

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 117 Vivian Fell Down

"Well. . . Okay!" Lea heard what Vivian said and immediately nodded her head. She turned around and ran downstairs.

After sending Lea away, she heard the sound of her going downstairs gradually disappear. Vivian then closed the door and quickly walked to the side of the bed and sat down. She took out her own abortion medicine and ate it with water. She looked at the time. It was exactly ten o'clock in the morning. She knew that the medicine would not take effect for a while.

She first stood by the window and looked around. After a few minutes, she saw the driver at home drive Lea away. She walked to the side of the bed and laid down.

After a while, she felt that this was not okay. So she got up and walked back and forth in the bedroom. She saw that it was almost time. She then took out her phone and called Sarah, telling her that she wanted to drink a cup of water. Her body was really uncomfortable. Could she trouble her to bring a cup of water upstairs?

Sarah knew that her body was currently uncomfortable walking, so she did not think too much about it. She took a clean cup of water and took a cup of water. She put it on a tray and carried it upstairs.

The living room in Villa of Cooper Family was very big. The stairs were also slightly rotated. Sarah held the tray and wanted to walk to the last step of the stairs. She just happened to see Vivian walking over with a big belly and blocking her on the stairs.

Vivian looked down at her and smiled, "Sorry to trouble sister-in-law. I will drink here." As she spoke, she took a step down the stairs and stood on the stairs. She took the cup of water from Sarah's tray and wanted to drink it.

"Ah. . ." Vivian's hand trembled and she threw the cup out. Then she looked at Sarah angrily, "Do you want to burn me to death?"

After saying that, she stretched out her hand to grab Sarah's arm and wanted to push her away but for some reason, her foot stepped on empty air. Her body fell back uncontrollably, only to hear a few heart-wrenching screams.

Sarah did not understand what was going on and saw Vivian fall down the spiral staircase.

Sarah who did not understand what was going on just saw Vivian fall down and felt a bang in her brain. She panicked and hurriedly ran down the stairs and found that the latter had already fallen unconscious and her head was bleeding. She immediately shouted nervously, "Help. . . Someone come over!"

When Uncle Garcia heard Sarah's shout, he immediately ran into the living room. The scene that entered his eyes shocked him. He quickly walked to the side of the two people.

Just as he was about to ask what was going on, he heard hurried footsteps from upstairs. Immediately following that was Daphne's voice, "What's wrong now?"

Daphne complained as she walked to the stairs and looked down. When she saw her precious daughter-in-law lying in the hall on the first floor, she immediately ran down nervously.

Vivian, who was in Sarah's arms, had wounds all over her head and hands, and the thing that frightened her the most was. . . Blood kept flowing out from under Daphne's body.

"Vivian, what happened to you? What happened to you? Vivian!" Daphne kept shouting while hugging the former.

"Madam, let's send Young Madam to the hospital first!" Uncle Garcia, who was at the side, immediately reminded.

"Yes, yes, yes! Quickly send him to the hospital!" Daphne immediately nodded her head and the few of them got Vivian into the car together. Daphne quickly sat in the back passenger seat and Sarah sat in the front passenger seat. The car quickly started up and quickly drove away from Villa of Cooper Family.

Because they were in a rush, only Uncle Garcia had a phone. But he was driving and it was not convenient to call. Sarah could only take it over and call Christian uneasily. After telling him what happened just now, she closed the line.

As soon as Sarah finished speaking, Daphne's voice rang out sharply from the back of the car.

"Sarah Wilson, you don't have a brain, do you? You clearly know that she is pregnant, how can you let her stand on the stairs and drink water?"

"Aunt Daphne. . . I did not do it on purpose. . . "

"Don't explain to me! Vivian and Julian's child should be fine, but if something happens, I want to see what you will do." Daphne heard what she just said to Christian on the phone and exploded.

From the moment Vivian fell down, Sarah's heart had been uneasy. Now hearing Daphne say this, her heart felt even more uncomfortable.

But this matter was indeed related to her. She wanted to explain but did not know how to say it. She could only lower her head and remain silent.

Daphne angrily said all the way to the hospital. Because Christian had already informed the hospital, once Vivian arrived at the hospital, she got pushed into the resuscitation room fast.

Once the door of the resuscitation room was closed, Daphne dejectedly sat on the waiting chair at the side. When she looked at Christian and Sarah who were standing by the side, she started to beat her chest and stomped her feet.

"What kind of sins did I do in my previous life? That happened to Ethan last night and Vivian fell down from upstairs again today. My grandson. . . You must be fine. . . "

Christian already knew from the phone that the matter was related to his wife. Seeing her nervous and uneasy look and listening to Daphne's words, he could not help looking at the latter, "Aunt Daphne, don't be too anxious. The matter is not clear yet. Don't be too agitated first. . . "

"How can I not be agitated? Since Julian and Vivian got married until now, when have I not been careful? But who knew that this kind of thing still happened. . . " Daphne could not stop at all. She was also a woman. When she saw Vivian's bleeding body, she had a premonition that her grandson might not be saved.

As soon as Daphne finished speaking, the door of the resuscitation room suddenly opened and a doctor came out with a serious expression, "Which one of you is the patient's family?"

Daphne immediately stood up from the chair nervously and answered hastily. "I am, I am, I am! Inside is my daughter-in-law, doctor. How is she? "

"The adult is suffering from hemorrhage and need to remove the uterus. Please sign on here!" The doctor handed Daphne a surgical sheet as he spoke.

Daphne heard the doctor's words and felt her vision go dark. She was about to fall to the side when Christian stretched out his arm to catch her and supported her to sit on the chair. He looked at the doctor in front of him and said, "Is there no other way? It is just an miscarriage. Why must it be removed?"

No matter what, this matter was related to the wife. With Vivian's personality, if her uterus was really removed, she would definitely hate Sarah for the rest of her life!

"Now that the adult's life is in danger, and we suspect that she had taken the abortion medicine, time is of the essence. Please make a decision quickly!"

"You. . . What did you say? She took the abortion medicine?" Sarah looked at the doctor in disbelief and asked.

The doctor nodded affirmatively and looked at the two of them anxiously again. "Yes! Who exactly will sign it? If we don't make a decision now, Sir's life might be in danger!"

Christian looked at Daphne, who was unconscious on the chair, and then at Sarah. He looked at the doctor and said, "Give it to me! I'll sign!"

"Christian. . . " Sarah heard Christian's words and nervously pulled off his shirt. She was very nervous. Once this kind of surgery was signed, that meant that Vivian would never have another child in her life.

Daphne heard Christian's words in a trance and instantly became clear-headed. She opened her eyes and shouted, "No! You can't sign it!"

After she said that, she propped herself up and grabbed the doctor's arm tightly. She said hysterically, "No! I don't agree to sign! You have to save her! Do you have to know? If any of you dare remove her uterus, I will die here!"

The doctor frowned and sighed after a while. "Okay, then we will do our best." Then, he turned around and went into the operating theater.

Daphne sat down dejectedly on the chair. Sarah was worried about her body and nervously walked over to comfort her, "Aunt Daphne. . . "

"Get away from me!" Daphne reached out her hand and fiercely pushed Sarah away.

Sarah was caught off guard and fell onto the ground. Tears of grievance welled up in her eyes. She tightly bit her lips and did not know what to do.

Christian frowned and took a step forward to support his wife from the ground.

"What is Aunt Daphne doing? This is not Sarah's fault!" Christian looked at his stepmother with a cold expression. His face showed some displeasure.

"At a time like this, you still say it was not her fault? Sarah, since the day Julian abandoned you, you have been thinking about how to take revenge on the two of them, right? Vivian really wanted to give birth to this child. If it was not for her, could it be that Vivian fell down from upstairs?" Daphne angrily stared at the two people in front of her.

"Didn't you hear what the doctor said just now? Vivian took an abortion medicine! This was caused by herself!" Christian said without hesitation.

"Nonsense! That is her own child, how could she take the abortion medicine?" Daphne did not believe Christian's words at all and retorted sharply.

"The doctor is in the operating theater. If you don't believe me, when Vivian is done with the surgery, can't you just ask a question?" Christian said slowly.

"Even if what you said is true, Sarah still will not be able to escape responsibility for Vivian falling from the stairs!" Daphne became somewhat unreasonable. When she thought that her grandson that she had been looking forward to for so long was gone, she could not help but feel excited.

"Vivian hasn't woken up yet. We don't know anything about it. I know that you are feeling sorry for that child but I also hope as an elder, don't judge someone else's crime just because you speak. What kind of person is Sarah? I know better than anyone else! She will definitely not do something like hurting Vivian!" Christian looked at his stepmother and retorted word by word.

"Okay! This is what you said. Then let's wait for Vivian to wake up and see what she will say." Daphne heard Christian's words and understood that whatever she said now was useless. She angrily did not speak anymore.

Christian looked at her indifferently. He held his wife's hand and walked towards the end of the corridor. He wanted to ask her what was wrong with her.

The two of them walked to the end of the corridor.

Christian looked at Sarah's nervous and uneasy face and looked at her with some heartache.
