Married at First Sight Chapter 2505-After a moment of silence, Carrie said to the two aunts, "Aunt Brenda, aunt Amy, I have no place to go now, so I will stay here to eat. When my cousins come back, I will let them accompany me. Wait for me to go back and help me beat the wolf dogs raised by Camryn to death. When I get in, you will benefit from them."

"Okay, then you just wait here for a while; after eating, wait until they get off work, and then they'll go back with you."

After hearing Carrie say that they would not be treated badly, the two aunts enthusiastically left Carrie.

"Carrie, what do you want to eat tonight? Tell me, I will go buy some groceries and cook it for you right now. But my cooking skills are just average, so don't dislike it then."

Although the Newman family was not as rich as it is now, it was not poor either.

The two aunts and the others had never experienced hardship or poverty since they were born. When they grew up, the husband they chose was a good match for their Newman family. They were not rich and powerful, but they had enough food and clothing and had several small factories. Compared to ordinary people, they were considered wealthy.

Therefore, none of them are good at cooking because there is a cook at home, so they are not required to cook. They cook occasionally, and the food they cook is just barely edible. Now that we have no money and need to be self-reliant, the two aunts are responsible for preparing three meals a day for the family, so they can improve their cooking skills.

They were well aware of Carrie's tricky tongue and were afraid that Carrie wouldn't be able to get used to the food they cooked and would become angry.

Their niece, Carrie, from her mother's family, was not easy to coax; she was very willful and unruly. However, their brother and sister-in-law love Carrie the most, and they had to please her as her aunts.

They had to please Carrie before, let alone now. Now the two families were counting on Carrie to take back everything of the Newman family from Camryn so that the two families could make a comeback.

Their eldest brother was sentenced to more than ten years, and the eldest sister-in-law was sentenced to a suspended death sentence. Carrie was only in her early twenties, and her only nephew was still in college. Both the nephew and the niece were easy to coax as well. Carrie, the two of them could return to work at Newman's Enterprise in the future.

They had to firmly hold Newman's Enterprise in their own hands as long as they could return there in order to prevent Camryn, a blind woman, from driving them out like she did before.

Carrie said, "Aunt Brenda, Aunt Amy, I am no longer the Carrie I used to be. Inside, do you think I am better off than you? Can I eat as much as before? I won't mind if I can eat now. "

When she first entered, she was not used to eating and was often hungry.

When she felt very hungry, she ate, and she got used to it as she ate.

When she was extremely hungry, she wished she could eat Camryn's meat. If it weren't for the blind woman, Camryn, she wouldn't have gone in.

Brenda said distressedly, "Carrie, you've suffered. It'll be fine now that you're out. Let's be more careful in the future so that they don't catch us and send us in."

Amy also sighed.

If their eldest brother hadn't gone in, they wouldn't have ended up like this.

When their natal family had no one to support them, they had a hard time with their husband's family. Fortunately, their children have grown up; otherwise, their husband's family would kick them out because they were the ones who had caused trouble for the Chandler family and the Joyner family.

Thinking of the attitude of their husband's family towards them, Brenda and Amy felt resentful. In the past, both families had benefited a lot from their natal family's influence, but now that the head of their natal family has changed, they can no longer benefit, and now the husband's family blames them.

Fortunately, Carrie came out.

They were married women, or daughters, who had been married for decades. When they came back to compete for the Newman family's property, they couldn't compete with Camryn.

But Carrie could.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2506-If Camryn didn't want to talk, they asked Carrie to sue her.

"Aunt Brenda, Aunt Amy, my dad can be released soon if he rehabilitates himself and gets a commutation of his sentence, but my mother... the chance of her coming out is relatively small."

Amy said, "Your mother didn't behave well inside. The last time Trenton went to see her, she didn't speak much. Trenton said she seemed to want to die."

Carrie said, "It's impossible. If my mother had a chance to live, she wouldn't want to die. She couldn't bear to leave me and my brother, and she wouldn't be willing to watch Camryn take over everything in the Newman family."

Carrie knew her mother, and she believed that her mother would not want to die.

It's just that her mother was severely sentenced and had little chance of coming out alive.

"Trenton said that your mother's health has deteriorated a lot and she has lost two pounds... Camryn tore apart a good family. Why is she so cruel? Her father is already dead. After more than 20 years, your mother is still her biological mother, and she can be cruel."

Carrie said nothing.

She knew how much Camryn hated them.

They had also caused misfortune to Camryn before.

The parents' crime involved not only the death of Camryn's biological father but also other illegal activities, particularly those of the mother, who was involved in gangs, kidnapping, intentional injury, etc. Only if the parents were convicted of several crimes and sentenced harshly.

“Which university did Trenton go to?” Carrie asked about her brother.

When Carrie was in jail, Trenton never visited her once.

Even though the relationship between the siblings was not very good, after their parents died, Carrie and Trenton were the closest people, and Trenton was cruel and refused to see her.

When Trenton was mentioned, the two aunts looked unhappy.

Brenda said, “Trenton was admitted to a key university, but it’s not in Wiltspoon. The college is in another province. It’s convenient to take the high-speed rail back and forth. He is biased towards Camryn and listens to her in everything.

When he first learned about your parents, he felt sad and couldn’t accept it, so he didn’t want to see Camryn, his eldest sister. But when we persuaded him to fall out with Camryn and fight for the power of the Newman family, he didn’t listen to us and also drove us away.

When Zachary and Serenity held their wedding some time ago, Trenton took leave from college for some unknown reason. Later, he followed Camryn to York’s house for a wedding banquet. After Zachary’s wedding, he returned to college.

He came to see us before going back to college. He came secretly. He gave us some food, left some money, and then left. If we didn’t talk about his eldest sister, he would sit there for a while, and when we mentioned his eldest sister, he got up and left.

This child has been drunk by Camryn since he was a child. No matter what Camryn’s attitude is towards him, he will follow her.”

Even their brother and sister-in-law complained in private, thinking that their son owed Camryn in his previous life and that he was always coveting his eldest sister in this life.

Carrie scolded Trenton, her younger brother: “He and I are siblings from the same father and mother, but he always helps the blind woman, Camryn. The blind woman doesn’t want to pay attention to him, and he has to follow her, also calling her eldest sister.”

Married at First Sight Chapter 2507-“Whenever I have a conflict with that blind woman, Trenton always helps the blind woman; no matter who is right or wrong, he blames me, says that I am too bad, says that I have no sisterly love, and even files a lawsuit against me to my father.”

Carrie was also full of dissatisfaction with her younger brother, Trenton.

Brenda said, “Trenton is kind-hearted, but he is rarely at home. I don’t know that his eldest sister, Camryn, is not as good as he thought. Carrie, I’m worried that you can’t defeat Camryn alone. She now has a war family fortune. Carrie, when you get your mobile phone and bank card back, go to Trenton’s college to see him.

Trenton is an adult now. Only by joining forces can you two siblings defeat Camryn. After all, you two are siblings of the same father and mother. You should be of the same mind. Camryn also has a sibling relationship with Trenton. If she has some scruples, it will be good for you.”

Carrie said, “Only if Trenton is willing to be of the same mind as me. Aunt Brenda, as you said, I don’t know what kind of ecstasy soup Camryn poured into him so that he would chase Camryn. Camryn has helped him since he was a child. “

Carrie just couldn’t bear to see Trenton being so kind to Camryn, so she asked her parents to send Trenton to boarding school to reduce the time that her brother spent with Camryn.

“Just coax him more. In short, you two must be of the same mind; otherwise, you won’t be able to fight her.”

Brenda got up to get some money and said to Carrie, “Carrie, rest here; I went to buy groceries.”

Carrie looked at the place where her aunt lived now. Although the rented house was said to have three bedrooms and one living room, it was a dilapidated house. Even if it was cleaned very well, it still felt dirty to her. How could she rest well here?

She’s not in jail.

She came out, regained her freedom, and became the second young lady of the Newman family again.

But she didn't show her disdain. She wanted to join forces with her two eldest aunts to deal with Camryn.

"Auntie, let me follow you to buy groceries." Carrie stood up and said,

Brenda didn't stop her, so the two aunts took Carrie out to buy vegetables at the vegetable market.

When the aunts and nephew were visiting the vegetable market, photos and videos were secretly taken.

That was when Camryn asked the butler to arrange for someone to follow Carrie to see what Carrie would do.

After the person following Carrie took the photo, he sent the photo and video to the butler, as well as the addresses of the two aunts of the Newman family's rental house.

When Camryn received all the photos and videos from the butler, she and Callum had just returned to Wildridge Manor.

Knowing that the two of them would come back for dinner and Callum would have to cook in person, Rosella had already sent people to buy a lot of ingredients so that Callum could show off his skills.

There were many people in the family, and Callum cooked the food himself. Naturally, everyone had to gather together to eat and cook more dishes to make the meal more lively.

Just as Callum's car stopped, he heard the shouts of Serenity and Rosella.

Camryn didn't care about Callum anymore and got out of the car first.

"Auntie, Seren."

Camryn smiled and said hello to Rosella, then nodded to Zachary, who was not far away, and called him brother.

Rosella smiled and said, "Camryn, you are both engaged, so you can call me 'mom'."

She knew that this prospective daughter-in-law was not well-connected with her relatives, did not like her mother, and had never enjoyed maternal love.

She felt very distressed and gave her daughter-in-law as much maternal love as possible.

Camryn changed her tune naturally.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2508-Camryn liked her husband’s family very much.

Her mother-in-law was really kind to her. Her own mother was not nice to her at all, but her mother-in-law was many times better than her own mother.

She couldn’t see her mother-in-law before, and her mother-in-law never disliked her.

Two aunts came to York’s house to meet her mother-in-law, saying that she was not suitable for Callum and wanted to use her mother-in-law to break up her and Callum. As a result, her mother-in-law said a very domineering sentence. After she heard what her mother-in-law said, she was very touched.

She started to treat her mother-in-law like her mother.

Rosella happily agreed. She looked into her daughter-in-law’s eyes and asked, “Camryn, is your vision better? How far can you see?”

“Auntie, it’s not too late to take Camryn back to the house first and then ask questions.” Serenity smiled and said to Camryn, “Auntie knew you were coming back in the afternoon, so she made appointments with friends and stayed at home waiting for you. Grandma also said she would come back for dinner.”

After Serenity and Zachary visited the Stone family, they returned to the Wildridge manor to rest. Camryn came over just in time to chat with her.

Serenity and Zachary spent their honeymoon on a self-driving trip in Wiltspoon. It was not far away, and it was very convenient to go home.

They thought about the world between two people, so they went out to play and lived in another house under Zachary’s name.

Although Zachary looked serious and indifferent, he was a very enjoyable person. The villas under his name were all bought in good locations that were convenient for fun and had a lot of delicious food.

Camryn said, “Now that I can see a little farther, I’m actually very satisfied with it. It’s countless times better than the total darkness in front of me.

Seren, you didn’t visit your cousin-in-law? That baby is so adorable. Yichen and I came back right after we got out of the hospital.”

Serenity smiled and said, “I went to see her, but she didn’t let me stay there for too long. She said I was pregnant too and was afraid that I would be tired. When my cousin-in-law is discharged from the hospital, we will go and have a look. The baby is so cute. It makes my heart melt just looking at it.”

She took Camryn’s arm affectionately. Rosella was holding Camryn’s other hand as the three of them made their way slowly towards the main house.

Three women left Zachary and Callum behind as they were just getting out of the car.

“Brother.”

Callum opened the door of the back seat of the car and shouted to Zachary, “Brother, come here and help me get something. Camryn insists on buying gifts. Everyone has a share. My car is packed to the top. Everyone has a share. It became a truck.”

“The family was so polite that she didn’t have to buy gifts in the future. It wasn’t her first visit.”

Zachary came over and helped Callum get things. After looking at the car, he said, “Why did you buy so many things?”

“Everyone has a share; can there be less? Call the butler and ask him to come over and help.”

Callum’s car was parked in an open-air parking lot, a few hundred meters away from the main building of the center.

Zachary stuffed the things back into the car and said to him, “It would be much more convenient if you just drive over and park at the door of the house. Why park here? It doesn't matter if you walk so far. It doesn't matter if you carry so many things."

When he came back, he always drove directly to the door of the house before stopping.

They were not guests. When guests came to visit, their cars were parked in the open-air parking lot.

Callum said, "Didn't I stop the car when I saw you guys?"

He looked at the three women walking away and said, "Let's drive there; where are they?"

Zachary also looked at the three women and said, "They just like to chat while walking; let them alone. The one in your family can only see things clearly now, and she also wants to walk around and enjoy the scenery."

Feeling that what his elder brother said was reasonable, Callum returned to the car and asked his elder brother, "Brother, do you want to come with us?"
