

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2228

Chapter 2228

"I sent some men to look into the origin where the rumors started spreading. According to what we've learned, the rumors were spread on purpose," Yuri explained.

"What? Is this the work of the Southern Boss?" Realization dawned on Angus.

He was confused as to why rumors started to spread merely one day after Roanne moved in with Leon and immediately figured that the Southern Boss had a hand in it.

"That's very likely," Yuri nodded.

He, too, was baffled by the same thing and sent his men to investigate it, only to find that someone was spreading rumors on purpose.

However, he had no proof to confirm if the Southern Boss was indeed the true culprit.

"I guess the Southern Boss is desperate and is preparing to hurt Mister Wolf," Angus said thoughtfully.

He knew about the conflicts between Leon and the Southern Boss and knew that a fight was inevitable between the two.

He agreed for Roanne to move in with Leon mainly because he wished to hinder the Southern Boss from attacking Leon and the others. Since the Southern Boss started spreading rumors, Angus intently realized that the Southern Boss was trying to force the Thompsons to move Roanne out, so that Leon, Iris, and the others would be easy targets.

"Dad, the Southern Boss isn't just getting ready for an attack. He already tried to kill Leon by sending three of his guardians on an assassination! Leon and Henry managed to defeat them, though," Roanne said.

She heard from Iris and the others about how the Southern Boss's guardians attacked Leon, so she started to explain everything she heard to Angus.

"As expected!" Angus's expression darkened as his belief was confirmed.

"Angus, it doesn't matter if the Southern Boss is behind this! At the moment, we need Roanne to move back in to salvage our reputation!" Arthur said.

"I'm afraid that won't work!" Angus shook his head hesitantly.

"What? Why not?" Arthur asked.

Angus was persistent in getting Roanne to move out of Leon's house earlier, so Arthur was surprised that Angus would change his mind.

"Uncle Arthur, Mister Wolf has helped us on multiple occasions! The Southern Boss is trying to force Roanne out of Mister Wolf's house so that he can attack without worrying that he would get in trouble with us! If we do that, we would walk right into his trap and put Mister Wolf in danger," Angus said.

He wanted to get Roanne to go home out of consideration for the family's reputation, but since he learned that the Southern Boss was pulling the strings, Angus refused to fall for it.

Leon helped the Thompsons so much and if Angus insisted that Roanne moved back in, Leon and the others would be in life-threatening danger and Angus would live the rest of his life in guilt.

