Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1706 -Turning around, Liberty found a bag of pig bones she bought from several bags, and was going to wash them and use them to make bone soup.

“I’ll reply to Mrs. Lewis first.” Liberty remembered that she wanted to reply to Mrs. Lewis, stopped what she was doing, took out her mobile phone and called Mrs. Lewis, and told Mrs. Lewis her decision.

Mrs. Lewis thanked her a lot and insisted on paying her.

Liberty thought that if she would not accept Mrs. Lewis’s money then, Mrs. Lewis would have nothing to do with her.

After making a decision, Liberty was busy preparing lunch.

When it was time to get off work at noon, Liberty had already prepared lunch.

“Serenity, Mrs. Lewis will receive soup first, and Sonny will stay with you.”

Liberty came out of the kitchen carrying the insulated lunch box, “The food is ready, put it in the pot, and you and Jasmine will have dinner after you finish your work.”

“Sister, have you eaten yet?” Serenity asked with concern.

The bookstore had not been busy recently. Summer vacation was coming soon. A few days before the summer vacation, students needed to buy summer homework. There were many people, so it would be busy.

“I ate some.” Liberty replied as she walked out.

“Mom, I’m going too.” Seeing that his mother was leaving, Sonny yelled, and he followed her.

“Sonny, you haven’t eaten yet, don’t go, after eating, your aunt will take you there.” Liberty said.

Serenity came out, hugged Sonny, and prevented Sonny from following.

Sonny was a little wronged, but he was coaxed by his aunt.

In the hospital, Duncan still didn’t want to eat. He knocked all the lunch delivered by Mrs. Lewis herself on the ground.

Elder Young Mistress Lewis was startled by her brother-in-law's rough action and took a few steps back so that her clothes would not be stained by the overturned food.

"Duncan." Mrs. Lewis shouted, "Why overthrow them all if you do not wish to eat? Your parents have not yet eaten up food."

Duncan's temper had recently been getting progressively worse.

Although her brother-in-law, Duncan didn't eat by himself and even knocked over the food, Elder Young Mistress Lewis understood and felt bad for Duncan. As a result, neither she nor her in-laws had to eat.

"Since your accident, look at what your parents have become. Your parents have stayed up day and night to take care of you personally. You have suffered from severe dark circles, your hair is all white, and you are emaciated. You only care about yourself. Why don't you see everyone worrying about you?"

"If you look like this, not only will you not be able to recover, but it will also make everyone who cares about you sad."

Duncan had just started junior high school when Elder Young Mistress Lewis married into the Lewis family; as a result, she loved and cared for Duncan a lot, and Duncan always respected his elder sister-in-law.

Considering Duncan's mood, others were reluctant to scold her, so the Elder young mistress Lewis couldn't help but scold Mrs. Lewis.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1707 -"Don't scold Duncan, Duncan is already suffering enough." Elder Young Mistress Lewis said, "Mom, I know Duncan is suffering, don't we? We also care about him and his health, and Doctor didn't even sentence him to death, but he sentenced himself to death first.

Mom, don't just go after him blindly, but let him get back on his feet."

Elder Young Mistress Lewis could fully understand how her mother-in-law took care of her brother-in-law every step of the way after the accident for which she took full responsibility.

They could only come to visit every day and bring food.

Sometimes, when they came, her brother-in-law didn't even want to see them.

Elder Young Mistress Lewis's husband was the head of the family who had taken over the business of the Lewis family. He was busy with work every day and was also worried about her brother-in-law's injury. However, her brother-in-law was only immersed in pessimism and didn't care about his family's feelings at all.

Mrs. Lewis's eyes turned red all of a sudden. She choked up and said: "I also want to cheer him up, but he can't listen to what we say. He lies on the bed every day, and his legs hurt sharply when he moves. It's normal for him to be irritable. Don't blame him. Don't blame him..."

"Mom." Elder Young Mistress Lewis brought a tissue to her mother-in-law, sighed, "I didn't blame him, I just wanted to wake him up."

Mrs. Lewis said after wiping away her tears: "In order to cheer Duncan up, I went to Liberty and asked Liberty to take care of Duncan. Duncan likes her so much, so she came to take care of Duncan. I think Duncan will cheer up for her."

Elder Young Mistress Lewis: "Didn't Duncan even want to see Liberty?"

After Duncan's accident, Liberty would come to the hospital every day, but she was turned away every day. In order to stop Liberty, she even used her seldom-knowledge. All the bodyguards were transferred to the hospital, working in three shifts 24 hours a day, guarding the door of the ward, just to keep Liberty out.

Others were turned away incidentally.

"I have to try again." Mrs. Lewis wiped away her tears again, "I pin all my hopes on Liberty."

Elder Young Mistress Lewis: "Mom, Duncan doesn't want to see Liberty because he doesn't want to drag Liberty down. Let Liberty take care of him, and his feelings for Liberty will become deeper and deeper, and Liberty doesn't want to marry again...the two of them will keep cutting each other, and the reasoning will still be messed up."

Mrs. Lewis choked up: "I don't care. I just want Duncan to get better. He has helped Liberty so much. If I ask Liberty, she will definitely agree. I know she is a good person. She just replied to my message, she comes here now."

Even if we don't invite Liberty to take care of Duncan, do you think Duncan can really let Liberty go? He can't let go, since we can't let go, we will help him."

Mrs. Lewis lowered her voice, afraid of being heard by Duncan.

"If the two of them get along day and night, maybe Liberty will fall in love with Duncan. When Duncan recovers, the two of them will be able to hold a wedding. Now, I don't want to stop it anymore. Children and grandchildren have their own blessings, let them do it Whether they are happy or not is their own choice.”

Although Liberty was divorced, she was five years younger than Duncan, and Duncan also liked Sonny very much. If they form a family of three, they would surely be happy.

Of course, if the two of them became a couple, Mrs. Lewis still hoped that Liberty would give birth to a child for Sonny.

Before even writing the horoscope, Mrs. Lewis thought about having a baby.

Elder Young Mistress Lewis: “...”

The mother-in-law was convinced that Liberty owed too much favor to her Brother-in-law. When Liberty had an accident, the brother-in-law stayed with Liberty overnight. It was very difficult for Liberty to refuse her mother-in-law’s request.

On the emotional scale, Elder Young Mistress Lewis was also on her mother-in-law’s side. As long as it could make her brother-in-law better.

Brother-in-law was good, if he married Liberty, Liberty would not feel wronged.

When the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law communicated, Mr. Lewis silently cleaned up the mess.

Duncan, who overturned all the meals, lay on the bed indifferently, staring at the ceiling without speaking.

Seeing his son’s indifference and lack of guilt, Mr. Lewis wanted to criticize his son, but finally swallowed the words.

“knock knock.”

There was a knock on the door.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1708 -Mrs. Lewis in the small living room outside the ward responded to the knock on the door.

The door was pushed open, but there were bodyguards.

“Ma’am, Miss Liberty is here again.” The bodyguard told Mrs. Lewis.

Before Mrs. Lewis answered, Duncan in the ward had very sharp ears. He was indifferent just now, but immediately reacted: "Tell her to go, I don't want to see her, tell her not to come here again."

The bodyguard sighed inwardly when he heard Duncan's roar.

Every time Liberty came, Duncan always reacted like this.

Only when Liberty came, Duncan would have such a big reaction.

Any one knew that Duncan's emotions were being held back by Liberty.

"Let Liberty in." Mrs. Lewis said against Duncan.

The bodyguard was in a dilemma for a while.

When Duncan inside heard his mother's words, he turned over anxiously and wanted to get off the ground.

But the injuries to his legs hadn't healed yet, and he couldn't walk at all. When he turned over and fell to the ground like this, he fell off the bed and fell to the ground with a bang.

Mr. Lewis, who was about to drink water, immediately threw away the water glass, and hurried forward to help his son up.

Mrs. Lewis and Elder Young Mistress Lewis also came in quickly. Seeing Duncan fall to the ground, the two of them hurried forward, together with Mr. Lewis, they helped and lifted Duncan back to the bed.

"Tell Liberty to go, tell her to go, I don't want to see her!"

Duncan fell, the severe pain in his leg made his face pale as paper, and the cold sweat broke out, he was still screaming, calling for Liberty leave.

He didn't want Liberty to see him in such a mess and useless state.

He even didn't want to see her sympathy in Liberty's eyes.

He didn't need anyone's sympathy.

If he's disabled, he'll be disabled.

He spent the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

"Okay, don't let her in. Tell her to go back." Mrs. Lewis said quickly, to calm her son's emotions.

Turning around, Mrs. Lewis burst into tears.

The bodyguards did not let Liberty in, and there was a commotion in the ward, which could be heard by Liberty who was blocked at the door of the ward.

“Miss Liberty, our Fourth Young Master Lewis doesn’t want to see you, so please go back.” The bodyguard said to Liberty.

Liberty was not like usual. Duncan didn’t see her, she left quickly, this time, she stood at the door, and said to the bodyguard: “I won’t see your fourth young master today, I will just stand here and not leave.”

Bodyguard: “...”

Everyone exchanged glances.

One of the bodyguards entered the ward.

He relayed Liberty’s words to Duncan.

Duncan endured the pain, and said indifferently: “How long she has to stand is her business.”
