

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3113

Chapter 3113 -Faced with his persecution, Hazel took a deep breath: “Siena told me.”

Lucas: “What else did she tell you?”

Hazel’s heart beat faster: “Boss, do you care about Siena? Otherwise, why do you want to know what she said to me?”

Lucas’s cheeks turned red suddenly, and he couldn’t hold back his face, so he said aggressively: “It’s fine if you don’t say it! I’m going to sleep.”

Hazel nodded: “Go to sleep quickly! Do you want me to call you later?”

Lucas: “No need.”

After Lucas returned to the bedroom, Hazel started to clean up the dishes.

Soon, Hazel cleaned up the kitchen and went to the balcony to touch the sofa cover.

The sofa cover was dry.

Hazel put the sofa cover in, covered the sofa, then sat on the sofa and turned on the phone.

She made a bold decision.

The decision was not to go home for the time being.

Of course, when her brother got married, she would return home, but after the wedding, she had to return to Thopiavelle.

She liked Lucas, she was very sure in her heart.

Lucas helped her redeem her mother-in-law’s bracelet back then, but didn’t tell her... She thought about it, the reason why Lucas didn’t tell her was probably because she mistakenly thought it was Cyrus who helped her.

Lucas must have been angry because of this, so his attitude towards her became a little indifferent afterwards.

So much so that when Lucas decided to study in Eozambiulle, he didn't ask her to send him off.

Looking back, Hazel thought they were stupid at the time. But she also felt that time was a particularly rare and valuable memory in her life.

Lucas used to be so nice to her, and it didn't matter if it was just out of sympathy for her.

She wanted to stay in Thopiavelle to see if Lucas was interested in her.

Holding the phone, Hazel hesitated for a moment, and then sent a message to her mother: [Mom, I won't be going home for now. I will go back when my brother is about to get married.]

When Avery saw the message, she immediately called Hazel.

Avery's tone was a little anxious: "Hazel, why did you change your mind? Did something happen?"

Hazel's cheeks were hot: "Mom, I found that I like Lucas very much. I want to be with him."

Avery: "Why did you make such a decision suddenly? You confessed to him that you are Siena?"

"No. I didn't tell him." Hazel replied, "I found out that Lucas had helped me a lot before. He didn't tell me. I found it myself. He used to be so good to me, although my current identity is not Siena, but I am Siena! It is impossible for me to erase the memories of the past."

Avery's heart softened when she heard her daughter's voice gradually choking.

"Hazel, don't cry. Mom understands your feelings. If you want to stay in Thopiavelle, then don't come back. You haven't seen him for three years, so you can get along with him more." Avery coaxed softly.

Hazel stretched out her hand to wipe away her tears, and smiled: "Thank you mom! I just want to make sure that I like him very much, but I will not make important decisions rashly. Before making any important decisions, I will definitely tell you."

Avery: "Well. Mom knows you are a sensible child. But if this is the case, your father and I should go to Thopiavelle to see."

Hazel: "Are you coming now? Can we talk about it later! Aren't you going to organize a wedding for my brother?"

Avery: "Even if your father and I don't go now, we will send someone over to have a look."
