Married at First Sight Chapter 2384-It didn't need to be like this, Matriarch Farrell had no choice but Kathryn.

Not long after Kathryn left, Shiloh barged in.

Matriarch Farrell, who was thinking about the past, frowned when she saw her adopted daughter come in, and quickly put on a helpless face, saying to Shiloh: "How many times have I said, you have to knock on the door before you come in, you always enter with the left ear, out of the right ear."

She had cultivated her daughter so hard, but she couldn't even do the most basic manners well.

It was she who spoiled Shiloh.

Fortunately, Shiloh was not her own daughter; otherwise, she would die of anger when she saw the successor she had spent more than 20 years cultivating so unbearably.

"Mom, I'm sorry, I forgot." Shiloh immediately turned around and went out, closed the door of the office, then knocked on the door again, and got the consent of her adoptive mother before she opened the door again and came in.

Soon, she sat down opposite her mother.

"Mom, Mom, let me ask you something. Has our family received an invitation from the York family?"

Unable to attend Young Master York's wedding as Hayden's female companion, Shiloh thought of going with her adoptive mother.

The premise was that the York family wanted to invite the Farrell family.

Matriarch Farrell: "Got it, how is it?"

"Mom, let me go with you." Shiloh said very considerately: "I don't have to take care of the company's affairs now, let alone the family's affairs. I have nothing to do every day, and I feel flustered. I just happen to accompany you there."

Matriarch Farrell looked at her, and said angrily, “Did you touch ashes with Young Master Queen?”

Shiloh: “No, Young Master Queen is a hard bone. I can’t chew it off no matter how hard I try. Mom, just take me there. I haven’t attended such a grand occasion for a long time.”

Just by asking, Shiloh knew how grand the wedding was.

It was no exaggeration to say that it was the most prosperous wedding in Wiltspoon.

The guests were celebrities from all walks of life, not just those from Wiltspoon.

It was a good opportunity to climb up.

Matriarch Farrell said calmly: “Just now I told Kathryn to take care of the company’s affairs. I must leave for a period of time. The shortest is ten or one-half months, while the longest is one month. Even though Kathryn is my own daughter, I won’t take her with me.”

Shiloh didn’t say any more, she understood what Matriarch Farrell meant.

“Your father is at home too.” Matriarch Farrell added another sentence.

Shiloh’s face immediately collapsed, “Mom, why can’t you take me? I’m also your daughter, as you said, treat me and Kathryn equally.”

Matriarch Farrell: “I have decided not to take any of you there. I’m taking this opportunity to relax and want to be alone for a while.”

Shiloh pouted and stopped talking.

It’s normal for her mother not to take Kathryn, her biological daughter, with her, but even if her mother didn’t take her with her, Shiloh knew that she would have no chance if she continued to grind.

Seeing that the adoptive daughter looked unhappy, Matriarch Farrell opened the drawer, took out a brocade box from inside, and handed the brocade box to Shiloh.

Matriarch Farrell: “Here is a necklace, which is very suitable for young girls like you and Kathryn. Kathryn doesn’t seem to be interested in jewelry, so I will give it to you.”

Shiloh took the brocade box, opened it, and saw that the necklace was very beautiful, and it was a famous brand, worth hundreds of thousands, so she immediately laughed and thanked her adoptive mother repeatedly.

She couldn’t wait to pick up the necklace and put it on. After putting it on, she asked her adoptive mother, “Mom, does it look good?”
