The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 201

Inside the factory office, Leon and Ariel met the factory manager Guido Boyd. He was a slightly chubby middle-aged man and dressed himself up in a business suit.

Guido had a hand in the factory's day-to-day operations, overseeing many processes including production, shipment, and quality inspection. He was part of the company's top management, and might even be considered one of the big shots.

However, Leon and Ariel were high-ranking individuals that the head office sent to inspect the factory, and they were also the people in charge of cooperating with the Wick Group. Ariel, in particular, was considered a powerful figure among the head office's top ranks, so Guido had to be extra careful around them.

"Miss Summers, Mister Wolf, let me show you two around the workshop," Guido offered respectfully.

"It's fine, Mister Boyd. Mister Wolf and I are here on an informal visit. We're just going to have a look at the situation here. You can proceed with your usual duties instead of taking us to the workshop yourself. Just have someone take us there," Ariel gave him a curt smile.

"I see... Well, that's fine too." Guido pondered for a moment and then called the person in charge of the workshop's production management.

xPart of the Elegante Group's salary package was a performance bonus, and because the production capacity failed to reach the previous requirements, the performance bonus would be halved.

It would mean that the salary of a low-level employee would be reduced by about 150 dollars monthly for no good reason, so it was natural for everyone to complain about it..

Stanley's reasons for letting Ariel know were twofold. On one hand, he felt that the raw materials were not as good as before, and on the other hand, he also had his employees' best interests in mind.

"Problems, you say? Well, all procurement of raw materials and the production thereof are under the sole purview of Mister Mercer. You can report this matter to Mister Boyd or directly to Mister Mercer. I'm sorry I can't be of more help," Ariel frowned.

Stanley smiled wryly. "I'll be frank with you, Miss Summers. I've already reported this to Mister Boyd, but he's never given me a direct answer. Mister Mercer, on the other hand, is a high-level leader of the company who rarely comes down here. It's not easy for a small-time workshop manager like me to meet him."

Ariel might have no right to interfere with matters involving Ashwin, but Leon—being the person in charge of cooperating with the Wick Group—had the right to intervene in any issue relating to the products being supplied. None of his actions could be construed as exceeding his authority.

"What? I..." Stanley was dumbfounded. He never dreamed that a small-time secretary like Leon would wield such great authority, to the extent that a higher-ranked figure like Ariel was working under him!

It was incredible, and it was also the first time he heard of such an amazing secretary!

"Don't worry, Mister Wallace. I'll relay your message to Miss Young word-for-word later, and I'll try my best to help everyone get the benefits they deserve," Leon pledged sincerely..

“Thank you, Mister Wolf. Thank you so much...” Stanley was overjoyed. He grabbed Leon’s hand excitedly, shook the latter’s hand with a bow, and was grateful.

“Don’t worry. I’m quite confident about this! You said it yourself that Miss Young has given me a lot of authority over this issue, and I have the final say when it comes to the Wick Group’s products! Since she has placed her trust in me, it falls upon me to meet her expectations!” Leon smiled excitedly.

Although the company’s research and development department was filled with professionals, they were pampered employees who merely sit in the office all day! It was hopeless to count on them to have the necessary knowledge for things that it mattered, and counting on the experienced Stanley would be much better!

More importantly, Leon had full confidence in his medical skills, and the only thing he lacked at the moment. was an understanding of the various aspects of the product.

Stanley was just the right perfect to complement him in areas in which he did not have the requisite knowledge!

“You’re reading too much into Iris’s statement! I give up!” Ariel gritted her teeth with anger. She did not think that a layman like Leon would be able to help the company increase its refining efficiency or produce better cosmeceuticals, especially when he just joined the company not too long ago.

It was simply unrealistic!

I held on to Leo, and he wrapped his arms around me. I felt his wolf vibrate, and his body became warm.

Leo stopped and pulled off my shirt. While he did it, he had wolf eyes.

He was really trying to control and take things slow, but I doubted Black wanted that.

Aurora was surfacing, too, and I hoped this would be it for us.

Leo took off my shirt while both of us knelt in bed facing each other.

His eyes were on me, and I watched them travel down my body.

He reached for my breasts with both hands and squeezed gently. I moaned, and he growled in response.

I felt his thumb caress my hard nipples, and I closed my eyes to enjoy the sensation.

Leo laid me down and went for my hard nipples with his mouth.

I felt his warm lips on one of my nipples, and his tongue flicked the tip, and then he sucked it gently while his thumb caressed the other nipple.

I was coming apart already.

My body was ready for him, and he knew it. I felt my lace panties fall off. I figured he used his claws to cut the sides to make it fall off.

I could smell my wetness, and I knew he could. He left the nipple and blew on it gently.

The cool air made the hairs on my back stand up, and I anticipated more. I felt his lips on the other nipple, and he sucked on it.

Moaning, I ran my fingers through his hair. Trying to find a way to handle the pleasure I was getting. His fingers travel down my body, and I felt them part my lips.

“You are wet, Moonlight,” he linked me, and I moaned in response.

I really did not care. My eyes were shut, and I felt and enjoyed everything he was doing. He caressed my nerve bundle with his thumb.

I opened my legs wider for him. He travelled down my slit and slipped his finger inside me, still sucking and licking my nipple.

I tilted my head back to savour the feeling.

Giving him full control and access to do whatever he wanted with me. My wall clamped around his finger, and I wanted more.

I wanted him to go deeper and ease the aching spots inside me; I wanted his cock.

I felt him add an extra finger and gently thrust in and out of me. He moved from my nipples back to the sweet spot on my neck and sucked on the skin. He was still thrusting in and out of my pussy with his fingers.

After saying that, Iris paused and added, "I know you did this to help some of the lower-level employees, so let me offer a suggestion. I'll have a word with Mister Mercer later and ask him to lower the factory's production capacity standards so that the performance bonuses will not be affected!"

"No! Iris, I know that the subject of raw materials has been troubling you a lot. Even if the production capacity standard was lowered, it's a stop-gap solution that doesn't address the root cause! I... I want to share your burdens." Leon said, summoning up his courage.

"You..." Iris was stunned, and an indescribable warmth surged into her heart. Leon's guess was right, the issue of raw materials was indeed one of her constant troubles!

The rapid development of the company in the past two years, coupled with the insufficient supply of raw materials, left her no choice but to let Ashwin go on a business trip to source new partners who could provide the raw materials. She knew that the quality of the new supply was not as good, but she resigned herself to just grit her teeth and accept it!

Of course, if Leon was capable of increasing the refining efficiency of those new raw materials or developing cosmeceuticals that had better effects, her worries would be solved completely!

If those energy-

infused morning dew were added to the raw materials of cosmetics, it would greatly improve the effects of the resulting cosmeceutical and promote the better amalgamation of raw materials!

Behold, the beauty of nature!

Leon collected the morning dew into a container. Since the spiritual energy produced at night had been absorbed by the morning dew and there was no extra spiritual energy for him to refine, he had no choice but to go back down the mountain.

Back in the company, Michael was having a heated chat with Ashwin the latter's office. Ashwin happened to be the person in charge of raw material procurement, as well as production and processing, and the factory manager Guido Boyd was his subordinate.

Leon stayed in the factory all day yesterday, where he made known his plans to increase the refining efficiency as well develop some cosmeceuticals. Guido realized that something was amiss and so reported it to Ashwin as soon as possible.

Ashwin nearly blew up after hearing that! He knew that Iris had entrusted Leon with the cooperation involving the Wick Group, and even though Leon was causing trouble under the guise of supplying products, he could only grit his teeth and endure everything despite his marked annoyance at Leon's actions!

Ashwin then continued, "I'm going to contact a few senior executives and have them try to cooperate with the R-and-

D department to put pressure on Leon. During the meeting, we'll all work together to stop Leon from getting his way!"

"Gotcha." Michael nodded and strode out of the office.

On the other side, Leon and Ariel were about to leave for the factory, but when they heard the news that Iris was holding a high-level meeting, they decided to put their plans aside and walk to the meeting room together.

The company executives were already inside the meeting room when Leon and Ariel arrived.

At that point, the clacking of heels was heard and Iris walked into the conference room with her secretary,

Seeing as everyone was speechless, Ashwin had no choice but to speak up. "Miss Young, we trust Miss Summers's ability beyond a shadow of a doubt, but-

Iris, however, interrupted him before he could say anything, "I don't want to hear any buts! It was Leon who secured the contract with the Wick Group, so it stands to reason that this cooperation ought to be entrusted to him! The bottom line is this: I've already made up my mind, and all discussion about this matter is to end. here!" Iris slammed the table and made a final decision.

"I... Alright." Ashwin's expression soured and he slumped back somewhat embarrassedly.

He initially planned to join hands with several executives to put pressure on Leon and attempt to force Leon into relinquishing that authority. Little did he expect that Iris would value Leon so much more than he imagined, even to the extent of giving it her all to defend Leon and waste all of Ashwin's efforts.

However, he was not one to give up so easily, so he quietly looked at George Proctor, the director of the research and development department. George was a middle-aged man in his 50s with a medium-fat build. He looked like he was the kind of guy who grew accustomed to living the high life.

"Miss Young, there's one more thing I'd like to discuss." George stood up, with his belly jutting out as a result.

She knew about Leon's plan to increase the refining efficiency and develop cosmeceuticals, and his involvement in those matters which are not within his responsibility could be construed as exceeding his authority. "How dare you make such accusations? Who said that our R-and-D department has no results to show? We've made breakthroughs since the approval of funding and we'll be able to develop high-end cosmeceuticals soon!" George became red with rage.

"How soon is soon? A month? A year!" Ariel scoffed.

George was irritated. "It won't take that long. I can give you a guarantee that our R-and-D department will be able to launch three different cosmeceuticals within a week!"
