

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2056

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2056-At this moment, the four sisters were quite excited.

Just when they were about to make the final blow at the same time to seriously injure Lorraine...

Boom!

Lorraine, in the center, exploded.

Originally, she only had the strength of a mid-Pre-Saint, and now she was directly upgraded to a late Pre-Saint.

The spread of her powerful energy stopped the four in their tracks.

The sisters never expected the sudden change, and they had to forcefully give up on landing the final blow.

They were frozen on the spot for a while.

They would never have thought that Lorraine would actually be hiding her strength.

Lorraine's ability to reach mid-Pre-Saint was already shocking.

The sisters had underestimated her.

The energy absorbed by this girl was probably at least 95%, and there had been very little wastage.

Such a character could be called a peerless asset.

As the four of them were stunned, Lorraine found the right time and turned her body into a bolt of lightning.

Woosh!

She shot out from between the two of them and flew into the distance at a high speed.

She was so fast that in a blink of an eye, she was gone.

To make her four teachers lower their guard and create an excellent opportunity for her to escape, Lorraine chose to forcefully endure countless attacks.

Although her Saint's body was in tatters, it was not fatal.

As long as she could escape, she would be healed quickly with the restorative power of her body.

Lorraine was gone in a flash, and it was only after she disappeared that Eira and her sisters realized the reality of the situation.

'Oh no!

'That girl is going to run away.'

Huge fear overwhelmed them.

They could not allow Lorraine to escape. If not, not only would their master would not be able to wake up, there might be horrible consequences if they gave her enough time to grow.

"Go after her!"

Marin yelled.

An invisible fire burned instantly in her body.

Then, her entire person turned blood red while her energy rose rapidly.

Upon hearing Marin's voice, the three also did the same time.

This was one of the Feather family's forbidden techniques, Soul Blaze.

They could ignite their soul power, or in other words, mind power, to gain more than ten times their, combat power in an instant.

The reason this was called a forbidden technique was that the caster would have to pay a very high price after casting this.

Soul power was recognized as the most difficult thing to recover in the universe.

Once burned out, the caster would die.

Even if it was stopped halfway, it would cause permanent damage to the caster.

This was a forbidden technique that only the direct descendants of the Feather family and the death soldiers they trained could learn.

Eira and her sisters, as Azul's slaves, were always with Azul and they would share both the honor and the disgrace, hence they were considered the people closest to him. That was why they were secretly taught Soul Blaze.

Although it was against the rules, such practices had become the norm.

Almost all of the Feather family's direct descendants would do this.

They could ask the people around them to use this technique at critical moments as it could buy them more time to escape.

The casting of Soul Blaze increased the combat power of the four sisters by more than ten times in an instant.

However, the consequences were also very severe.

Originally, they had just performed a forbidden technique to forcibly improve Lorraine's strength and their bodies were in a state of utter weakness.

Then, they were engaged in another lengthy battle.

They had suffered some injuries, and now they were casting Soul Blaze again.

After this battle, even if the four of them did not die, they would be useless.

Even if their master woke up, there would be no way for him to save them!

Recommended Novels