

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2513

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2513-“What are you talking about, Mayor Salem? We’re just chatting,” David responded with a smile.

When Egan heard the conversation between the two, he immediately interrupted and asked, “Mayor, do you know David?”

‘We met once when David first arrived in Amber City, but we are not very familiar with each other,” Salem replied.

“I see! I thought you and David were old acquaintances!” Egan was a little disappointed.

He originally thought that the two knew each other, so he could get David’s specific information from Salem.

He could only make the best response after understanding David’s identity.

Egan did not know how to handle this situation now.

If the mysterious powerhouse hiding in secret to protect David did not show up, he would not dare to act rashly.

“I’ve also heard about the matter between you. The reason I’m here today is to be the peacemaker as Amber City’s mayor. Everyone, let’s take a step back and resolve this matter peacefully, otherwise, it won’t be good if this turns into something serious. What do you think?” Salem directly told them his reason for coming.

He was here to mediate and hoped they could smooth this over.

In fact, this matter had nothing to do with Salem.

In some aspects, it was even of great benefit to him.

After all, the three major families of Amber City would usually compete with each other.

However, as the mayor of Amber City, Salem could not just sit back and watch.

Once the three parties started to fight, the entire Amber City might be seriously affected.

It might even become a ruin.

So Salem had to stop it from happening.

“I have nothing to say about this matter. Perry came to Jumbo Court for no reason and wanted to raid and catch my people. He deserved his death. As for that Fabiola woman, she also attacked the surrounding people for no reason. She killed dozens of people and even wanted to kill me. However, she’s not strong enough so I killed her. It’s that simple. Your families can solve this however you can and I will accept it,” David said seriously.

He did not look scared at all.

It seemed that the two major families were not threats to him.

Salem had no choice but to have another look at David.

‘What does your family think about this?’ Salem asked Egan.

‘The news has been passed back to the family and they haven’t responded yet. I know Perry’s character and indeed, he was a little hedonistic and he would often offend others. However, it was not enough to kill him. Plus, the Marche family just had an arranged marriage with us, and the people involved are coincidentally Perry and Miss Fabiola of the Marche family. Now that they are both dead, I have no idea what to say to the family.’

After Egan said that, he forced a smile.

If he was not scared of the mysterious powerhouse next to David, he would not be so nice about this.

Perhaps, he would have attacked David before Salem even arrived.

The people from major families would have a set of rules.

If the direct descendant made a mistake, other family members could kill them.

However, they could not die at the hands of outsiders.

Now that David killed Perry and Fabiola, the two major families would surely not let this go so easily.

The Campbell family was more agreeable.

After all, Perry was just a direct descendant who wasn't highly valued. As long as the force behind David was strong enough and they were willing to offer substantial compensation and make a public apology, the Campbell family could regain their reputation through a peaceful resolution.

However, it was different for the Marche family.