The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 911

Only the gods would await her and Leon in the future.

In the Collins Mansion, Leon arrived by car to thank their help and to fulfil his promise to George.

Leon was led into the main hall by one of the guards and soon spotted George.

After a brief exchange of pleasantries, they both took their seats.

"Thank you for your help for what happened the last time!" Leon expressed his gratitude sincerely.

"It's nothing. Allow me to cut to the chase. Are you here to fulfill your promise, Leon?"

George asked, his eyes glittering with excitement.

"Yes! May I know which martial artist I will be assisting? Please get him here and I'll do my best!"

"Very well. Hang on," George clapped his hands and shouted

"Ruth, come out!"

"I can give you three years' time and so long as you succeed in making Ruth an Overlord within that period of time, that's more than enough," George said.

"But," Leon hesitated.

He saw what a genius Ruth was and with three years' time, there was a high chance that he could get Ruth to the Overlord State; however, his deal with George was only to assist a Semi-Overlord within the Collins to reach the Overlord State.

All Leon had to do was fulfill his promise and he saw no point in wasting his time to help Ruth as he would not gain anything from it.

He would have to be a fool to agree to George's terms.

George deadpanned. He wanted Ruth to move to Dragonbay Villas for the time-being so that it would be more convenient for Leon to help with her training.

“Oh, I see. You scared me for a moment there,” Ruth blushed when she realized she misunderstood what her grandfather meant to say.

Leon defeated and injured her before all the families in Springfield City during the sales drive organized by Cynthion Group and she was humiliated, so she did not like Leon at all and was reluctant to move in with him.

However, before she could protest, Leon took a step forward and said,“ Let’s not, Elder Collins! I’ll visit frequently to help with Miss Collins’ training from now on. I don’t think it to move into my place!” Leon Both Ruth and Anson were surprised.

“Of course, not! Leon has reached the Realm of a Supreme Master, and even mastered the art of alchemy and medicines at such a young age. On top of that, he even has the means to make Semi-Overlords into Overlords! These are all too strange!” George said. As the leader of the Collins, he saw countless talented individuals throughout his life, but no one like Leon.

“Yeah, he’s strange!”

Ruth and Anson nodded in agreement.

Not only was Leon extremely talented in martial arts, no one seemed to hold a candle to him in other aspects such as alchemy and medicine; and it all seemed supernatural for someone his age to achieve such greatness.

Naturally, none of them knew that not only did Leon own Power methods, he even possessed Absolute Methods; if George and Anson knew about it, they would be hysterical in disbelief.

“What are you trying to suggest, Grandpa?” Ruth slowly began to realize George’s intention.

“Ruth, I’ve arranged for you to stay by Leon’s side because I need you to figure out his secrets! If he truly possesses Power Methods or something of equal value, I need you to grab it at all cost!” George narrowed his eyes slyly.

He did not care about what secrets Leon held, but he wanted the Power Methods that Leon owned, so that the Collins could utilize the methods and become the ruler of Springfield City.

“Besides, it’s not like Leon is a good person. He made Iris commit suicide for him and broke Cynthia Shear’s heart! A man like him isn’t a good match for Iris and he can’t make her happy!” Anson said.

“You’re talking as though you can make Iris Young happy! Do you have no self-awareness at all?” Ruth shot Anson a look of contempt.

Both Anson and Theodore were the known playboys in the city and she could not understand what gave Anson the courage to accuse Leon for being an unreliable man. Exposed by his sister, Anson muttered sheepishly, “I was young back then. I truly love Iris!”

“I’m not believing that! I don’t have time for your stupid plan!” Ruth scoffed and turned to leave.

After a few days' rest and Leon's help to prescribe him with medication for his condition, he healed and no longer needed to be in his wheelchair.

"Why not? Leon was the one who bought Elegante Group for 780 million. Now that he's back, it only makes sense that I return the company to his hands!" Iris scowled.

"No way!" Gilbert roared.

Both him and Iris were denounced from the Youngs and Elegante Group was their only hope in returning to the family. If Iris returned the company to Leon, Gilbert would have no opportunity to return to his family or climb back to any position of power.

“No! I won't be making any more alchemical pills!” Leon shook his head and rejected Gilbert's idea without hesitation.

“What?! You aren't going to make any more pills? W- Why not?!” Shocked, Gilbert's jaw dropped.

“Uncle Gilbert, I've given Cynthion Group back to the Shears. I'll only make pills for the Shears and I'll never become their competitor!” Leon said decisively.

He broke Cynthia's heart for calling off the engagement and he was filled with guilt toward her and the Shears.

If he stepped into the medical field and became the Shears' competitor, it would only undermine the Shears even further and he refused to commit such an immoral act.

Meanwhile, inside the president’s office.

Iris ordered a few guards to move another desk and placed it next to her desk, so that Leon and her could work side by side.

“Leon, you’ve just become the president and you might not be familiar with some of the things about the company’s operation. I’ll work next to you for a few days and teach you a few things. Once you get the hang of it, I’ll move to another office,” Iris said with a smile.

“Yeah, sure. I’d love that!” Leon chirped gleefully.

In the afternoon, the two left the office to search for a new supplier.

Zerbe Pharmacy was one of the biggest medical ingredients suppliers other than the Shears and organized a chain of drug stores.

Leon and Iris hurried to one of the bigger branches by car and met with the person in charge: a mid-aged man in his fifties, named Zogg.

Leon cut to the chase as soon as he met the person in charge. "Mister Zogg, I'm the president of Elegante Group. We'd like to partner with your firm to secure the supply of medical ingredients. Here's the list of ingredients and the amount we need. Please have a look." Leon took out a document and handed it to Mister Zogg.

"Sure!" Mister Zogg accepted the documents and glanced through them, before calling another employee over to check on the list. Soon, they started naming the price of the ingredients requested by Leon.
