

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 51 Why are You Going with Him?

David smiled and extended his hand, “Since you’re Sarah’s friend, then you are my friend. I will call you Kendall. Hello.”

“Hello! I heard from Sarah that you have been protecting her since young. I wanted to come over and get to know you. I did not disturb you, right?”

“You’re too polite! Quickly sit!” David smiled and walked to the opposite side of the two of them and sat down. He first picked up the teapot and poured a cup of water for Sarah then placed it in front of her. “It’s hot. You guys drink some water first.” Then he poured a cup for Kendall.

Kendall was a little excited, “Thank you. Can I call you Mr. David like Sarah?”

David looked at Sarah thoughtfully and smiled at Kendall. “Yes! Looks like I have another little sister.”

Kendall also smiled. “I heard Sarah say that you are a very good person. You took care of her. It seems that your relationship is really very good. Those who do not know would think that you are biological siblings...”

David looked at Sarah and smiled. “Yes. In the past, I always followed Sarah every day. I was afraid that someone would bully her. I did not expect that in the blink of an eye, she is already married.”

Sarah also smiled, but her heart was filled with mixed feelings.

“Sarah, why do you have to follow him to the army? Isn't it good to stay here?” David was somewhat disappointed when he heard this news. Even if she married Christian, he still had a chance to see her.

But if she went to army, it would be difficult for him to see her.

“Have you forgotten that when I was young, I especially liked the army? I wanted to go there to take a look in the past, but now I finally have a chance. I want to go with him to take a look...” With Kendall by her side, there were some things that she couldn't be too direct with.

David frowned slightly, “Why don't I remember that you like the army?”

“I know about this. I heard about it from her before!” Kendall nodded with smile. She had heard Sarah mention it once in a while.

David's eyes darkened. He looked at Sarah opposite him and asked slowly, “When will you be back?”

“He said he will be gone for three months. I don’t know how long I will be there for now...” Sarah looked at the cup in front of her and really did not know how to face him.

When Kendall heard it, she immediately smiled to comfort Sarah, “It’s okay. It’s just three months. Anyway, after three months, you guys will go separate ways...”

Before she finished speaking, she felt that her thigh had been violently pinched. She immediately turned her face and saw Sarah forcefully swallow the rest of her words!

Even though Kendall did not finish her words, David still heard the clues of the matter. He frowned and looked at Sarah. “You will go your separate way after three months? What is the meaning of this?”

Sarah immediately lowered her head and did not know how to explain this matter.

“Sorry, I said wrong just now. What I meant was that after three months, they will be separated. One person will stay in the army and one will go home.” Kendall looked David apologetically and explained.

David looked at Sarah and was silent for a while. He did not continue to ask.

Because Kendall was here David didn't ask any more questions. After the lunch, when the two of them were about to leave, David couldn't wait but stopped Sarah.

“I want to talk to Sarah about some private matters. Kendall, can you wait for her downstairs first?”

Kendall nodded, took her bag and went to downstairs. The moment she walked out, David immediately closed the door. He walked to Sarah and sat down to look at her. He did not say a word and just looked at her in silence.

“Mr. David, what do you want to say?” Sarah felt weak in her heart when he looked at her. She kept avoiding his gaze.

“Tell me the truth. Why did you follow him to the army?”

“You saw it too. He is not in good health and needs someone to take care of him!” Sarah lowered her head and did not dare to look into his eyes.

“Is that really the case?” David did not believe what she said at all.

“Sarah, you married him on impulse. You have no relationship with him at all. The reason why you don’t want to stay here is because you are afraid that you will not be able to forget Julian, right?” David directly told her what was on her mind.

Sarah’s lips moved. After a moment of silence, she looked up at him. “You are right! I have no feelings for him. But I can’t face Julian either. Because of this, I want to go to army even more. Recently, my mind has been in a mess. I don’t know how to face my mother. I don’t know how to face Julian. I want to be alone for a while. At least when I go to the army, I only need to face him alone.”

“Mr. David, I have to go back to my house. I haven’t told my mother about this yet!” Sarah stood up as she spoke.

David heard her words and sighed lightly. “Alright, then I'll give you a ride!"

"No need, Jayson is downstairs." Sarah forced a smile at him, then turned around and walked out the door.

David followed her downstairs. Seeing her get into the car and disappear from his sight, he raised his hand and gently pressed his forehead, then turned around and went back to the hotel a little lonely.

After the car drove for a distance, Kendall kept looking back. Finally, she could not see anything and turned around to look at Sarah. "Sarah, is he not interested in me?"

Sarah did not know how to answer her, so she randomly gave a reason, "He is not very familiar with you. It will be good when he is familiar with you in the future."

“Yes, you are right!” Kendall smiled and nodded.

Because she was going to her mother’s house, Kendall got out of the car midway. On the way back, Sarah only found that she went back empty handed. It was not good no matter what. After all, she was newly married, so she called Jayson to stop at the shopping mall in front.

“Sister-in-law, before I came, Regimental Commander already prepared the things. They are all in the trunk of the car. We don’t need to buy anything.” Jayson explained with a smile.

“When did he prepare it? Why didn’t I know?” Sarah was somewhat surprised. That person looked very cold every day. Why would he be so attentive?

“Regimental Commander asked me to put it in last night!”

“Ohhh!” Sarah nodded and did not say anything else.

The car soon arrived at Sarah’s house. Jayson helped her carry the things upstairs and went back to Cooper family. He said that he would come back to pick her up after the dinner.

Sarah closed the door and saw that her mother had put all the things away. She then walked to the sofa and sat down.

“Sarah, why did you come back at this time of the day? Where is Christian? Did you guys fight?” Her daughter came back alone again. Samantha was more or less worried.

“Mom, we are good! I came back today to tell you something!”

“As long as it’s good! Tell me, what is it?” Samantha looked at her daughter in confusion and asked.

“Christian received a notice from the army that he wants to return to the army for three months. I want to go with him to the army. Firstly, I want to go and relieve my boredom. Secondly, he is not in good health, so I can take care of him.” This was the reason Sarah had thought of on the way here.

Samantha nodded in understanding, after hearing it.

“En, since you have thought it through, then follow him. Mom knows that Julian’s matter is still in a part of your heart. It is also very good to go and relieve your boredom like this. Mom supports you!”

She understood her daughter’s current mood better than anyone else. When she heard that her daughter wanted to go to the army with her son-in-law, Samantha immediately agreed.

“It’s just that I might go for a longer period of time. If I really live there for three months, I won’t have time to come back and see you.” Sarah looked at her mother guiltily.

Samantha heard her daughter’s words and took her daughter’s hand with heartache. “Silly child, mother is fine. As long as you and Christian live well, it will be my greatest wish. Do you understand?”

Sarah nodded and looked at Samantha. “Mother, I will leave with him tomorrow morning.”

“Tomorrow? Alright...”

Sarah returned to Cooper family after dinner. When she walked into the living room, the people from the Cooper family were still sitting on the sofa and chatting. Even Julian was there. Sarah greeted everyone and sat down on the sofa beside Christian.

“Sarah, we just heard from Christian that you are going to the army with him, tomorrow?” As soon as Sarah sat down, Ethan asked her with concern.

“Yes, Dad, I will go with Christian tomorrow!” Sarah nodded with smile. She then looked at Christian, who was beside her. She understood that he had told everyone that she wanted to leave with him.

When Julian heard her words, his eyes flashed intensely. He sat on the sofa and felt an indescribable irritation.

“Christian’s body is not very convenient. You will also have to take care of him when you go. Sarah, it is hard on you...” Benjamin was satisfied with Sarah’s decision. But when he thought about Christian’s health, he still felt a little guilty.

“Grandpa, it’s not hard. He doesn’t have many places for me to take care of.”

Daphne immediately took over the conversation, “How can it not be hard? Christian’s legs are not convenient. Even when he goes to the bathroom, he needs your help. With his huge physique, you will definitely need to spend some effort.”

As soon as Daphne’s words fell, Sarah’s face immediately blushed a little. She felt a little weak in her heart. From the moment, she got married until now, she really had not helped him once. Even if she followed him to the army, there should be Jayson helping him, right?

Looking at the unnatural expression on Sarah’s face, Ethan immediately helped her out, “You guys married a little too soon and you haven’t even had your honeymoon. If Sarah doesn't feel well in the army, you can call me anytime. I will send someone to bring you back."

"Thank you, Dad!" Sarah immediately smiled and nodded.

Julian, who had been silent the whole time, heard Sarah's conversation with her parents and finally could not help but say, "No one has taken your work yet. The position of secretary has been reserved for you. Why don't you take care of the company's matters first before going to Big Brother's army?"

As long as he could keep her here, everything will be easy after that.

Sarah heard what he said, but before she could say anything, she heard Christian say.

“Invite someone else to do the secretary’s work. She is now your sister-in-law. I don’t want her to be too tired. Find someone else!”
