

Gu Lingfei: Married at First Sight Novel Chapter 1551

Chapter 1551

“Liberty and Sonny are here too, but I really did come here to see you, Grandma May.”

Duncan stepped into the gazebo, sat down, and watched the old lady continue with her pilates.

He said. “When my granny was still alive, I asked her to practice pilates with you, but she didn’t listen to me.”

His granny and Grandma May were of the same age, but the former’s health was far from that of the latter

Grandma May was still physically strong and could fly around the world by plane without company.

She set her grandsons up with a spring in her step.

Meanwhile, his granny had been buried six feet under for many years.

“Your granny is a true noble lady. She’s different from someone impoverished like me.”

“Who said you’re impoverished? You’re also a true noble lady”

Grandma May laughed. “When my grandfather was alive, my family was considered an influential family. But after I was born, my family fell into poverty. Now, even their mansion has been handed over to the state.

“On the other hand, your granny has been noble all her life. She can’t be compared with an old boor like me.”

Grandma May wrapped up her pilates.

Duncan hurriedly got up and walked over to help her

She did not need his help.

She asked with interest, “Duncan, why don’t we have a competition? I haven’t exercised my muscles in a long time.”

Duncan immediately looked at her like he was begging for mercy. “Give me a break, Grandma May. I wouldn’t dare.”

“I won’t blame you if I lose.”

“But you’re old. If you end up hurting yourself, I’ll become a villain to the York family. It’d be a tragedy if I couldn’t visit the York manor again. You should ask Zachary instead.”

Zachary’s voice suddenly resounded.

“Don’t drag me into this, Duncan.”

He carried Sonny into the gazebo.

“Nana.”

Grandma May hummed.

Sonny greeted her politely, and she carried him with a smile.

“I missed you so much, Sonny”

Serenity and Liberty followed behind.

“Nana.”

“Grandma May”

Grandma May smiled joyously. “You’re all here. Hurry back inside the house. It’s hot out here. It’s only nine, but I feel so hot.”

The old woman called everyone back into the house.

She asked Zachary casually, “Are the two ladies of the Newman family still waiting outside?”

“The Newman ladies?”

Zachary recalled the two cars parked at the entrance and asked his nana, “They’re from the Newman family?”

“Yes, they’re Camryn’s eldest and second aunt. Her eldest aunt married into the Chandler family, and her second aunt became a Joyner. They’re here to find your Aunt Rosella. Since they’re here for her, she has to agree to meet them before we can invite them inside.”

Grandma May seemed like she did not care about anything, but the manor was still under her control.

Unless it were something she did not want to know, she would find out about everything happening in the villa.

Zachary said faintly, "They were still waiting outside when I arrived. They must be up to something if they came over so early in the morning."

"What's happening in the Newman family now?"

Chapter 1552

Grandma May led Sonny out of the gazebo and asked Zachary.

Zachary replied, "These two aunts of Ms. Camryn, who are waiting outside now to meet Aunt Rosella, keep cursing Ms. Camryn for being an ungrateful wench. They just want to seize the opportunity to take over the Newman family. However, I skipped the specifics. That's up to Callum to worry about."

Camryn would only be his sister-in-law in the future. Unless she begged him for help, he would not concern himself with the Newmans' affairs.

"Callum didn't interfere much, right? Camryn can handle herself. Callum just needs to stand behind her and be her backer."

Grandma May was full of trust in her chosen granddaughter-in-law and believed that Camryn would be able to handle the Newman family assets well.

Zachary did not speak.

Grandma May quickly changed the topic.

She did not have to worry about her second and third grandsons anymore. She had already chosen someone for them, so all left was for them to pursue their wives.

However, she had not decided on a wife for her fourth and fifth grandsons.

Her sixth grandson, Austin, and the ones that came after him could wait until they were older. There was no hurry.

Boys generally mature slower than girls.

If a man got married too early, he might not be able to afford the burden of a family.

It was necessary to push for marriage only after a man had a successful career. That way, he would be able to afford to raise a family of his own without relying on his parents and siblings for help.

“It’s neither too hot nor cold now. Zack, it would’ve been nicer for you to take them to our island for a few days,” suggested Grandma May.

Zachary replied, “We came back to see you first, Nana, Where do you want to go?”

“I’m just an old pile of bones. I won’t go. You younglings go instead. Tell your brothers and go relax on the island for a few days.”

Grandma May still had to examine the wife candidates for her fourth and fifth grandsons. If there were no problems, she could finalize it.

Her fourth and fifth grandsons in question shivered in fear.

Zachary hummed.

Grandma May turned and said to Serenity, “Seren, let Zack bring you around while he’s on holiday. It doesn’t matter if you don’t go to other places, but you have to see our family’s estates.”

Serenity would be the lady of the Yorks in the future.

She had to know about the York family’s assets.

“Since you’re back now. I’ll ask your mother-in-law to show you all the accounts of our family’s assets. You don’t have to take care of them now, but once you’re more experienced and your mother-in-law wants to retire, you’ll have to take over

After a pause, Serenity said, “Nana. I—I’m still young and have no experience. I can’t take over all of a sudden.”

To be honest, even though she was the missus of the York family, she still had not figured out how much property the York family had.

She only knew that York Corporation and Wiltspoon Hotel belonged to her in-laws, and they had a large horse racecourse. The couple wanted to go to the racecourse before, but Zachary suddenly thought she was pregnant while on the way, and they made their way to the hospital instead.

Then, they ended up arguing.

They never mentioned going to the racecourse again.

Serenity also knew that York Corporation had many branches all over the country, but she did not know where specifically.

Grandma May's words caught her off guard..

She did not realize that she needed to help with her husband's family business.

Furthermore, she did not know that her mother-in-law still managed various industries owned by the York family. Her mother-in-law usually looked pampered and idle.

No one in the York family could be underestimated.

“Yes, it's hard to take over at once, so you should learn more from Tania when you have the time. This is your work and responsibility in the future. You also have to learn to deal with managing the personnel in Wildridge manor, income and expenditure, and handling the accounts.”

Zachary was worried that Serenity would be intimidated and said, “Nana, that can wait until Seren and I have our wedding. Seren still has to worry about her vegetable farm investment now. When she's better at handling the vegetable farm, then let her take over slowly.”

Grandma May laughed and said, “I'm not asking Seren to take over everything all at once. I just want her to get a feel for it.”
