Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2159

Married at First Sight Chapter 2159-The people in the room went out quietly, leaving space for the young couple.

Zachary hugged the person in his arms tightly, and said softly: "I am also very happy and excited."

"Zachary."

"Um."

"I…"

Serenity raised her head in his arms, and Zachary also looked down at her. Seeing that her eyes were red, Zachary kissed her eyes tenderly, and coaxed softly: "Don't cry, I see you cry, I feel stressed. You are pregnant now, don't be too emotionally ups and downs."

Serenity: "I know, I'm just too excited. In the past year, I have been under too much pressure, especially when all the married people behind Jasmine are pregnant, I am even more anxious."

Zachary kissed her lips, kissed her lightly, and said softly: "Seren, stop talking, I know, I know everything, I'm sorry, it's because of me that you are under so much pressure."

After half a year of marriage, people in Wiltspoon began to stare at her stomach.

She had never been pregnant, and even if Zachary said that they wanted to live a world of two and that they were not in a hurry to have a child, there were still many people who said in private that she would not have one.

Said that even if she married into a wealthy family and could not have children, she would be kicked out of the York family sooner or later.

He warned countless people behind his back, not allowing those rumors to reach her ears. But she still knew.

She didn't say anything, and she acted indifferently. Only he knew how much she was looking forward to the arrival of the child in her heart.

Zachary: "Seren, don't think about anything. From now on, you will be happy and be the most beautiful mother."

Serenity looked at Zachary for a moment, nodded vigorously, and then leaned into his arms to calm down his excited emotions.

Zachary hugged her.

The couple cuddled together.

The room was extremely quiet.

Until they heard the sound of kicking the bed board.

"Daughter woke up."

Serenity gently pushed Zachary away, and she got up and walked to the crib. She really saw Avah kicking on the bed with one leg. After seeing Serenity, the little baby looked very happy, and both short legs began to kick up.

The little quilt covering her body had already been pushed to the end of the crib by her.

Enzo next to her also woke up.

The little Enzo squinted his mouth as soon as he opened his eyes, and before he could cry out, his sister's hand accidentally slapped him on the face, startling him, and then burst into tears.

When Enzo cried, Fabian, who was sleeping on the bed, was also woken up.

Then the two crying cats started a competition who could cry louder.

Avah who woke up first turned her head to look at her brother beside her. She didn't cry, she just looked at her brother like that.

Instead of hugging the crying Enzo, Zachary hugged Avah and said, "Ben's daughter is really cute and obedient, she seldom cries, so I finally got her in my arms."

He hugged Avah first, hoping that he and Serenity could also have a daughter.

It would be even better if she could have both children like Jane.

However, he heard that being pregnant with twins could be very difficult for a mother in the third trimester.

Zachary didn't want his wife to suffer so much, let's have a single child, just have a daughter.

Serenity wanted to hug Enzo, but also wanted Fabian.

After howling a few times, Enzo turned over, but his face was buried in the quilt. Serenity worried that he would be smothered, so she had to hug him first.

The cries of the two little crying cats spread, and only then did people outside remember that they avoided a moment ago and left the three little milk babies in the children's room.

Jane hurriedly pushed the door open and entered.

Seeing her coming in, Serenity handed Enzo over to her.

"Enzo is still the same. He cries whenever he wakes up. Avah only kicks the bed when she wakes up. Remind adults that when she wakes up, she still looks like she's watching a play when she sees her brother crying."

Recommended Novels