I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1853- Anders did not know what happened during his seclusion to make the Fellowes family dare to do this to him.

Anders could see the other five in the Star Kingdom Six whenever he wanted to, let alone that brat David.

It could be said that among the entire young generation of Star Kingdom, there was no one he could not see.

Moreover, he did not even need to notify them in advance.

The only people in Star Kingdom who had the strength and qualifications to reject him were only those stronger than True Saints.

Pre-Saints would not dare to do anything to him.

After he became the head of the Palmore family, even True Saints would not dare to not meet him.

Originally, Anders respected Roald, the Saint.

However, it turned out that the other party was not taking him seriously at all.

Furthermore, he also said such humiliating words.

Anders was furious.

As one of the Star Kingdom Six and the first-in-line heir of the Palmore family, he could not accept such humiliation.

Since Roald was disrespecting him, why should he show Roald respect?

In addition, the Fellowes family was originally an affiliated family of the Palmore family.

To put it bluntly, when would a dog dare to bite its owner?

If the Palmore family did not support the Fellowes family, Treasure Trove would probably not be one of the Central Sacred Continent's top five trading companies.

Even if they could develop by themselves, it would be impossible to keep such a huge amount of wealth to themselves.

Of the other four trading companies, which one did not have Sacred Saint as its backer?

Roald's approach made Anders decide not to feign civility.

He would never be stingy with abusing his power.

As a Palmore family member, he had the qualifications to do so.

"Roald, as the first-in-line heir of the Palmore family and the future head of the family, I solemnly tell you, that not only do I want to see David today, but I also want to take him away. Regardless of whether you agree or not, I will still do this. If you're smart, you will bring him to me now. If not, don't blame me for being merciless. I won't hesitate to have a fallout with you," Anders said seriously.

Now, he did not even bother to be polite to Roald.

If it was someone other than the Six, they might have been crippled or killed for daring to threaten a Saint like that.

It was no joke to say that one should not insult a Saint.

However, that was not the case with the Star Kingdom Six.

Their identities meant that even if they said such words, no Saint would dare to attack them.

Anders' sudden outburst made Roald's mind go blank for a while.

He was confused.

'Anders was fine just now, so why is he suddenly so serious now?

'I only said I need David's consent before I can let him meet him.

'And this is the truth!

'I also told Moby the same thing when he asked to see David.

'There's nothing wrong with that.

'Why is it so different when it comes to Anders?'

Roald was furious when he saw Anders suddenly flying into a burst of rage.

He was a Saint, and no matter how high Anders' status was, he was just a partial Saint.

Roald felt insulted to be threatened by a partial Saint.

He might have endured it before the Palmore family showed their ambition.

After all, the Fellowes family had benefited from association with the Palmore family, and they could only get to where they were now because of the Palmore family.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1854-Meanwhile, Anders' status in the Palmore family even surpassed the average Saint.

Now that the Palmore family's ambitions had been revealed, it was obvious that they wanted to take over the Fellowes family's Treasure Trove.

Therefore, Roald would no longer grovel, and he intended to show the majesty of Saint to let Anders know what they meant when they said one should not insult a Saint.

"Anders, do you know what you are doing? You are threatening a Saint. Do you know the consequences of doing so?" Roald asked in a deep voice.

After he just said that, he was greeted by a burst of hearty laughter.

"Hahaha!"

The laughter was naturally from Anders.

Roald did not interrupt. Instead, he just looked at Anders with a dark face and smiled.

After laughing for more than ten seconds, Anders stopped and sarcastically said, "You're just a Pre-Saint, so what if you threaten me? Roald, you think highly of yourself. Do you think you can act arrogantly in front of me just because you're a Pre-Saint? Who do you think you are? I may take you seriously if you were a True Saint. As for now... Heh..."

After finishing speaking, Anders stared at Roald with a sarcastic expression on his face.

That sneer at the end even revealed his disdain for Pre-Saints in his heart.

He almost blurted out that he thought Pre-Saints were rubbish.

"Anders, you have gone too far. Pre-Saints are also Saints, and you are only a partial Saint now. What right do you have to look down on a Pre-Saint? I, a mere Pre-Saint in your eyes, can slap you to death now. Do you believe me if I say this?" Roald asked calmly.

Little did Anders know that he was also filled with anger right now.

This was the first time Roald had been laughed at by someone who was not even a Saint yet.

He had seen the Star Kingdom Six before and there was no one like Anders.

In reality, Anders was not like this before he went into seclusion.

However, it was unknown what had gotten into this brat after he broke through to partial Saint Realm and came out which made him dare to provoke Saints openly.

'Did his brain start to rot after being in seclusion for so long?'

"Slap me to death? Roald, let's not talk about whether you can do it. So what if you can do it? Would you dare? You won't dare to even touch me even if I'm just standing here. Otherwise, your entire family will suffer, not just you," Anders said arrogantly.

He could not beat Roald, but he was not worried that Roald would do anything to him.

That was the benefit of having a strong background.

From birth to now, Anders' pride and arrogance as a direct descendant of the Palmore family had been carved into his bones.

In the eyes of all the Palmore family members, the Fellowes family was nothing more than their dog.

Even if the dog was a little stronger now, it was still a dog.

"You're right, I don't dare to touch you, but it's not because of your strength. Anders, you come from a good background, but that's nothing special. If you don't have the Palmore family to back you up, would you dare to say these things in front of me?"

"Hahaha! Roald, you are so funny! What do you mean I'm not special because I was born well? Do you think you are special just because you're older? I'd better kill myself if I only have that measly strength when I get to your age. Why bother to live in shame? At that time, I can also tell you what you said to me just now. I'd slap you to death, you old f*ck!" Anders said with a guffaw.

Roald took a few deep breaths, suppressing the strong urge to act.

He tried to keep himself calm as he was afraid that he would slap this scoundrel to death after failing to hold himself back.

'I can't hit him!

'I can't hit him!

'I cannot hit him!'

Roald warned himself over and over again in his heart.

If he attacked Anders today, the consequences would be serious.

The kid in front of him was not just the heir of the Palmore family, but he was also the most respected descendant of the Sacred Saint grandmaster of the Palmore family.

'Huff... Huff... Huff...'

After a few deep breaths, Roald finally forcefully restrained himself.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1855-"Anders!" Roald spat through gritted teeth.

Even though he held back from attacking Anders, a fire was still burning in his chest.

He looked as if he wanted to swallow Anders whole.

He was a Saint, and yet Anders was calling him an old f*ck.

This was unheard of.

Only someone with Anders' background could do something so preposterous.

If someone else said this, Roald would have already slapped them.

"Yes, I am here. Roald, I love how much you hate me but can't get rid of me. What? Do you want to attack me? Come on! I am standing here. I'd like to see what you can do," Anders mocked.

He was not bothered by Roald at all.

"Get out of here. This is Treasure Trove, not your house. I won't allow you to act recklessly here," Roald reprimanded angrily.

"You want me to leave? That's fine too! Bring David over to me and I'll leave, or else I'll go find him myself. This place is so small. Will David fly away from here?"

“How delusional! Anders, I won’t hand David over to you, and I won’t allow you to act recklessly. You should just give up.”

“Roald, this is beyond your control! Since you don’t want to hand over David, then I will find him myself. I’d like to see who dares to stop me.”

After Anders finished speaking, he got up and was about to leave to find traces of David.

Treasure Trove was huge, but it was nothing to Anders who already had mind power.

As long as he spread his mind power, he would soon find David.

“Anders, don’t go too far. I have tolerated you again and again today, so don’t force me.” Roald also stood up.

“So what if I do?” Anders asked with interest.

“If you continue to make trouble like this, don’t blame me for capturing you and then handing you over to your elders. I’ll talk to them about how the Palmore family teaches their younger generation. Your family is so big and yet it raised an heir who doesn’t understand etiquette and status like yourself. Anders, it’s not that I look down on you. No matter how talented you are, someone like you won’t be able to achieve great things. If the Palmore family falls into your hands, I think you will lose everything sooner or later.”

Roald’s words directly ignite Anders’ anger.

As one of the Star Kingdom Six and the first-in-line heir of the Palmore family, Anders heard all kinds of compliments growing up.

When had he ever heard such harsh words?

Originally, he was already lacking a place to vent his anger, so how could Anders stand such words?

Pointing at Roald, he said sharply, “Roald, it’s not your place to worry about my family. Would your family get to where you are today without the support of my family? After all, your family is just a dog we raised. Now that the dog has become stronger, it wants to attack its owner. How ridiculous.”

As soon as Anders said this, he offended the entire Fellowes family.

It would be fine if he kept the thoughts of the Fellowes family as a dog in his mind.

Even if all the direct descendants of the Palmore family thought so, they should never say it.

Moreover, he was saying it in front of the Fellowes family's Saint.

Wasn't he asking for it by doing this?

However, Anders did not care.

He had always been arrogant.

Coupled with the various unsatisfactory experiences he had faced after coming out this time, his resentment had been mounting. This is why he directly expressed what was in his heart at this moment.

Regardless, he figured he was stating the truth.

The Fellowes family was originally a dog from the Palmore family.

Now, this dog had become stronger, i

So, the Palmore family decided to take action against the Fellowes family since they could not allow the Fellowes family to continue growing.

If case a Sacred Saint appeared in the Fellowes family one day, they would completely lose all control.

At this moment, Roald was seething.

'How dare Anders view the Fellowes family as their dog? 1

'He has scolded the three True Saint grandmasters of the family at one go!

'No matter how high your status is, you're just a junior, Anders.

'You can insult me, and I can endure it.

'However, do you think I can endure it now that you're also scolding the True Saint grandmasters of the family?

'If I don't do anything today and allow Anders to act so recklessly in Treasure Trove, then the Fellowes family will be dogs indeed.'
