I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2292

The continent he was looking at was the Simmons Continent that David had visited.

He also killed a Saint on it. Nek Simmons.

When Blue approached Simmons Continent, he was blocked by a light curtain.

Because after David killed a Saint on the Simmons Continent, Sahar, the only living Saint from the Simmons Family immediately announced that he would activate the formation and seal the Simmons Continent to prevent anyone from entering for the first time.

However, this formation was like a bubble to Blue, a Deity.

Once he touched it, it would break.

Looking at the light curtain blocking the way in front of him, Blue's face was full of disdain.

'Is this even a formation?'

'Sure enough, garbage civilization can only create garbage formations.'

With a sneer, Blue did not barge in but stretched out his right hand and snapped his fingers.

Snap!

The light curtain covering Simmons Continent suddenly exploded and disappeared completely.

On the mainland, Sahar the Saint who was recuperating in his ancestral home suddenly opened his eyes.

The formation was destroyed and he could sense it immediately.

Then, his body disappeared instantly and he soared into the sky.

He wanted to see who dared to break into Simmons Continent.

'Do they think that my family has declined after Nek died? Do they think they can just bully us as they want?

'Do they think I'm dead?'

However, when Sahar just broke out of his seclusion, a frighteningly powerful pressure descended on him suddenly and pushed him back immediately.

Boom!

Sahar fell to the ground and could not move.

"What?"

He looked up at the sky with horror and disbelief on his face.

It was the first time Sahar encountered such a powerful and suffocating energy.

There was Divine Power in this.

It was definitely not something that Saints could have, even if they were a Sacred Saint.

'Is that a partial Deity?

'Or a real Deity?'

Sahar had been in seclusion this entire time so he did not know about David defeating Azul and saving Star Kingdom.

Otherwise, he might have given up everything and fled Simmons Continent long ago.

Nothing else was more important than his life.

The Simmons family could be rebuilt after it was gone.

They could get back to Simmons Continent after their strength recovered.

However, nothing would be left if they lost their lives.

With the thought that he was going to meet someone who was at least a partial Deity, Sahar felt as if all the strength in his body had drained.

The strength of the enemy had made him completely lose the will to resist.

At this moment, not only did Sahar feel it, but all the creatures on Simmons Continent also felt this suffocating pressure too.

They all knelt on the ground and bowed to the sky, trying to relieve their discomfort. However, it did not work.

With a flick of his finger, Blue destroyed the formation covering the sky over Simmons Continent.

Then, after scanning the place with his mind power, he could feel the energy of a Saint.

It should be the strongest on this continent.

Then, he released his tyrannical energy that belonged exclusively to Deities and said loudly, "I have limited time and I will give you five seconds to get a decision-maker to come out to meet me, otherwise... You will all die!"

As soon as he said the word 'die', his cold killing intent instantly swept across the entire Simmons Continent, sending chills down the spine of all creatures.

It was as if they would die in the next second. Boundless fear enveloped Simmons Continent.
