Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1894

Hugh quickly slapped Kevin on the shoulder, and whispered: "Mr. York, don't let my brother hear this sentence, otherwise he will be in a hurry with you. He usually doesn't talk much. It's only when I meet my brother that I will chatter. Look at my brother, no matter how you look at him, he doesn't look like a woman."

Kevin smiled and whispered: "Your brother also cares about you."

Hayden didn't look like a woman. As long as she looked a little like a woman, Kevin would not delay in taking action.

It was now that he started to act, but when he met Hayden, he just couldn't be moved, and he always felt that he was pursuing a man.

Hayden looked over, and the eyes of the two met.

Kevin smiled. Hayden's eyes darkened, then he looked away and looked into the distance.

Noticing that Kevin was always looking at his sister, Hugh touched Kevin and joked: "Mr. York, don't you like my brother like those girls?"

It was stuffed with a snack.

Hayden scolded his younger brother: "With so much food, you still can't stop your mouth."

Kevin said with a smile: "Mr. Queen, don't blame the second young master for talking too much. To be honest, a good-looking man like Mr. Queen, don't talk about girls anymore, even a big man like me has watched too much, and I am afraid that I will become crooked."

He joked to Hayden: "Mr. Queen You have to be responsible to me."

Hugh who had just picked up a bottle of water, unscrewed the lid and took a sip, heard Kevin's words, he couldn't help but spit it out. Not only did he spray it, but he also choked on it, which made him cough.

"Drink more water."

Kevin took out a tissue and handed it to Hugh, and asked him to drink more water while smiling.

Hugh quickly drank water before recovering.

He took the tissue from Kevin and said to Kevin: "Mr. York, do you want to laugh at me to death so that you can take over my group of confidante friends?"

Hayden stared at the two men with a dark face.

Her brother was usually not serious, and Kevin had a long tongue. When these two get together, they could say anything.

She shouldn't have notified her brother's return.

She was afraid that her brother would be bought by Kevin.

Kevin smiled and said: "Mr. Queen, you have a group of confidante? I don't have any confidante, and I don't have a girlfriend. My grandma picked a wife candidate for me, so I have one. Go after the target, but when I see my opponent, I can't chew my mouth."

Hugh asked gossipingly: "The wife your grandma chose for you is ugly?"

Kevin watched Hayden out of the corner of his eye. Seeing that Hayden didn't seem interested, but her ears were pricked up, listening.

"Ugly, but not very ugly, but when I met her, I didn't feel any emotion at all. If I didn't feel it, I couldn't chew my mouth. My second brother and I received the photo from my grandma at the same time. My second brother is engaged. I haven't acted yet because I don't have any feelings for her."

He didn't know if Hayden could feel his heart after changing into women's clothing?

Kevin felt that he was trying to catch up with the ducks now.

Whatever the case, his first task was to reveal Hayden's real Identity first and see if he could fall in love with this woman in the course of doing so.

Marriage is a lifelong event.

He has to have feelings before he could marry, otherwise how would he live his life?
