disturbing Hayden's sleep.

After hesitating for a while, she finally gave up.

The next morning.

Hayden woke up with a splitting headache.

He looked at the ceiling, recalling what happened last night.

Fortunately, he remembered everything, but he didn't quite remember the girl's appearance.

He was even clearer about Lele's appearance.

He glanced to the side, and the long hair on the pillow came into view.

After rubbing his temples, he lifted the quilt and sat up.

The cash on the nightstand caught his eye.

This was the reward he gave Joanna last night, but she didn't take it away.

The money wasn't there last night before he went to sleep.

It should be specially released when Joanna left.

Why didn't she want money?

What did she want and still not asking for anything in return?

Hayden didn't like to owe favors, so after a simple wash, he came to the service desk of the room department to look for the woman from last night.

"Mr. Tate, do you know her name?"

Hayden pursed his thin lips slightly and shook his head.

"Then do you remember her job number?"

Hayden continued to shake his head.

"Could it be that you can't find out the employees on the night shift last night?"

"I can find it. But I haven't heard of who is serving your room. How about I ask." The waiter picked up the phone and called the night shift employees one by one last night.

Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2897 -In the end, everyone said that they did not enter Hayden's room.

"Mr. Tate, you should have heard the speakerphone I just turned on. They all said they never entered your room." The waiter asked, "Did you lose something?"

Hayden: "No."

Could it be that the girl didn't admit it because she was afraid that she would cause trouble for her?

If so, it's best that he didn't bother.

Hayden came to the banquet hall.

Breakfast was a buffet today.

"Hayden." Seeing his son, Avery immediately walked towards him, "How are you today? If you feel particularly uncomfortable, you can rest in your room."

Hayden: "Mom, I'm fine."

"Brother, did you sleep well last night? I was worried that you vomited last night." Layla took a glass of juice and handed it over.

Hayden shook his head: "I'll just drink water."

He took a bottle of bottled water.

"Brother, my soups are hotly searched." Layla put the juice back on the table and said with a smile, "Although there are no pictures, everyone knows that my soups include gold bars and cars."

"It's okay. Even if the accompanying gift is not on the trending list, others will know that our family is rich." Hayden took a sip of water.

"The photos of me and Eric have also been exposed. It was taken secretly." Layla took out her mobile phone and showed Hayden the news on the Internet, "This is the photo taken when Eric and I changed our shoes after lunch."

"Do you think a reporter sneaked in?" Hayden asked.

"Don't you think so? Our relatives won't secretly take photos for Entertainment Gossip." Layla said so, of course it made sense.

It's just that after what happened last night, Hayden had a different opinion.

Relatives of the Foster family may not secretly take wedding photos and spread them out, but relatives of the Santos family may not.

He didn't want to speculate about the Santos family's relatives with malice, but what happened last night was a painful lesson.

But the matter had passed, and he would not tell his family.

The actions of individual relatives of the Santos family did not represent the character of Eric's family.

As long as the younger sister and Eric had a good relationship, that was the most important thing.

Hayden took Layla's phone over, glanced at the news, and said lightly: "It's okay. The photo of you is beautiful. And the news is not scribbled."

The news was indeed not messed up.

The introductions about souvenirs and menus were all true.

"Brother, I thought you would be angry!" Layla stared at Hayden, "It feels like you've changed your mind after sleeping, and your temper has changed for the better!"

Hayden returned the phone to Layla, turned around and took a dinner plate, ready to eat something first.

The other side.

A conference room of a media company.

The editor-in-chief praised Joanna by name and promised to give her a bonus of $100,000 this month.

Her Colleagues' eyes turned red with envy.

After the meeting, colleagues asked Joanna to treat her tonight.

Joanna nodded in response.

"Joanna, how did you do it? I originally wanted to pretend to be a waiter, but that hotel is not hiring waiters for the time being!" A colleague asked curiously.

"Yeah Joanna, how on earth did you take such a top-secret photo? It's a pity that you didn't take a photo of the souvenir, otherwise I really want to see what kind of gold bars and car models it is."

"Joanna, you really do great things in silence! Hurry up and pass on some secrets to us! How did you get into the circle of rich people?"

Joanna took a deep breath and replied, "I don't know what to say, it feels like a dream, and I'm dizzy now."

After hearing Joanna's words, the editor-in-chief immediately patted Joanna on the shoulder: "Joanna, what you did this time is so beautiful! We got the internal photos of Eric and Layla's wedding, and only we reported about their souvenirs, the whole industry exploded! Internet traffic also exploded! Joanna, you have worked hard! How about this, I will give you two days off, you go home and have a good rest and then come back to work."

"Thank you, editor-in-chief! Then I'll go home and rest first." After thanking Joanna, she immediately ran away with her bag.
