

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 108 Hidden Meaning

Mila looked at Sarah and smiled, "Hello! Last night when I went to the movies with David, he mentioned you. He said you are not only beautiful, but also smart. I like making friends with people like you. When you have time in the future, let's go shopping together."

Sarah felt uncomfortable hearing her words. She forced a smile and nodded. "Okay!"

Just as Sarah finished speaking, Mila's phone rang. She apologetically took it out to take a look and then looked at Mrs. Brown opposite her and smiled embarrassedly. "Auntie, it was my mother who called. You guys go ahead and chat. I have to go first."

Mrs. Brown immediately waved at her with a smile. "Go! Go! Anyway, Auntie is fine."

Mila heard Mrs. Brown's words and picked up the bag to look at Sarah opposite her. "Sarah, I'm sorry. I can't accompany you today. You and Auntie can chat first. I will be leaving first. "

Sarah slightly nodded her head and saw Mila carrying the bag and quickly walking out of the coffee shop, leaving behind a beautiful back view.

"Sarah, I called you here today because I want you to help me grow eyes. This Mila is the girlfriend that Auntie found with great difficulty to introduce to David half a month ago. Her father works in the city government. He seems to be a section chief and her mother is a teacher. Mila runs her own cosmetics store. I think she has a good personality too. She is a good match for our David."

"During this period of time, they went out on dates every night. Sometimes, they would watch a movie, and sometimes they would eat western food or something. I saw that the two of them got along pretty well. But I'm a bit uncertain, so I called you over. Sarah, what do you think?" After Mrs. Brown finished speaking, she stared at Sarah passionately.

Sarah slightly pursed her lower lip. This question was not easy to answer. Furthermore, Mrs. Brown's words just now made her heart feel unspeakable discomfort. Thinking back to the matter of Mrs. Brown looking for her mother that day, she could still understand the former's intentions today. But there were some things that she could not say.

"Sarah, you also think that they are very compatible, right?" Seeing that she did not reply, Mrs. Brown smiled and asked her.

Sarah nodded her head and replied with a faint smile,

"Yes! Very well matched!"

Mrs. Brown immediately smiled happily, "I knew it! You will definitely think highly of Mila too. My David is not like before. A few years ago, when he left this place, he had nothing. At that time, our family was poor. Now that David has a successful career, although he can't be compared to a big boss with tens of millions of dollars, but he is also a millionaire. What kind of girl can't he find under his conditions?"

"I'm also a little picky about choosing a daughter-in-law. Don't laugh at Auntie. Auntie is speaking the truth. If David were to say that he liked someone and that girl's condition isn't good. . . It will definitely not be possible for them to get married. This Mila, I like her at a glance. "

Sarah sat beside Mrs. Brown as if she was sitting on pins and needles. No matter how stupid she was, she could hear the hidden meaning behind Mrs. Brown's words.

Even if she got divorced with Christian it would be impossible for her to become the Brown family's daughter-in-law!

Her heart was tightly clenched!

She originally thought that as long as she broke off the marriage with Christian, she would be able to openly marry David.

Only now did she know that her thoughts were too simple!

That's right, no matter what happened between her and Christian, in the eyes of outsiders, she was a woman who had already married once!

She no longer had her own innocence!

She. . .

Her heart gradually sank. . .

Mrs. Brown had finally said enough and then looked at Sarah who was beside her and said, "You see, Aunt just doesn't have a head when she speaks. As she speaks, it is almost noon. Why don't we do this. In a while, I will still have lunch with Mila and her mother. Later, I will give David a call. You can come too. How about it?"

Sarah immediately shook her head and stood up with the bag. She said goodbye to Mrs. Brown, "Aunt Brown, I have something to do. I will be leaving first. "

"Okay, okay, okay! If you have something to do, go ahead and do it! Sorry to trouble you!" When Mrs.

Brown heard Sarah's words, she did not urge her to stay and smiled as she waved her hands at her.

Sarah went out of the coffee shop and walked along the sidewalk absent-mindedly. There were a few times when she encountered pedestrians and only then did she know that she had walked the wrong path. She stopped and looked up at the sky in the distance. She let out a long breath.

Actually, thinking about Mila, that girl, standing with Mr. David, she was more compatible with him.

Her phone rang at this moment.

Sarah took out her phone from her bag and saw that the number on. It was Christian. She immediately pressed the answer button and placed it beside her ear.

"Christian!" When she thought of his face, her mood instantly improved.

"Wife, do you miss me?" When Christian heard his little wife call his name so impatiently, a smile instantly appeared on his lips.

"No!" Sarah smiled and answered very straightforwardly. In fact, she would think of him every night. In the past, he would hug her and wake up every day.

"It seems that when I go back, you will have forgotten about me, right?"

Christian stood in front of the window with his phone. He looked at the white clouds in the distant sky and smiled. Although he did not see the look of his little wife, from her voice, he could tell that she was in a bad mood today.

"Well, it's really possible!" Sarah heard his words and smiled again. She walked along the sidewalk.

"That is not possible! Why don't I rush back tonight?"

Sarah heard his words and could not help but laugh.

"Are you done with your work?"

"Not yet. . . "

"How is your leg? Did you do any exercise these two days? Is it better? "

"Yes, much better. . . "

"Really? Then can you stand up by yourself?"

"Not yet! If you were by my side, perhaps I would have recovered by now. . . "

Sarah heard his words and could not help but smile again, "Am I that important to you?"

"You are now. . . The most important person to me!"

Sarah's heart warmed when she heard his words and for a moment she did not know how to answer him.

"Do you know why?" Hearing that she did not speak, he continued to look at the white clouds in the sky and slowly asked back.

"Why?"

"This is a secret for now. I'll tell you when I get back." Christian smiled. There were still some things that he did not say out loud.

"When will you come back?"

"When you miss me, I will go back."

Sarah smiled, "Okay. . . "

"There is still a meeting. Wife, I will hang up first and chat at night. "

"Okay, goodbye!"

Vivian's stomach grew bigger day by day. Before she and Julian got married, every time she went to the hospital for a checkup, they would go together.

But ever since they got married, the number of times Julian accompanied her to the hospital was getting lesser and lesser. However, Vivian was not neglected because of this.

Her Mother-in-law, Daphne, would bring her to the hospital every week for check-ups.

Early this morning, Vivian said that she wanted to eat her mother's cooked wheaten food so she did not eat a mouthful of breakfast. Daphne saw that her daughter-in-law's appetite was not good and feeling sorry for her little grandson, she immediately ordered the chauffeur at home to send her back to her mother's home.

When the car drove out of Villa of Cooper Family, Vivian took out her phone and sent a message to Lucas and told him that she would be home soon. When she received him reply, she smiled and put away her phone. She looked out the window.

Lucas and she were actually childhood sweethearts, but their families were not rich. A few years ago, he wanted to make a fortune, so he went all out to borrow money. He worked together with others to do business, but in the end, he lost everything in one go. Even Vivian's savings that she had saved up for many years were all gone.

The two of them who were originally not rich immediately owed hundreds of thousands of dollars. The two of them gathered together and thought about how to make a fortune in a short period of time.

Lucas was a smart person, but he didn't need to be on the road. He encouraged Vivian to ride a bicycle out to blackmail, and she rode a bicycle to crash the bike. If there was an accident, Lucas would come out to ask for money from the other party.

The reason why she knew Christian was because she wanted to extort money from him.

Christian's car accidentally knocked over Vivian at the turn. He got out of the car to see what was going on but when he saw Vivian's face, he felt as if he had been struck by lightning.

The image of his fiancée Gia flashed in his mind.

He thought that after that life and death parting, he would never see her again. He did not expect that the heavens would actually send another Gia to him!

Such an opportunity was really too precious to him.

Perhaps he felt that he owed Gia too much, Christian made the request to Vivian for a date, but he did not expect her to agree right after.

Everything seemed to come naturally.

Vivian originally wanted to be with him for a period of time and ask for some money to pay off the debt. But she never would have thought that the man she touched. . . He actually had such a strong family background.

When she followed him into the Villa of Cooper Family, she was completely stunned by the wealth of the Cooper Family. She looked at the food and clothes of the Cooper Family. It was as if she had arrived in another world.

At that moment, she clearly understood. The opportunity for her to make a fortune with Lucas had arrived!

Vivian had always played the role of a young lady until one day, when she was in the army and learned from a doctor that Christian could no longer stand up.

After being depressed for a few days, she suddenly thought that Christian had a half-brother!

After a few interactions, she found Julian's weakness and hit him in one blow!

Although Lucas did not like Vivian doing this at first, after all, his woman slept in another man's bed. Not everyone could do it. But Vivian told him that she would find a chance to find a period of time to get pregnant with his child.

This way, when the child was born, she would be able to inherit the Cooper Family's property. When Lucas heard such a huge temptation, his pride. . . He instantly surrendered.

During this period of time, Lucas kept saying that he also wanted to go to the hospital to hear the baby's fetus heart. He wanted to see how she looked like when she was carrying out ultrasonography. Vivian could not convince him and finally agreed.

Today, she borrowed the time to return to her mother's house. She wanted to go to the hospital with Lucas to take a look. Of course, if the people of Cooper Family knew about it. . . He would say that he had gone to the hospital because he was not feeling well.
