

Revenge 1021

Chapter 1021

"Iris, I'm just worried that he might be an amateur and might cause your grandfather's condition to worsen," Gilbert smiled sheepishly and slumped.

"So what? Grandpa is pretty much like a dead person now and even the Holy Doctor was at his wits end! It doesn't matter if Leon can cure Grandpa so long as he tries his best! If something does happen to Grandpa, it's just how things are meant to be. You can't possibly blame Leon for that!" Iris deadpanned coldly.

"But," rendered speechless, Gilbert wanted to argue, but could not say a word.

"Uncle Gilbert, can you move out of the way now?" Leon asked.

Gilbert looked down on Leon since the first time they met as though they were enemies from their past lives. Even after Gilbert lost everything, his contempt for Leon did not cease and Leon could not understand what gave Gilbert the idea that he had any rights to look down on anyone.

Chapter 1022

"Leon, so you have been bragging when you said that you can cure my father!" Gilbert mocked when he knew that Leon could not wake Albert right away.

"Dad, treating someone isn't that easy! Besides, Grandpa is in a critical state right now. Isn't it normal that it will take Leon a few days?" Iris retorted.

"Who knows? Your injuries from the time before were much worse, but he revived you right away, didn't he? If he can't even wake Dad up now, how can he be capable of curing him? I think he just had the wrong diagnosis!" Gilbert said.

He never believed for a moment that his father was attacked and was doubtful after hearing Leon's diagnosis, but was only forced into compromising since Iris supported Leon and reality showed that Leon could not revive Albert.

"He's fine! He should wake up anytime now!" Leon smiled.

"Wake up? Just look at him!" Gilbert roared as he looked at Albert's limp body. "You scammer, Leon! I already told you that you had the wrong diagnosis, but you insist on doing things your way."

Gilbert grew increasingly irritated and the anger he suppressed exploded.

"Calm down, Dad! Leon said that Grandpa will wake up soon. Just wait!" Iris said, her voice growing weaker as she spoke.

She trusted Leon at first, but Albert did not seem to recover throughout the days and she started to doubt if her father was right about Leon having the wrong diagnosis.

“Yeah! You’re fine, Grandpa! Leon saved you,” Iris said excitedly.

“Leon?” Albert paused and was instantly filled with joy when he saw Leon standing on the side.

Right before he lost consciousness, the only thought in his mind was that Leon was the only one who could save the Youngs and seeing how Leon was inside his room, Albert assumed that the Youngs were saved from the hands of Harold with Leon’s help.

Furious, he slapped Gilbert across the face with all his might. “Gilbert, you moron! Look at what you’ve done!

“Snap!”

A sharp pain, followed by numbness, spread across Gilbert’s cheek. If Albert did not lose all his power from the damage to his Energy Sea Point, he would have suffered severe injuries from the slap.

“Dad, why would you hit me?” He muttered in confusion.

“Why shouldn’t I hit you?! You have ruined what the Youngs have built for the past hundreds of years!” Albert shivered with anger as he slapped Gilbert once again.

Though reluctant, Albert was still his father and he could not disobey Albert, so he fell onto his knees.

"You sure look upset with me!" Albert could sense Gilbert's reluctance.

"I wouldn't dare to be. I just think that since Royce is my son, it doesn't really matter who becomes the leader. You didn't have to be so angry," Gilbert muttered.

"I didn't have to be angry?! You idiot! Royce isn't your son! He's the bast*rd son of Daisy and Harold Lowe!" Albert roared, exposing the secret that Daisy and Harold hid for years.

He came close to fighting Leon when he first found out that Leon held Royce hostage, and finally realized how foolish he was at this moment.

At the very least, they could not trust the Youngs with Daisy and Harold.

“You’re right, Iris! With your grandpa’s help, we can definitely return!” Encouraged, Gilbert’s spirit was uplifted and the despair in his expression faded.

He walked over and kneeled by the bed. “Dad, I’ve been so wrong, but it’s something that’s already happened. Right now, the top priority is for us to take the control back from Daisy and Harold! Once you recover, you should be able to get rid of them with your power in the Intermediate Overlord State and your credibility within the family!” Gilbert said excitedly as he placed all hope on his father.

"Impossible! Melvin and the others are all Youngs. Are they supposed to support Daisy and Harold instead of me?" Albert shook his head as he shot Leon's advice down.

"I'll be frank, Elder Young. If you still have your power, they might back you up, but now that you're powerless, they won't side with you even if they don't intend on submitting to Harold Lowe!" Leon said.

"Grandpa, don't worry! We might not be able to rely on the Youngs, but we have Leon on our side! I'm sure he'll help us!" Iris said, entrusting Leon with leading them to success.

"Leon?" Albert paused in confusion.

Leon was viewed as the Youngs' enemy before he lost consciousness and it was extremely kind of Leon to agree to treat Albert, so Albert did not dare to ask for his help in taking back control of the family.

Iris noticed the doubt in Albert's mind and explained, "Grandpa, Leon and I are back together."
