

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2326

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2326-Even if the Nacht family took out all their wealth, they would not be able to come up with so much money just to feed Pebbles.

She had no idea how this little girl could digest everything.

David carried Pebbles and walked up to Beanie.

“Ms. Nacht, you have worked hard these few days.”

“Master David, you’re too kind. This is my duty. And with your instructions, Pebbles has also been very obedient. She couldn’t wait to run out when she found out that you would be back today. She usually just stays at home,” Beanie said with a chuckle.

“No matter, thank you for looking after Pebbles these days. After all, she is still young and not very sensible. If she does something or says something she shouldn’t do, please forgive me.”

David thought that Pebbles would only listen to him and not care about what others said.

“Davey, didn’t Beanie just tell you that I’ve been very good in the past few days when you were not around? I just couldn’t sleep, that’s all,” the little girl retorted in David’s arms.

“Okay, I know you’ve been a good girl.” David smiled and caressed the little girl’s head.

Then he carried the little girl back to his home in Wier.

As soon as David returned, Pebbles immediately began to hungrily eat all kinds of treasures of heaven and earth. Then, she fell asleep in David’s arms after eating.

She was restoring her soul power by constantly digesting what she ate in her sleep to provide nutrition for her tiny body.

With the continuous recovery of soul power, the little girl also remembered fragments of her past.

When her soul power is fully restored, she would definitely be able to remember everything.

She might not know it yet, but when that time came, it would be the time for her to separate from David.

For now, she just wanted to grow up quickly.

Some mysterious corner of Leila.

A pitch-black dead star was wandering alone in the universe.

A figure was standing not far from the dead star, his eyes fixed on it.

That was Lufian, one of the five Leila rulers.

Ever since they discovered that Elora was seriously injured and missing, the other four Leila rulers searched for Flora's whereabouts separately, hoping to find her and learn what happened.

and it might be related to Leila's life and death, so they must pay attention to it.

After some searching, Lufian finally found Flora's aura on a dead star not far away.

And that dark dead star was exactly the planet found by Flora's sword that was laced with a trace of her soul after she blew herself up.

After sealing the death star, Flora's soul was sent to The Spirit Cage for cultivation.

When Flora's soul recovered, she would come back to Leila from here.

Lufian noticed Flora's aura and approached with excitement, but he was blocked by a force.

After feeling this familiar force, he could be sure that Elora must be on this planet.

However, if he wanted to enter the planet, he must break the seal of this power.

Since he had no idea what was going on inside, Lufian did not dare to mess around.

It would be bad if he disturbed Elora during a critical moment of her recuperation.

Judging from the traces left by the battle at that time, Flora's injury was serious.

Lufian could not do anything.

So, he had no choice but to inform the other three rulers of Leila to come over as soon as possible.

Sylvio had lived the longest, was the strongest, and had the widest knowledge. Maybe he would have a way to enter the planet without disturbing Elora and help Elora recover from her injuries.

While waiting for the other three, Lufian quietly stayed outside the planet.

He dared not even make a sound for fear of affecting Elora.

At the same time, Lufian felt relieved.

Since Elora was able to escape the fray and come to such a remote location to set the seal, her life should not be in danger.

As long as she was still alive, everything would be fine.