

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3106

Novel Chapter 3106 -During the period when the news of Siena's death came, Lucas often dreamed of Siena.

He started his business in the last year, and his work was relatively busy, so he seldom thought of Siena.

The appearance of Hazel made him think of Siena frequently again.

One of the things he regretted the most was that when he left home to study in Eozambiulle, he didn't say goodbye to Siena properly.

Those who thought they could meet again, turned out to be forever.

And when he left home to go to Eozambiulle, he directly left the mobile phone he was using at home.

He didn't want to contact his family, and wanted to go to Eozambiulle to start his new life.

It was precisely because of this behavior that he completely lost contact with Siena.

Siena had no friends, presumably after he left, Siena didn't even have anyone to talk to.

He didn't know why Siena died, and what kind of pain she experienced before she died.

Every time he thought of this, he felt very uncomfortable.

He got out of bed and went to the bathroom to wash up.

After washing his face, he was more awake.

A voice sounded in his heart, asking him to go back to the old house and find the old mobile phone.

Hogan family.

Lucas's return shocked Mr. Hogan and Mrs. Hogan.

When Lucas came back, the two of them didn't get up. Only the butler and maids were up and busy.

Lucas said that he was going to the auxiliary building, and when the butler was looking for the key, he woke up Mr. Hogan.

When Mr. Hogan got up, Mrs. Hogan heard that Lucas was back, so she also got up.

"Lucas, why did you come back so early today? Why didn't you tell me in advance? Stay and have breakfast!" Mr. Hogan looked at his son and said with a smile, "By the way, how is your mother?"

Lucas: "If you really care about my mother, you can ask her yourself. She is not dead yet."

The expression on Mr. Hogan's face suddenly became embarrassing: "Lucas, I wanted to go to the hospital to visit your mother, but your mother refused to see me. She resents me very much."

Lucas: "Since that's the case, then you don't have to pretend to care about her. She doesn't care, and neither do I."

Mr. Hogan: "Okay! You came back so early, what's the matter?"

Lucas: "I'm coming back to get my old things."

Mr. Hogan: "What old thing?"

At this time, the butler came over with the key to the auxiliary building: "Young Master Hogan, this is the key to the auxiliary building, do you need me to go over and open the door for you?"

Lucas took the key: "I'll just go by myself."

After Lucas walked out with the key, Mrs. Hogan immediately asked the butler, "What old things does he want? I remember throwing away all his things when you packed them up, right?"

The butler said awkwardly: "Yes. You told us to throw away all the things of Young Master Hogan before."

Mrs. Hogan: "What do you mean by dumping the pot on me? Although Lucas has achieved a little bit now, he won't help the Hogan family if he succeeds! Don't think you can get any benefits from him!"

Mr. Hogan yelled angrily: "The butler is just telling the truth! When you asked people to throw away Lucas's things, I was there!"

"You were there, why didn't you stop me? It means that you don't care much about this son! What kind of father are you pretending to be now! Besides, his old things are all rags, throw them away as soon as they are thrown away, what a pity!"

auxiliary building.

Lucas opened the door and entered.

There was a strong musty smell inside because the windows had not been opened for a long time to ventilate.
