However, one could not take their words back, and since her father already declared this in front of so many people, Snow could not possibly turn her father down and risk embarrassing him in front of his respectable.

Besides, she was not entirely against the idea of marrying Leon at all.

"Oh no," everyone's blood ran cold at this.

Snow was a beautiful lady—one of the Four Beauties, no less. No man could ever resist a beauty like her, and Leon was no exception!

Even though the elders did not approve of Vincent's behavior, unlike him, they did not have pretty daughters that they could give out, and thus knew that they would not be able to compete against him.

"I don't know either," Benedict replied, shaking his head. Even though he trusted Leon with all his life, had to admit that Collins gave him a very attractive offer, and he was concerned that Leon would change his mind.

Meanwhile, onstage, Cynthia's face turned red with rage. She planned this immaculate sales drive to help Leon achieve fame and reputation, but along the way, this turned into a dating show for Leon to pick his future wife!

The worst part was, both Snow and Ruth were also part of the Four Beauties and were both on par with her. The truth was, Cynthia, Snow, and Ruth were equal competitors when it came to their family background, looks or figures.

After all, Leon used to be her boyfriend, and they broke up out of circumstances outside her control, and not because she ceased to love him at all.

Therefore, it was certainly not a good feeling to watch the man she loved being pined after by other women, not to mention the women in question were the three remaining beauties in Springfield City. The worst part was, she was helpless to stop them.

“President Wolf, please make a choice!” George was relentless. He fixated his piercing gaze on Leon, hopes of getting an answer.

“Elder Collins, I appreciate your kindness, but the Shears and I’ve been getting along quite well, and as of now, I don’t want to collaborate with anyone else!” Leon replied curtly.

He was a grateful person; the Shears were the ones who helped him build Cynthion Group, and thus he would not abandon them and choose to work with other people. This was not something he could bring himself to Seeing that Leon made his decision, Albert finally could not keep quiet any longer.

“Leon, I want to apologize for the misunderstandings that have arisen between you and my family,” Albert said, letting out an awkward smile.

After finding out that Leon was the alchemist behind the Shears’ legacy, he intended to resolve the unpleasant encounter between them. However, what the Youngs did to Leon was so cruel and heartless that he did not know how to patch things up.

“Some things are meant to be left in the past,” Leon said calmly.

Even though he began to make a name for himself in this city, his achievements were still a long way away from the Four Major Families. Therefore, he was certain that Albert was not giving him a genuine apology at all.

"I-" Leon began to tremble in excitement and wanted nothing more than to agree right in that instant.

"Leon," Next to him, Cynthia bit her lip nervously, her entire face as pale as a sheet of paper.

The truth was, she knew all along that Leon's heart was still with Iris, but she never thought Iris's power over him was so great that Albert would be able to use her as bait, and that Leon would fall for it so easily, as though all the mistreatment he received from the Youngs was forgotten!

She was certain that Leon would agree to anything Albert wanted!

A wave of despair surged through her at this realization.

When he felt Cynthia's gaze on him, Leon immediately regained his composure as though he was struck by lightning.

Thankfully, Louisa was quick enough to catch her before she could fall.

"What's wrong, Iris?" she asked worriedly.

"I'm fine," Iris replied, biting her lip as her blood ran cold.

She was usually a wise and calm person, and thus could easily understand the position Leon was being put in, but now that she was placed on the spot, she could not find it in herself to empathize with him!

All she could see was that Leon chose Cynthia over her.

The Youngs were not the only ones who lost; she also lost to Cynthia.

“Mister Wolf, can the True Energy Pills help people who are at the Peak Innate State become a member of the realm of Supreme Masters?” Jenson asked excitedly.

Due to the Shears having given good marketing before this, most of the major families already heard about the True Energy Pills and what they could yield.

Both Jenson and Bernard came here just for this!

The realm of the Supreme Masters was the first gateway into the practice of martial arts, and the most challenging obstacle to get past.

Jenson was the heir to the Wicks' legacy, and even though he was not as talented as Harvey or even Anson, he was still skilled nonetheless, and just recently, after much hard work and effort, he managed to achieve the Peak Innate State.

If he could get his hands on one of the True Energy Pills, he could easily become a member of the realm of Supreme Masters, and this would save him so much time!

Leon cleared his throat.

"Try? How is he going to do that?" Everyone was dubious of this.

"It's easy; as everyone knows, Mister Harvey Shear has remained at the Peak Innate State for quite some time now. Cynthion Group can offer him a True Energy Pill to try, and if he manages to ascend to become a member of the realm of Supreme Masters, it will prove that the True Energy Pills do work. On the contrary, if he is unable to achieve that, it would mean the True Energy Pills don't work at all!" Leon said, smiling.

Leon finally understood why Cynthia refused to let Harvey take one of the pills when they were first produced; it turned out she plan to use Harvey to prove the pills' effectiveness in public!

Leon could not help lamenting how smart and sharp Cynthia was!

"Use Mister Shear as a test subject? That sounds like a good idea!" the crowd erupted into a flurry of commotion and activity.

However, Leon was the only person who seemed calm about all this.

Even though he never experimented with the True Energy Pills and was thus unsure if they would work or not, he took the Foundation Pills before, and since the Foundation Pill successfully helped him get through to the Foundation Phase, this meant that the True Energy Pills would work too!

After all, the last time he took the Foundation Pill, he spent an entire afternoon absorbing the energy within them which finally allowed him to break through the Foundation Phase.

Leon guessed that Harvey's situation was the same; he needed time to absorb the energy within the pills, which was why there was a significant delay.

Neither of them thought that Harvey would truly make it to the realm of Supreme Masters with the True Energy Pill's help!

"How's this possible?" the Fields and the Lowes were casting dirty looks at him.

The crowd was already riled up with their encouragement, and Leon was just minutes away from being defeated, but now, Harvey's energy ascended at the last minute and foiled their plans!

One could only imagine their rage!

"Mister Shear, congratulations on achieving Initial Supreme State," Leon said, smiling.
