Chapter 971

“Leave this to me, boss!” Jackson volunteered. He knew that Leon was already at the Peak Supreme State, but he already attained the Semi Overlord State two years ago, and his power was on par with Harold before this!

Why would he even take notice of someone like Leon?

“Hmm, alright!” Harold was silent for a moment, then agreed. He already crossed paths with Leon at the Youngs’ ceremony, and at that time, he could tell that Leon was only at the Peak Supreme State and was yet to attain the Overlord State.

There was a significant difference between the Peak Supreme State and the Semi Overlord State, and they were not on the same level at all! Therefore, it would be as easy as ABC for Jackson to defeat him!

He did not even need to take Leon on himself—by handing him over to Jackson, this would save him the trouble of getting involved and risking ruining his reputation as the Northern King!

him as easily as swatting a fly, and Leon would stand no chance of escaping at all!

"No, I won't leave Iris here by herself!" Leon shook his head and rejected Ruth's suggestion.

"What?" Ruth could not believe her ears. She never thought, not even in her wildest dreams, that Leon would still be preoccupied with Iris's safety at a time like this, not when his own life was in peril!

"Leon, listen to me. I know you're worried about Iris, but don't worry, I've already texted my grandfather for help, and I'm sure it won't be long until my grandfather and the rest of the Collins' masters arrive.

"This is your death sentence, Leon Wolf! Taste my wrath!" with a sneer, Jackson sent out a punch surging in Leon's direction, stirring up dust in its wake.

"I gladly welcome it!" Leon knew that his power was no match for Jackson at all, and thus a prolonged battle would not work in his favor. Therefore, he decided to take a gamble and sent out everything he had—he cocked his fist back and sent out his signature Double Attack, rising to the occasion to meet Jackson head-on!

Everyone watching this was astounded to see Leon take Jackson on and immediately erupted into a flurry of activity.

“Has that man gone insane?”

“He’s only at the Peak Supreme State and is no match for Jackson at all. Does he have a death wish?”

The Youngs were utterly stunned by this and immediately turned to gape at Leon with looks of disbelief.

“That idiot!”

“Well, it’s his death wish!”

Harold and the rest snickered and could not help jeering at Leon. All of them knew with Leon’s

Everyone watching, including the Youngs, Harold and the rest of the Lowes, and even Ruth were utterly stunned by this!

None of them ever thought, not even in their wildest dreams, that a Semi Overlord like Jackson would lose to Leon, not to mention get injured so severely by Leon's attack!

One could only imagine the shock!

The entire place seemed to fall silent.

Pin drop silence.

"Thank God this worked out," A small smile crossed Leon's face as he sighed in relief.

He knew that he was far less powerful than Jackson, and he took the risk to use his Harold's realization was too late.

Within the blink of an eye, Leon took advantage of the momentum from Harold's attack and sent himself surging through the air, landing smack dab in the middle of the Lowes' territory.

"Take this, Jacob!" Leon bellowed as he fixed his sights on Jacob and sent a powerful surge of energy Jacob's way.

"Save me, Father," Jacob was utterly terrified at this point. He never thought that Leon would attack him so suddenly and without warning. Not only that, but he only attained the Initial Supreme State and was no match for Leon at all, but he did not want to stand around to find out.

Jacob immediately dropped onto his knees in an attempt to evade Leon's attack, but it was too late.

The fact that Leon managed to turn the situation around in his favor was astounding to him!

However, he was the Northern King, after all, and there were rare things that could faze him!

Besides, Leon was not nearly as sly as he was, and there was no way he would admit defeat so easily! Now that his son landed in Leon's hands, he knew there was no way he could rescue Jacob, so he shifted his attention immediately, and directed his attack straight toward Iris!

Iris was Leon's girlfriend, and as long as he got ahold of her, he and Leon would have hostages against each other, and surely Leon would surrender!

"Don't you dare, Harold! If you so much as lay a finger on her, I'll kill Jacob right this instant!" the color drained from Leon's face when he saw Harold heading toward Iris.

However, Ruth was not the woman Leon loved at all and just his friend, so Harold was not entirely sure if this would work.

“How dare you!” the color drained from Leon’s face. He never thought Harold would be so ruthless as to capture Ruth instead when Iris was out of his reach!

Even though he and the Collins were just business partners, the only reason Ruth landed in Harold’s hands was because she tried to save Iris, and there was no way Leon would stand by and watch while Harold attacked her!

“Why don’t you find out by yourself?” Harold sneered. He could not help feeling relieved when he saw how concerned Leon was over Ruth’s safety.

“There’s no need to scare anyone, Harold!” Ruth did not seem at all afraid and instead

"If you dare to hurt my Ruthie, I'll scatter your bones all over this place!" All of a

The car door swung open, and George stepped out of the car, his eyes ablaze with rage and his aura

pulsating, followed closely behind by a few of the Collins' master martial artists.

"My grandfather's here!" Ruth was overjoyed to see this and immediately, all her despair and sorrow dissipated, but she was not the only one feeling this way—Leon, Iris, and the rest were also delighted to see George arrive, and a glimmer of hope ignited within them.

In contrast, the previously triumphant smile froze on Harold's face.

"Harold Lowe, how dare you bully and injure my granddaughter!" George's eyes bulged out of his head in sheer rage when he saw that Harold had his hands on Ruth, should he get caught up in combat.

"Leon, please be safe," Iris muttered under her breath, praying for Leon's safety, before finally turning around and following Louisa and Gilbert into the car.

With Jacob in Leon's hands, as well as George and the rest of the Collins' help, Harold knew he was outnumbered and thus did not try to stop the three of them from leaving.

When he saw that the three of them finally left, Leon felt as though a weight was lifted off his shoulders.

"Shall we switch our hostages now, Leon?" Harold asked.

“Yes, we shall!” Leon replied and dragged Jacob toward the center.

At this moment, the entire comrade shifted positions—now, the Youngs and the Lowes were standing on the northern side, whereas Collins was right across from them, both poised for

Harold gasped in horror, not at all expecting that Leon would have prepared a secret weapon against him.

His attack froze in its track momentarily as he shifted his energy to protecting himself against Leon's needles, but it was too late. The last of Harold's channeled energy still managed to catch Leon and struck him squarely in his chest.

Leon spat out a mouthful of blood as his lean body was sent propelling into the air, finally landing in a crumpled heap a few meters away from where he stood.

Then, an excruciating pain shot through his entire body. It seemed that at least three or four of his ribs were broken, and it was clear he suffered other substantial injuries.

However, fortunately, his needles momentarily distracted Harold, and if he met Harold's attack head-on, he would have been crippled or even dead by now!

"Take this, you twat!" Harold cackled. Leon was always his enemy, and thus he could not hesitate when it came to destroying Leon once and for all!
