

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1873

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1873 -It had been less than a year since Zachary and Serenity got their license. It was October, and it took only half a year to become a real couple. Those people said that Serenity would not have children, they were jealous of Serenity, and deliberately said those words to hurt Serenity.

Grandma May echoed Jane's words: "That's right, if you hear someone say that about you again, Serenity, you should slap in the face. You don't have to be afraid of offending anyone. As long as you don't do anything illegal, no matter who you offend, grandma will help you settle it. If Grandma can't make it right, there is Zack, he can help you hold up when the sky falls."

Serenity said: "I haven't heard anyone say me, I know everyone told something bad about me behind my back, if I heard it with my own ears, I promise to slap them in the face. and they don't need to worry about my affairs."

"That's right, those people are salty carrot, don't worry about it. We elders don't worry about it, they are the onion and the garlic." The old lady firmly believed that she trusted the master's words, and the master said that the eldest grandson and his wife were the fate of both children.

The master also said that sometimes there must be something in fate, and there was no time to force it.

Jane looked at Serenity who was holding her son, and said with a smile: "Maybe after a while, you will have good news."

Jane hoped that Serenity would get pregnant soon, so she would slap those troublemakers in the face severely.

Serenity smiled and said: "I accept your words. When will the babies have a hundred-day banquet? Zachary and I have to arrange a time in advance. When the baby's hundred-day banquet is held, we will come and stay for a few days. I like my godchildren so much."

"It will be 100 days at the end of next month, so there is still a month left. You and Zachary will definitely come to the baby's 100-day banquet."

FC Manor had already started preparing for the hundred-day banquet for the two babies.

Jane sighed: "It feels like they are still in my womb. It will be almost a hundred days in a blink of an eye after this birth. Time flies so fast."

Serenity smiled. Jane noticed that time flew by because of her good fortune. She married Ben and was spoiled by him. Both the nanny and the parents-in-law looked after the two babies. Jane, a mother, just hugged her children to make fun of them when she missed them. She didn't have to be concerned about playing.

If someone else had to take care of two children at once, it would be exhausting.

Back then, when she and her sister took care of Sonny, they were always in a hurry.

That sc*mbag Hank seldom helped. He always said that he didn't know how to take care of children, and the newborn baby was so soft that Hank didn't even dare to hug him, fearing that he might fall the baby.

During Liberty's confinement period, Sonny always turned upside down day and night, sleeping like piglets during the day, and crying at night, tossing the two sisters quite terribly.

Serenity adored her sister; she always looked after Sonny and made her sister sleep more.

After Liberty confinement, instead of losing weight after giving birth, she gained weight instead. This was because her younger sister took good care of her.

On the contrary, Serenity lost ten cattles in a month, and Jasmine often said that she could even shoot weight loss commercials.

Only those who had brought children knew how difficult it was to care for children.

The two children quickly fell asleep.

When the brother and sister were lying on the crib together, Grandma may's eyes were still fixed on Avah.

The maid knocked on the door.

"Eldest young mistress york, Madam York, dinner is ready, please come downstairs for dinner."

Grandma May and Serenity were indeed distinguished guests for the Johnson family.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1874

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1874 -"Grandma May, Serenity, let's go downstairs for dinner." Jane said: "Sonny, come, auntie hugs you."

Sonny looked at the two babies, then at the beautiful auntie Jane and finally walked towards her reluctantly, and said, "Auntie Jane, I've grown up, so I don't need to be hugged anymore."

Jane took sonny's little hand, "Then Auntie will lead you away."

She said to Serenity again: "Sonny is also a very good boy, he is better than Enzo because Enzo cries every day. Sonny is as good as Lilian's son."

Lilian's son had just been born.

Knowing that she had given birth to a baby, Callum hurriedly sent someone to deliver supplements, this was his fiancée's last hope.

Tim received the tonic from Callum, his face darkened, and then he stuffed the tonic from Callum into a corner. Anyway, his wife had no shortage of tonic, and she couldn't finish her own tonic. Who cares? From Callum?

Even if Tim was aware that Callum had no ulterior motives, but he was unhappy. He felt that he and Callum were unrelated, and his wife had given birth to a child; what supplements would Callum provide?

Tim could still accept a few sets of baby clothes.

"By the way, Dr. Carden gave birth to a baby. I'll go and see her and the baby later."

Lilian had not been discharged from the hospital yet. But her son was known to cry a lot.

Tim said that every day when the baby was taking a bath, it was his son who cried the loudest.

It was also the most tossing, and many family members of pregnant women liked to watch the fourth young master of Johnson's family take a bath.

The old lady also got up reluctantly, she couldn't wait to hug Avah for dinner.

The nanny pushed the crib.

The old lady asked: "Do you want to push the crib to the first floor?"

The nanny replied: "Yes, the young master is a light sleeper, he will wake up soon, and he will cry when he wakes up. You can't leave them alone in the room."

The old lady was relieved.

In the central main house of Johnson's house, an elevator was specially installed for the convenience of pushing the crib downstairs.

The old lady thought that there was no elevator in the main house in the center of Wildridge Manor. After she went back, she had to ask someone to install an elevator to prepare for the baby cot in advance.

Jane planned to take them for a walk after dinner to enjoy the scenery of FC Manor. The old lady was reluctant to leave Avah, so she said she couldn't leave because she had old arms and legs, so she stayed in the house and talked with old lady Johnson.

The two were about the same age, and they were both old ladies in their respective families, so they could chat well.

Grandma May was very envious of Old Mrs. Johnson, and said to her: "you're happier than me. Of your ten grandchildren, three are married, and two of them have lovers. You don't have to worry about it. I have nine grandchildren. At present, only the eldest grandson got married under my hard and soft coercion.

Oh, I really broke my heart because of those b*stards. The thing that makes me most envious of you is that there is such a beautiful and lovely great-granddaughter as Avah. If I had a great-granddaughter, I would be willing to die right away."

The Old Mrs. Johnson said with a smile: "There will be, and one of your grandsons can equal several of my grandchildren. I am also very envious of you because you have so many outstanding grandsons."

They were all happy old ladies, full of children and grandchildren, and all of them were promising.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-