I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2289-“Mother, when you and David fought in The Spirit Cage, did you realize how extraordinary he was, and that was why you didn’t hurt him?” Evie asked excitedly.

She knew that Master David was definitely not an ordinary person.

Could any random person get approved by her Elven Queen mother?

Isa smiled wryly when she heard this.

‘He’s not just extraordinary. He’s a genius among geniuses!

‘It’s not that I didn’t want to hurt him, but I couldn’t beat him at all!’

Besides, Isa understood that judging from David’s last burst of energy, she might not be David’s opponent even if she used all her means and trump cards.

It was because David was too young.

This was what Queen Isa focused on and also why she valued David.

If he had such a strong soul power at such a young age, did it mean that he would break through as easily as eating and drinking in the future?

Everyone knew that soul power was the most difficult to improve.

Once David conquered the most difficult level, everything else would be easy.

“Evie, no matter what you and David become, you have to have a good relationship with him, okay? It will be a huge benefit to the Elves.”

Isa thought for a while and did not tell Evie the truth about the battle with David in The Spirit Cage.

She did not want to put too much pressure on this girl and make her feel inferior.

In this way, the gain outweighed the loss.

“I know, Mother, don’t worry! Master David is easy to get along with and I really like how I feel when I’m with him. It’s very pleasant.”

The Spirit Cage.

For the rest of the time, David kept a low profile in Wier.

He left all matters to Thor so he didn’t have to show himself.

So, he was like a behind-the-scenes boss.

He only needed to spend money and make big decisions.

At this time, David had to be thankful that he agreed with Thor’s decision to be his follower.

Since Thor was able to climb from the bottom and thrive in Sole’s trading street, it was evident that he was very competent.

Even without funds, he could become a well-known businessman through his own efforts.

Now, with the support of David’s unlimited funds, the results spoke for themselves.

With money paving the way, it did not take long for him to gain a foothold in Wier.

After that, he started to send David the treasures of heaven and earth that Pebbles needed for growth.

His lavish points were, of course, also growing.

Although it was not very fast, it would accumulate through stability and a steady flow.

It was not like a one-shot deal in the auction. Moreover, it would also attract some people’s attention.

With enough strength to deal with the Feather family, David was not in a hurry now.

He never wondered when he would become number one in the world.

Moreover, he was not that ambitious either.

He did not need to be strong, it would be enough as long as he could protect himself.

It was actually about David's purpose in coming to The Spirit Cage. The purpose had been over-fulfilled.

When he first entered The Spirit Cage, he just wanted to resolve the previous predicament and have enough strength to solve the incoming crisis of the Feather family.

Now, David's strength had surpassed Divine Realm and reached partial Overlord Realm. What would the Feather family use to invade the Star Kingdom now?

Even if the Feather family came out in full force, they would just be courting death.

Therefore, David did not panic and began to pursue a stable development.

The accumulation of hundreds of thousands of lavish points was a long process and he was not in a rush.

Two months passed quickly.

The past two months had been uneventful.

David rarely went out.

If he did, it would be because he stayed too long at home and wanted to take Beanie and Pebbles out to relax.

When the three walked together, they looked like a harmonious family of three from all angles.
