I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2472-“I will not let you get away with this even so.” As Sylvio responded, he secretly accumulated his energy.

“You still want to be stubborn, huh? Hehe... Let’s wait and see. Sylvio, to be honest, if Elora is not restoring her body right now, we might still need more time and effort to gain victory from the other four healthy Overlords. However, you trusted Zwei Arithmetics too much so that’s why you are in trouble. You can say that you win or lose because of Zwei Arithmetics.”

A shadow descended from the void and it quickly alerted the Overlords Lufian, Valentin, and Drogo.

Lufian could not leave now.

If he left now, Drogo and Valentin would not be able to maintain the movement of the array.

At this crucial moment, Flora’s restoration would completely fail if the array stopped moving.

If that happened, not only would Flora’s soul power be seriously injured, but they would also suffer massive backlashes too.

The shadow was getting closer and closer, so they had to do something.

Lufian gritted his teeth and yelled, “Valentin, you go and stop it. Leave this to me and Drogo.”

“What’s going to happen to you two if I leave? Once the array stops moving, Flora’s soul will be seriously injured,” Valentin said anxiously.

“There’s no time! Hurry! You must stop him. I can handle this, don’t worry! I will not let Elora suffer any harm.”

“Okay, be careful.” Valentin stopped doubting Lufian’s power.

Indeed, given Lufian and Flora’s relationship, he was the one most concerned about Flora’s well-being and not wanting her to be harmed.

Valentin left the array and rushed toward the void above him to try to stop the shadow from landing.

Once he left, Lufian and Drogo felt the pressure increasing.

If it weren't for Lufian holding on with his nearly breakthrough-level Partial Heavenly Overlord Rank strength, the array might have come to a halt.

Even so, this was also hard on Lufian and it was exhausting him.

The four-person job was now being completed by two. Of course, it would not be as desirable as one wished.

It should be said that Sylvio and Valentin's work were all shouldered by Lufian.

Drogo was just barely maintaining his output.

On the planet, more than half of Flora's head had already solidified, and only the final one-third was left.

Her devastatingly beautiful face, which was also formidable-looking, was slowly emerging.

Her eyes were closed as she gritted her teeth. She seemed to be working hard to get used to her new body.

In the void above the planet, a shadow came down from above while a ball of light rushed up from below.

The two were about to collide.

Valentin was giving everything. The other party was also an Overlord, but he was not scared and he wanted to stop him even if he had to use everything he got.

He could not let anyone get close to Elora. Furthermore, he could not let them affect the movement of the array and cause the restoration to fail.

As their distance got closer and closer, Valentin could see the face of the shadow.

'Is that... Lv 6 of the Robotias?'
